Veterinary Notes

By Rev. Mehitabel

A different type of accident this week in our case history from the PDSA, this time about a penetration injury in a cat's eye.

Pilchard the cat amazed vets when they pulled a 2-inch piece of wood from his eye – with no lasting damage. Pilchard, a three-year-old tabby, had to be rushed to Bristol PDSA PetAid hospital by his frantic owner Janice Hares, when she noticed something protruding from the corner of his right eye. Janice said: “I was doing some gardening when I saw Pilchard come in and I was shocked at the state he was in. His teeth were chattering and his head was to one side and that's when I saw something tiny poking out of his eye.

Pilchard was examined by veterinary staff at Bristol PDSA PetAid hospital who realised something was seriously amiss. He was given an anaesthetic by Veterinary Surgeon, Howard Darkin, who then examined his eye. Forceps were used to grasp what looked like a small thorn, but when it was pulled out, staff were shocked to see a piece of wood, over 2 inches long and half an inch wide! Veterinary Surgeon, Howard Darkin, said: “When I first saw Pilchard, it looked very much like a small thorn, but turned out to be a large piece of wood which had lodged itself firmly, close to the right eye. We also noticed a small wound in the mouth where the piece of wood had run to.”

Pilchard was given antibiotics to prevent any infection setting in and ointment for his eye to help reduce inflammation. Howard said: “The eye itself now appears to be functioning as normal but Pilchard really is one very lucky puss. If the wood had been any closer, it really could have been a case of the one eyed Pilchard!”

Pilchard was also neutered at the same time and is now back home, safe and well with the other family pets. His owner Janice continued: “The PDSA vets were wonderful; I can't thank them enough for all they have done. Pilchard is back to his usual self and is none the worse for his ordeal. In fact since he was also neutered on the same day, he seems to have lots of energy and has now started to chase the female cats in our neighbourhood!”

PDSA encourages pet owners to pick up its 'Pet Safety Outdoors' leaflet which offers a wide range of advice and tips on keeping pets outside the home. This leaflet forms part of a larger range of Responsible Pet Care leaflets produced by PDSA that cover a variety of topics including, Neutering and Vaccinations. The leaflets are available from all PDSA PetAid hospitals and PDSA charity shops UK-wide or can be downloaded from www.pdsa.org.uk. Bristol PDSA PetAid hospital provides free veterinary treatment for the pets of owners who are unable to afford veterinary fees. For further information about PDSA PetAid services call 0800 731 2502 or contact Bristol PDSA PetAid hospital direct on 0117 977 5911.

Bee Symbolism

By Rev. Mehitabel

Honey is significant in that it is the only natural food made without destroying any form of life, and the only food with natural preservatives such that honey found in Ancient Egyptian tombs is apparently still edible. It was even used as a preservative for bodies within this culture. The importance of bees in Ancient Khem is indicated by their presence in hieroglyphics, writings in papyri from 5000BC which described bee pollen as

“life-giving dust”. Outside Egypt, references to honey appear in Celtic writings and Welsh taxes were once paid in honey. Hippocrates, considered the father of medicine, wrote, "Honey and pollen cause warmth, clean sores and ulcers, soften hard ulcers of lips, heal carbuncles and running sores."

In many cultures bees stand for hope, life, inspiration, industry, intelligence and poetry such that poets were described as being touched by the spirit of the skilled bee, while gods sent bees to the lips of those they inspired or anointed their lips with honey. Plato, Virgil and Sophocles had their lips touched with honey in infancy. The bee also stood for the potency of nature because of their work fertilising plants and as fertility symbols.

The bee and its wax are important symbols for initiates of mystery religions with beeswax used for votive images in Pagan temples. Its importance to the RC Church was such that all abbeys had resident bee keepers and hives. Comparisons were naturally drawn between the industrious bees and the monks or other church officials with the Pope designated king bee (another sign of the removal of the feminine aspect for which they were renowned). The bee was even (erroneously) considered symbolic of Christ and Mary, for the bees were said to "produce posterity yet retain their virginity".

Ambrosia was the food of the gods in Greece and Italy in the Ancient World. Odin drank mead, (fermented honey), while Zeus was raised on honey in a cave of bees. Artemis was referred to as a bee and Demeter as “Pure Mother Bee”, the priestess of Apollo at the Delphi temple was “Delphic Bee” and it was a virginity symbol associated with Diana. Priests and priestesses were called Melissae or Essenes (bees). Pythagoreans viewed the hexagon of the honeycomb as an expression of the spirit of Aphrodite whose sacred number was six and who adored honeycomb soaked in honey. Bees were her sacred creatures because they understood how to create perfect hexagons in their honeycomb. In Her temple at Eryx, the priestesses were melissae, "bees" and the Goddess herself was entitled Melissa, the Queen Bee. The symbol of the bee in association with deity was also found in the Indian and related pantheons . It is unclear if the use of “Essene” here links to Christianity.

Continuing with this thought, bees are said to originate in Paradise and possess a portion of the divine breath given to Adam and Eve. The Chaldee word for bee is DABAR, and DABAR may also be translated as “word” so here we have bees as the word, as logos, as Wisdom. Bees appear in the bible as with the references to bees and lions “out of the strong came sweetness”, out of the lion of Judah came the Word, and out of death came eternal life.

In other cultures, bees were the tears of Ra in Egypt and the temple at Sais is named Hwt-bit or castle of the bee. In India Krishna is shown with a blue bee in the centre of his forehead while Kama, an Indian equivalent of Cupid, has a bow shaped-string of bees. Among the Celts, bees were thought to possess wisdom of the otherworld. While in France, bees were a symbol of Royalty which returns us to the Merovingians.

Wolfciara's Wiccan World

Merry Meet fellow Wiccans to my Wiccan World

The weekend has so far has been a very lazy one, except yesterday, Sunday, when I had to take on a mountain of dirty clothes to wash up. It went well, and today I will put that away. Also I have some cleaning up to do around the house, as the snow has melted away. I am so sad for that the snow has melted away, I love the snow and miss it when we don't have it in our winter time. No we only have wet and dirty weather outside, and the dogs brings with them a lot of dirt after their walks. And I need to clean up after them. It is a chore I take on gladly, as I love my furry babies so much. Otherwise it hasn't happened so much, since Thursday.

Well, I did a haircut on my neighbour. I am not educated as a hairdresser, but cuts the the hair on my friends and family. I have done it for about 15 years now, and so far has no one complain on my cutting. We also get my nephew in law over for a quick visit on Sunday, but he only stayed for about 2 hours.

It is so hard to understand that it is only 24 days left to Christmas, and about 21 days until Yule. Where has this year gone to?? I feel like it is still like may or something, but the weather outside tells me that it isn't though. So much has happened during the year, and I am so grateful that the Goddess has kept me and my family healthy.

Yesterday, it was advent Sunday and time to light the first candle of four. I sat and wonder about things that had happened during the year, and such.

I have continued to write my 3rd Degree Comprehensive Exam on to my PC, and it is taking longer than I want it to take. It is a slow and steady process, but it is going forward. I do look forward to the day, when I can send it in and then know what my points for it will be. Hopefully I get a high mark on it, with all the time I have put in to it. No, it's time for me to continue with the exam, but as soon as I have sent it in. You will know of it and also if I pass or faile it of course.

Now it's enough spoken for today, so.....
Take care until Thursday. Blessed be all of you.
Love always to all my brothers and sisters in Correllian Tradition

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition-- advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multidimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be

Flash Fiction Challenge

Greetings Dearest Readers!

Have you ever dreamed of being a writer? The Correllian Times wants to help make that dream come true with our flash fiction contest!

The flash fiction story must contain exactly 250 words, excluding the title. Not 249 - not 251. 250 words. There should be a beginning, middle, and an end. It should not just be 250 words of whatever comes to your mind. The goal here is to have some kind of twist at the end.

Our challenge to you is this:

Write your own flash fiction before January 01, 2009. The prize for the top Flash Fiction submission will be a feature writer of the month. A picture of you, bio and your short story, also a gift certificate to the Witch School Store.

Please, only 1 entry per person.

Contest begins February 1, 2008 and ends January 01, 2009. Entries become the property of The Correllian Times. We assume no responsibility for illegible, lost, late, misdirected, incomplete, or stolen entries.

ENTRY: Submit an original, flash fiction story of exactly 250 words. Include your name and e-mail address and email to: windy at windy0716@aol.com or CNT_Correllian_Timesowner@yahoo.com Please include the words "FLASH FICTION CHALLENGE" in the subject detail. Entries must be original, unpublished and may not have won any prize or award.

LIMIT: Only one entry from an individual will be accepted - no group entries.

ELIGIBILITY: Everyone is eligible to enter! We do however reserve the right to withhold inappropriate materials from publication at our discretion.

Voting on flash fiction:

Each submission will be featured in The Correllian Times. A voting poll will be opened in January 2009 (details to follow). If you appreciate the storytelling in a flash fiction piece, please grant the writer the honor of your vote.

The great part for voters is that each entry shouldn't take much more than a minute. You can read dozens of them in a short period of time. Please support the writers in this challenge by reading as many as you can!

Now... get flashing!

If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

Order of Self Empowerment:

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/OrderOfSelfEmpowerment>

This Order is for all members of the Correllian Tradition who have or are suffering domestic abuse. We are open to both male and female members.
