Veterinary Notes, Summer Hazards in Dogs & Cats Part two.

Ticks

- The usual culprit is Ixodes ricinus carried by deer and sheep although dogs & cats may occasionally acquire ticks from hedgehogs. Dogs tend to be more affected than cats
- Ixodes ricinus has a peculiar 3 year lifecycle during which it feeds 3 times and spends the rest of the time on the ground.
- In spring, the ticks climb up the vegetation ready to hop onto a passing host for a blood meal. A smaller population of ticks repeats this behaviour in the autumn.
- In themselves ticks are just a passing nuisance but in many parts of the country they carry a bacterium Borrelia burgdorferi which causes Lyme disease – a rheumatic disease that affects dogs and man and which is very hard to treat.
- Ticks appear as small silvery grey nodules that slowly enlarge as they fill with blood. The mouthparts are buried deep in the skin and it is important that these are removed along with the tick. There are now many inexpensive tick removing tools that can be attached to a key-ring and which work well. Avoid the old methods of lighted cigarettes etc. which could injure your dog.
- If the ticks are around the eyes and nose it would be sensible to seek professional help from your vet.
- If you are in a tick area use a product such as frontline which has activity against ticks from February through to November.

Stinging insects.

- Single stings to the body or legs can usually be treated by simple first aid measures.
- Scrape the sting away if present with a finger nail or one of those useful tools in a manicure set – avoid pulling it out with tweezers as this could further squeeze the poison sack. Wash the site with a mild disinfectant and rub in an antihistamine cream from the chemist.
- The homoeopathic remedies Apis mel (for bees); Vespa vulgaris (for wasps); plus ledum and/or arnica for either can also be useful.
- Old fashioned antihistamine tablets can be used but check with your vet first in case there are specific reasons why they are not suitable for your dog. DO NOT GIVE TO CATS
- For multiple stings, or stings around the face and mouth it would be sensible to seek veterinary assistance
- Rarely a dog or cat will develop a severe allergy to stings and will go into anaphylactic shock characterised by difficulty in breathing and collapse. This is a veterinary emergency so contact your vet immediately. Like humans, such pets will usually be prescribed an adrenaline pen in case they are stung in the future

Merry Meet Everyone!

Today I thought I would like to bring you some lighter though informative reading than I have of late and as I was reading through my copies of the Care2 newsletter I found lots I would like to bring to your attention, but decided on just one for today,

Posted by Veronica Peterson on Feb 19, 2009 at 5:02 pm was the following article on Coconut Oil... As a Naturopath I have looked into the benefits of pure “fresh” Coconut Oil and have found it to be very useful and a good addition to ones Healthy diet.

So I will let you read and enjoy and hopefully pick up a few useful hints. Please keep in mind that we are talking about oil that is cold pressed and bottled as soon as possible after the coconut has been plucked from its home in the top of the Coconut Palm.

We are not discussing oil obtained from the coconut that has been picked and shipped to some place far away from its tree, heat extracted and in turn becoming rancid very quickly.

Coconut Oil

Coconut oil is usually supplied in a “solid” form, I say solid because it is in the jar however, if you spoon out what you require and place it in a clean dish (I generally use a glass sweet dish), and leave in a warm place for a few minutes it will melt and be liquid.

So do you have: Dry skin, a paper cut, maybe even a tummy ache? Try a drop of coconut oil. Offering a myriad of health benefits, coconut oil is affordable, readily available and completely natural. Here are six reasons to give it a try:

1. Skin Care: Do you want to look like you just came back from an hour of yoga? Coconut oil works wonders as a moisturizer for all skin types, especially dry skin and aging skin, leaving you refreshed and looking wide-awake. No headstand required! The fat in the oil helps reduce the appearance of wrinkles without any irritation. Coconut oil can also help with skin problems like psoriasis, dermatitis, eczema and other skin conditions. In fact, the oil is frequently used in expensive skin care products.

2. Stress Relief: Long day at the office, kids won't stop screaming and your dog left a little “present” on your vintage bedspread? Relieve mental fatigue by applying coconut oil to the head in a circular, massaging motion. The natural aroma of coconut is extremely soothing thus helping to lower your stress level.

3. Digestion: The saturated fats in coconut oil have anti-bacterial properties that help control, parasites, and fungi that cause indigestion and other digestion related problems such as irritable bowel syndrome. The fat in coconut oil also aids in the absorption of vitamins, minerals and amino acids, making you healthier all around.

4. Fitness: Coconut oil has been proven to stimulate your metabolism, improve thyroid function, and escalate energy levels, all of which help decrease your unwanted fat, while increasing muscle. Because of this, coconut oil has shot to popularity by being the world's only natural low-calorie fat. Sign me up!

5. Healing: When applied on scrapes and cuts, coconut oil forms a thin, chemical layer which protects the wound from outside dust, bacteria and virus. Coconut oil speeds up the healing process of bruises by repairing damaged tissues. Plus, it smells a heck-of-a-lot better than anything from the pharmacy.

6. Hair Care: $20 hair conditioners? I don't think so! Coconut oil is one of the most nutritious products you can put on your hair. Massage a bit of the oil onto your scalp and presto – no more dandruff. Since it provides the essential proteins required for nourishing damaged hair, it's used in a ton of over-the-counter hair products anyway. Why not cut to the chase and skip all the unnecessary chemicals?

Recipes:

Veronica Peterson's Body Honey Wrap with Coconut Oil

Inspired by Organic Body Care by Stephanie Tourles (Storey Publishing, 2007).

Honey and coconut oil have both long been used to moisturize the skin. Combine them with this method and you have a super luscious body butter that will leave your skin soft as a cloud. Consider this body honey a Valentine to yourself, or try it on your partner for a special at-home Valentine's Day surprise.

True natural body care extends beyond basic health and aesthetic concerns to include fun, frolic, physical and tactile pleasures, warm and tender sharing, and a celebration of life. So while this formula does wonders for moisturizing your skin, it can also arouse your senses with yummy tastes and soothing texture.

2 tablespoons coconut oil (extra-virgin, unrefined)
1 tablespoon of your favorite raw honey
2 drops vanilla, peppermint, or sweet orange essential oil (optional)

In a small bowl, whip together all ingredients. This sweet treat is now ready to use.

If the temperature in your kitchen is above 76F, the body honey will maintain a liquid consistency; if the temperature is below 76F, it will be a medium soft solid (because of the melting point of the coconut oil).

Take several bath towels (enough to cover your body) and dampen them with hot water (as hot is comfortable for you to touch) in an empty bathtub. Get in the tub and rub the honey mixture over your body, recline and cover yourself with the hot towels. Sit, relax, and enjoy until the towels are cool and you are ready to rinse. Rinse, pat yourself dry, and follow up with some plain coconut oil or your favorite all-natural lotion.

Annie B Bond's Coconut Creamed Spinach

Inspired by The Vegetarian Meat and Potatoes Cookbook, by Robin Robertson (Harvard Common Press, 2002).

Using coconut milk instead of dairy adds exotic appeal to this mouth-watering, divinely decadent-tasting recipe. What a great way to get the eye-health-boosting benefits of fresh spinach!

INGREDIENTS

1 pound well-washed fresh spinach, tough stems removed
1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
1 teaspoon grated fresh ginger
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg
3/4 cup unsweetened coconut milk
Salt and freshly ground black pepper, to taste
1/2 cup cashews, optional

1. Steam spinach over boiling water for 3 to 5 minutes, until just tender. Gently squeeze out excess moisture, then chop spinach coarsely and reserve.
2. In a large skillet over medium heat, heat the oil and add the ginger, cumin, and nutmeg. Cook about 1 minute, until fragrant. Stir in the spinach, coconut milk, and salt and pepper, to taste.
3. Simmer 5 to 7 minutes, until hot and creamy, then add cashews, if using, stirring to combine. Serve hot, over rice if desired.

Serves 4 to 6.

I can fully recommend the nutritional and healing benefits in Extra Virgin Cold Pressed Coconut Oil, it is low in cholesterol and extremely good for you.

Merry Part

The place where YOU can have YOUR say about the issues that are relevant to You!

A Planet in Crisis or False Alarm!
Global Warming or Greed and Indifference!

Everyday we read in the newspapers about some expert's opinion on whether or not global warming is something to get up in arms about...or not. Of course we really have to check to see who is paying the experts research bill don't we?

And then we read articles that talk about the massive changes in the weather patterns of the world and what we can expect in the years to come. Again, same difference, who is paying these experts research bill?

Personally, I don't care what the experts have to say, I have seen the changes, in the environment, in wildlife habitat, in our own backyards.

What difference does it make whether some scientist says that we must stop carbon emissions, when the Multi-national companies who own most of the manufacturing plants, oil (petrol) companies, and pharmaceutical companies fight tooth and nail to retain the right to pollute this planet to whatever degree they feel is ok.

No matter what government tries to correct the imbalance between pristine and polluted they will be defeated by their own policies of supporting and bowing to Big Business.

As a Pagan and a Wiccan I sometimes feel the fight is all too hard, when I see the most stalwart of the Green Political supporters give way to the pressures placed on them, simply so they may stay in the political playing field.

To watch the antics of the world politicians as they dance across the stage set by the media is surely to wonder if they have been sniffing the fumes coming out of those high priced and oil hungry cars they seem to be protecting...

One envisages a Hunting Season CLOSED sign appearing on every garage that houses such a vehicle in the world...

We have a television show called Top Gear... from the BBC... where the dearest, fastest and least economical cars in the world are driven with much gusto... a show for the "Motor Enthusiast"... but in a recent episode there was a breath of fresh air, literally. In California you can actually buy a car that runs on hydrogen, that has one moving "engine" part and has as its only emission... lets see what happens when you mix Hydrogen with Oxygen again... Oh yes!.. H2O... Water!

Strange, that this car is only available in one State, in one Country in the world... Yes I know they need the infrastructure to put in Hydrogen pumps instead of petrol pimps...that is their excuse too... and they are sticking to it!

So! you ask, with a shrug of your shoulders, what has this to do with us as Wiccan and Pagans here in the Correllian Tradition??

I am a Pagan and a Wiccan and a citizen of this planet, surely the time has come for all who are concerned that their children might have a home on this planet when we are gone to stand up and say enough is enough!

Whether it is Global Warming or Greed choking and poisoning our planet, isn't the end result the same thing really!

Why do we let these Multi-national Companies rule our lives, tell us what is good for us, and if it isn't then here is a pill to take away the end results. The cry goes out in the western world, we are becoming an obese society, but the food is being laced with sugar and fats to make it palatable and to keep you addicted to it as well. Not to mention the pesticides, fungicides and fertilizers and other poisons that the food is grown with, to ensure a bigger crop. All these things affect us and the planet, and until we say no more, until we the people enforce no more, it will keep on happening...

What do you think??

Hoping to hear from you next issue!!!

Book Review

Rev. Mehitabel

Magical Herbalism by Scott Cunningham

Llewellyn worldwide 2006. ISBN 0-87542-120-2

Like all Cunningham's books it is written in an easy style that holds the readers attention. Despite its short length it is packed with information and gives a good grounding in the use of herbs in magick from practical know how to spells and incantations. My only criticism is that it does seem something of a recipe book with spells covering most eventualities and purposes, and I would prefer a little more emphasis on the use of intuition and individual variation in designing these.

The book begins with the background of herbal lore and the way it was probably used in the past with the emphasis on how herb magic can assist us in finding our earth roots and tapping into the power of nature. The following four chapters take us through the basics of herbalism beginning with a description of the essential tools required for effective practice. It continues with a short primer of magic, covering the basic skills that will be applied later in the book. The penultimate of the three introductory chapters explains the sourcing, gathering, drying and storage of herbs. There is emphasis on the value of collecting our own herbs rather than relying on shop-bought material. The introduction finishes with a dictionary of the terms used in magickal herbalism.

The book then proceeds to the main topic – the actual use of these herbs and is set out very clearly in chapters which include herbs for protection, for divination, for healing etc. These enable the user to quickly access the relevant pages for any particular purpose. Each chapter lists the main herbs and details how they might be used. For example, in the chapter of protection, the principles behind the use of herbs in this capacity are discussed, the best protective herbs are listed and a purification ritual for a new home is given. There is emphasis on ethical use and adherence to the Rede, and safety.

There is an interesting chapter on herbs and the elements including the use of magickal fluid condensers; and this is followed by chapters on the making and use of scented oils and incense and on amulets. This section concludes with an alphabetic listing of 118 of the main magickal herbs and is supplemented by appendices on magickal names, sources and herbal sayings. The final section explains how to create a herb garden, the perfect tool for a witch. While the serious user of herbs will almost certainly want more detailed herb references on their bookshelf, Cunningham's book is the perfect introduction to the craft of magickal herbalism and contains all the necessary information to introduce herbs into magickal practice.

Rev. Andi's Kidz Korner

Especially designed for the children growing up around the Correllian lifestyle!

Merry Meet little Ones! First off, apologies for the lack of pictures of my daughter's naming ceremony - I know I promised them to you, but haven't got them developed yet! -Yes I know how old fashioned I am, but I still prefer a REAL camera and not this digital lark!

Now to the good stuff - another action packed edition of Kidz Korner!

Enjoy!

Thoughts And Ideas / Crafts:

Recycled Paper

If you have the paper delivered to your house, or maybe your parents have a lot of paper wastage from work; why not make use of this and make your own recycled paper?

You Will Need:

- Recycled construction paper
- Recycled newspaper
- Blender
- Water
- Black marker
- Flat strainer screen
- Wax paper
- Star-shaped cookie cutter
- Plastic bin

Fill a blender halfway with water. Add shredder paper to the water to create a pulp. Add more water to top it off, and add more paper.

Before you proceed, make sure you have an adult around to help you use the blender. Place the lid on the blender and pulse it to create your pulp.

Pour the pulp into a screen over a plastic bin. The shape of the screen will dictate the shape of your paper.

Squeeze the excess water out of the screen with your hand. You can also use a sponge. Keep pressing until you have a flat, uniform surface.

Now it's time to decorate your paper! Place shredded purple construction paper in your blender. Add enough water to cover the paper and blend on pulse to create another pulp.

Put your cookie cutter stencil into your screen on your paper. Carefully pour your purple mixture into the stencil. Leave the stencil on the paper until all the water is drained through.

Carefully remove the stencil. Press out more water, using your sponge.

Set your paper aside to dry for a few hours. Before it's completely dry, remove it from the screen and place it on a sheet of wax paper.

Let your paper dry overnight. If it dries a little curled, you can always iron it. Voilà - your recycled paper is ready! And what's more - if you make a mistake drawing on it, you can recycle it again!

Ideas For The Kitchen:

Calendula Butter

This one is great to use in place of your normal butter - and is nice and easy to make!

You Will Need:

- 8 Tbsps (1 stick) butter, at room temperature
- ½ cup calendula (marigold) petals

Blend together in a small bowl.

Use right away or cover and refrigerate for up to 1 week

Dandelion Honey

As the butter was so quick and easy to make - and you might want more than just butter on your toast - here's another recipe for you!

You Will Need:

- 1 Litre dandelion petals
- 1 Litre water
- 3 slices lemon - 1-2 cm thick
- ¼ vanilla bean, cut in half
- 1 kg sugar

Pick the dandelions in full sunshine. Pull off all the dandelion petals and put them in a pot with the water, lemon slices and vanilla bean. Simmer for about 30 minutes. Let the mixture sit by the side of the stove for 5 to 6 hours.

Strain to separate the petals from the juice. Return the juice to the pot and bring to a simmer. Slowly add the sugar and simmer until desired thickness (takes about 4 hours).

Serve on toast, muffins or Danish.

As you may want some fancy bread to go with your butter and honey, see the next edition!

Jokes:

Your Neighbour Is A Witch If...

Part 2 of 5

11) She hardly ever gets junk mail. You ask her what her secret is and she confides that she returns it to sender after writing something on in strange curly writing.

12) When you pop next door for a chat, the kettle is always already on.

13) The Jehovah's Witnesses never call (not anymore; not after the last time :-).

14) Keeps the local scented-candle shop solvent.

15) Has a pond full of frogs (and you haven't seen that bothersome double-glazing salesman around for a while).

16) She's always smiling, darn her!

17) She goes dressed as normal to a Hallowe'en fancy dress party; and wins first prize.

18) Her house always smells of incense.

19) Has named her four cats Hecate, Kali, Diana, and Moonbeam. (Or her rats Devon and Cornwall)

20) Her bumper sticker reads "I brake for toads".

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystal High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystalneuman@yahoo.com
May You Blessed Be
Krystal

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers
