Veterinary Notes

Important advice from the RSPCA

<http://www.rspca.org.uk/servlet/Satellite?pagename=RSPCA/RSPCARedirect&pg=wildlifeadvice&marker=1&articleId=1024473290418>

Between April and July each year, around 20,000 fledglings are passed to the RSPCA. Many are perfectly healthy, but instead of being fed by their parents and learning to fend for themselves in the wild, they suffer stress from being handled by humans.

Birds in danger should be placed out of harm a short distance away and left completely alone for an hour or so. The parents are likely to be nearby waiting for the person to go. Wild animals can suffer greatly through being handled and this should be avoided unless absolutely necessary.

Extra precautions, particularly for gardeners, include making sure they don't disturb nests while pruning. It could scare the fledglings into abandoning the nest. Any nests knocked on the ground should be placed close by and as high as possible away from predators.

Deer alert

If you come across a young deer, remember they are also very resilient in the wild but very difficult to rehabilitate once removed from their natural habitat - they often die from stress.

If you see a fawn, the chances are it is waiting for its mother. Roe deer give birth in May and June and fallow deer mostly have their young in June. Fawns can walk within an hour of being born and follow their mother unless she intends travelling long distances for food. In this case the mother will lead the fawn to a quiet covered area where it will stay well hidden until her return.

Astrology

Rev. Leona

Similar to the Nodes of the Moon there are other elements of astrology that are included by some and not by others. I have chosen to add a little information here on Chiron.

In relation to the other planets, Chiron is a relatively new discovery. The influence of Chiron has only begun to be explored and understood. Chiron is in fact not a planet but an asteroid. However, the influence of this asteroid can have far reaching impact upon your life. Chiron holds a great deal of knowledge and can imbue your life with power and strength if you are willing to follow through with these lessons. Chiron will help you to find and focus your abilities to teach and to heal. The main arena for this asteroid is healing. When you attempt to heal yourself you must be sure that you have the proper grounding and knowledge to deal with the issues which are polluting your life. Chiron will show you that most of your physical ailments will be rooted deep in your spiritual and physical well being.

Working with Chiron will instill you with the confidence required to delve deep into the field of healing. You may never become a doctor but you will be able to treat the ailments of the spirit and body for yourself and those close to you. When you open up to the lessons of Chiron you will find yourself exploring herbology, aromatherapy and other types of natural healings. Here is the realm of energy healings and transfers. Chiron has great skills to teach you and not all of them will fall under the umbrella of socially acceptable forms of healing. Do not be afraid to study and learn about other healing methods which are far from the norm of modern thinking.

Chiron warns that when you begin to truly heal yourself you must be prepared to open up wounds that never healed.

When the healing influence of Chiron appears in your life you will need to stop and take care to find the true source of the infection that is causing your illness. This asteroid holds the keys to the rooms which contain the secrets to your deepest wounds. When you work with Chiron you will need to be prepared for whatever lies within these rooms. When you open the doors to those rooms you will be opening up wounds which you have been neglected and have been allowed to fester. These are wounds acquired over this lifetimes as well as previous lifetimes.

Locating the source and cutting it out will allow the wound to finally heal. Chiron calls you into action. When this asteroid becomes an active force in your life it is time for you to stop focusing on the outside world and move internally to heal your own wounds. You have been working so hard fighting external battles that you have forgotten what lies inside yourself. Now is the time to set this pain free and rid your soul of the burden that accompanies these wounds.

Chiron will show you how to heal these issues completely. You need to have faith in yourself and your abilities. Knowing that you are strong enough to overcome any hardships will encourage you to progress further than you ever have before. You will find that working with Chiron will increase your desire to be whole. You will see that all of this time you have been trying to heal and you will understand that some illnesses take time and more than one treatment to heal fully. What Chiron shows you is how to heal properly. Chiron shows you that cutting and slashing at everything will not help but only make the situation worse. You need to have surgical precision if you hope to remove the source of infection.

Chiron wants to encourage the work you have been doing and not to make you feel inadequate in your efforts. When you allow yourself to open up to Chiron you will be able to identify all of the ways you can heal and destroy the patterns which have been standing in your way. Going through this process will allow you to see your mistakes. Gaining this insight will allow you to help others who are caught in the same trap as you.

Chiron encourages you to examine the events of your life and see all the lessons you have learned and the experience that you have gained. You have now progressed beyond the realm of student and you have moved far enough down the path so that you can now accept a position of teacher and mentor. You will now become a beacon for those who are struggling along their own path. Chiron asks you to look beyond your own small point of view. This is the time to think of the global community and how you can help to bring peace and harmony into the world.

Learning the lessons of Chiron will extend your own spiritual energy. The process of healing will allow you to discover new realms of power within yourself. You will learn how to recognize and accept the Universal energy that flows all around you. When you accept this energy you will become filled with love and gratitude. This gratitude will fill you with a deep desire to help others. When you reach out to others you will become a beacon that others will be drawn to. When you begin to help others heal you will be surprised at how quickly you are able to work through your own problems. By helping others you are able to see how far you have progressed in your own development.

Chiron is a force that will help you to set out your own ideals. When you are tuned into the energies of this asteroid you will also be able to find the path that will allow you to manifest these ideals in the world around you. Chiron asks you to focus on the harmony of and balance of life. Through a set of exercises you will be able to analyze the different areas of your life. This analysis will lead you to the greatest source of upset in your life and the world around you. Once you have isolated the source of the upset you will then be able to work on real solutions that will allow these disturbances to be fully re-integrated into the existing structure in such a way as to bring harmony and joy.

These are in no way easy tasks to accomplish. The force of chaos is strong and will not easily give way. During this struggle you will indeed have to face many negative feelings. You will need to experience a period of physical, mental and spiritual detoxification. This process of detoxification will eliminate all of the negative patterns that pollute your life. While completing this period of detoxification your resolve and stamina will be thoroughly tested. This is not a step to be taken lightly. You will need to be dedicated and prepared for what you will encounter upon this path. Though the path is long and dark, Chiron encourages you to be brave and strong. The rewards gained from this process will follow you for many incarnations to come.

Chiron will help you to find and eliminate all of the different toxic elements in your life. You must be prepared for this journey will take you deep into yourself. You will face your deepest wounds and you will learn why you have never been able to fully heal. During this process you will encounter dark periods. You will need to overcome your low self-worth and low self-esteem. To accomplish this you will need to return to the source of these feelings.

When you follow the thread you will be led to all of the incidents that caused you to doubt your own strength and abilities. These events in your life proved to be times of great difficulties but by looking back you can see how you have moved through these situations and you have emerged on the other side stronger. Now is the time to work through your feelings of inadequacy.

Chiron will illuminate all of the difficulties you have faced. The purpose of which is to highlight your own culpability in these situations. How much needles guilt and doubt do you carry? How much of your energy do you waste tearing yourself down? Most of your negative feelings about yourself come from your own victim consciousness which allows you to paint yourself into negative situations. It is time to release these thoughts and feelings. Now is the time for you to grow and mature. Take the time to detach from this world. Once you eliminate the notion of rewards and punishment you will be free to walk between worlds. Letting go of expectations will free you from let downs. When you continue to punish yourself you are acting selfishly. Many people experience difficult life passages and continue to grow. You need to take the necessary time to delve deep inside of you. This will open you up to the answers that hide in the darkness of your doubts.

Chiron is the source of great pain and great healing. You will need to listen and believe in yourself. All of the answer that you seek are hidden somewhere in the lessons of Chiron. This is one of the hardest trials that you will face. When you choose to work with Chiron you will face your deepest pains, doubts and short comings. You will need to be honest and you will need to be accountable for you actions. When you move through these trials you will let go of your low self-esteem. By releasing lifetimes of accumulated guilt and hurt you will be free to heal, grow and move on.

Mayan Spiritual Beliefs

Rev. Nehal

The archaeologists place what they call the rise of the Maya Culture at about 250 ACE, its peak at about 900 ACE, and its gradual eventual decline with the depopulation of the pyramidal cities at about 1519 ACE. The Maya were actually thriving in the area since well before the submergence of the Lost Continent of Lemuria.

Numerous prosperous and culturally advanced Maya villages once stretched across northern Belize, Guatemala, and southern Mexico. Their overall population numbered in the millions. Never united under one government or organization, the Mayan shared many beliefs, a pantheon of Deities, astronomy, writing, and calendar systems.

The Mayan calendrical vision of planetary evolution began around 22,000 years ago and was divided into Sun cycles of 5,200 years with the beginning of the 5th Sun cycle on December 21, 2012 when they anticipated the fulfilment of Mayan prophecy to occur - a radical change in human consciousness.

All the Mayan tribes believed in harmonizing with Nature. They also had enduring memories of Pleiadians who came to the planet to teach, instruct, and work with the four root races. When they left from the Sacred Site "Kumar Kaj" to return to their star home, they left behind four gifts for humanity: a seed of time (the Mayan calendars), a metal crown of flowers, a seed of light, and a sacred pouch.

Myths like the "Popol Vuh" about Creation, cosmology, and religion suffused their lives. Maya Sacred Mounds during the "Dark Times" were overlaid with pyramidal stone temples. Then palaces and government buildings were often built over existing stone structures (left behind by others, those who had originally built them when they ascended to higher spiritual dimensions).

In the past, the Mayan had a writing system and their codices were decorated with bright drawings and glyphs. Maya writing included a complex system of phonetics and pictographs. Mayan writings in stucco, stone, and pottery remain but only four of the bark paper codices survived the Spanish book burnings.

Maya Stucco Glyphs on display at the Museo de Sitio at Palenque in Mexico

The four remaining Codices made from folded flattened tree bark, (Dresden, Paris, Madrid, and Grolier), generally had writing on both sides and were covered with lime paste. Three of the codices had complex glyphic texts usually read in paired columns.

Although the flavour, spirit, and essence was quintessential Mayan, the sheer beauty and artistry of the graphics and writing of the codices were hauntingly reminiscent of the ornately illustrated, Celtic, Book of Kells.

Their cities were mainly ceremonial sites for the farming villages. Mayan weavers wove meaningful symbols into their textiles. To the Mayan the universe was multileveled, above, below, north, south, east, and west. The Mayan worshipped a large array of Deities, with each location having its own patrons and favourites.

According to the Creation legends of the Maya and the Four Maya Worlds, the Supreme Creator god Hunab Ku created four new worlds, rebuilding the landscape four times after deluges had poured from the mouth of the sky serpent. What this legend refers to are four times where god Hunabku acted as a benefactor and mentor to the souls inhabiting the physical plane bodies of the people known as the Maya.

Although the stone cities of the Mayan are now long abandoned, they proved to be a resilient people. Their sacred Tzolk'in almanac of 260 days has been used to make predictions, along with their Haab, solar calendar of 365 days.

The knowledge the Maya obtained from other teachings, myths, and symbologies enabled them to conceptualise higher truths and served as bridging tools for them between dimensional realities. For example, the tree was represented by the sacred symbol T which depicted the interrelationship between the living beingness of a tree and of the Maya priests and priestesses who consciously communed with it.

The World Tree was depicted as a regal towering tree. The Mayan also venerated the star clouds of the Milky Way and the center of our galaxy near Sagittarius. Sometimes the World Tree was depicted by the Mayan more like the Cross-where the ecliptic resembles a bar crossing the major axis of the World Tree. In the winter, the dry season, when the star clouds were not as bright, it became the White Boned Serpent. Every twenty years the rulers erected a stone tree, stela, with World Tree symbols, where the ruler connected himself to life and the sky.

Although some of the ancient traditions reflected in the architecture and art of the Mayan ruins (Yucatan, Chiapas, Tabasco, Belize, Honduras, Guatemala), live on in the present Mayan culture, most of the viable aspects that once constituted the sacredness of their spiritual pathway as originally taught to them by the Lemurian Pleiadians from Lemuria, have long been lost to the ravages of history, despite recent attempts to reconstruct ancient Mayan practices.

This makes the modern day Mayans, who live far from abandoned and overgrown temple ruins, more the surviving remnants of a once thriving Ancient Culture like the Egyptians, Romans, or Grecians, than the caretakers of a feasible enduring legacy of knowledgeable spiritual practices for others to follow as an ascension roadmap.

Still overall the Mayan people have shown a remarkable ability to endure. Even after more than five hundred years of oppression from Europeans, succeeding generations of Mayan continue to occupy their ancestral lands and to follow some of their time honoured cultural practices.

The Mayan who have lived in the Chiapas Highlands for at least a thousand years, still use age old methods of agriculture to grow crops. Maize remains the primary staple just as it was centuries ago. Most of the Mayan still wear traditional clothing.

For the Chiapas Mayan, their traditional brocade designs were more than an art form; they were a sacred duty ordained by the gods. The Mayan identity was woven into these sacred textiles and their designs were drawn both from mythology and local history.

Patterns connoted different things: diamonds - the shape of earth and sky; flowers - the abundance of holy plants; toads - the rain god; snake - the fertility of animals; three vertical lines - the ancestors. Women weave textiles using the ancient art of natural dyes and there has been a revival of brocade. The ceremonial huipil remains unchanged but there are new design patterns such as dog paws and crosses on shawls. Also the hems and necks of blouses are now more decorative.

In Belize, traditional rituals take place in caves and temples, and, the planting and harvesting of the crops of corn, beans, chillies, tomatoes, and squash are times for prayer and thanksgiving. Homemade meals are cooked over an open hearth. Medicinal plants, secret stones, and prayers are used to heal. Elders, priests, and some traditional Deities are still honoured.

The remnants of many Sacred Mounds remain scattered across the Mesoamerican landscape. Enveloped with the soothing energies of green grass, the colour of the Heart Chakra (the As Above in Heaven So Below on Earth rainbow bridge which connects the upper chakras with the lower chakras), the gentle sloping of the Sacred Mound was reminiscent of the fullness of a woman's breast.

Built of high quality stone work and covered with hallowed grass covered earth, most Sacred Mounds were a Divine Feminine Grail Cup Chamber that was part of the Sacred Shamanic Mysteries of the ancient Pleiadian Shaman Star Teachers who were Benefactor Mentors of the Maya and other Mesoamericans. For more information about the Sacred Mounds please see the Maya Mayan Ancient Culture Article, Tikal and Chichén Itzá Sacred Mound Heritage.

Most fortuitously for the Maya some of their Pleiadian benefactor teachers and mentors of Celtic Mound Builder lineage and background have recently returned from the Pleiades to assist the Mayans once again in their evolutionary life spirals.

Buddhist: Dharma Day

Dharma day marks the beginning of the Buddha's teaching. The word Dharma can be translated as truth and is the term used for the path to enlightenment, or the Buddhist teaching.

Soon after his Enlightenment the Buddha went to find his former disciples and share his experience with them. This event could be seen as the start of the Buddhist religion, and is what Dharma day celebrates.

The first teaching to the Buddha's original five disciples is known as 'The First Turning of the Wheel of the Dharma (Dharmachakra).'

In early Buddhism, the time around what has now become Dharma Day (the eighth lunar month in the traditional Indian calendar) marked the beginning of the rainy season.

At this point, the Buddha and his monks and nuns would suspend their nomadic lifestyle for three months. They would shelter together until the monsoon season was over, and use this time as a period of further meditation and reflection.

At the end of this time, they would resume their travelling, passing on the Buddha's teachings to those who were interested.

Dharma day is now seen as a chance to express gratitude that the Buddha, and other enlightened teachers, have shared their knowledge with others.

Dharma day is usually celebrated with readings from the Buddhist scriptures, and is an opportunity to reflect deeply on their content.

If an individual practices Buddhism within a monastic tradition, Dharma day is, wherever possible, celebrated in a temple, Buddhist centre or monastery in the presence of monks or nuns.

Quote & Thought of the Date

Rev. Nehal

Quote of the Day:

Believe nothing, no matter where you read it, or who said it, no matter if I have said it, unless it agrees with your own reason and your own common sense.

Buddha

Thought of the day:

Don't sit around waiting for enough energy to get going. Get yourself moving and you'll create the energy necessary to keep you in motion.

Do you just not feel like doing anything? That's the time when you can make the biggest positive difference for yourself by going ahead and taking action anyway.

In ways small and large, your world right now is filled with opportunities to make a difference. Take the initiative.

The only thing you need to take the first step is your decision to do it. Take that first step and put momentum solidly on your side.

If you think you can't do it, stop thinking and start doing. The smallest positive action can begin to erase even the biggest doubt.

This is a day that you can fill with valuable and purposeful accomplishment. Take the initiative, and make something of it right now.

Poets Retreat

Poetry supplied by members of the Order of Bards

Lord and Lady

Lord and Lady you've gave to me
Only love for all I see
Caressing
my once tortured soul
With sense of wonder to all I see no other ways do I want to be
Thank you for this Blessed Be

Akasha your reach so great
Blessed me at alarming rate
One lonely man
Under your stars
Says thank you 10 times over

Spirit please I call to you now
Take my life and Show me how
To love all peoples, to know their worth
To read their souls, to feel their hurt
To rejoice in all their hopes and dreams
So I may grow and know it means
Take me Spirit
Pure and true
Live through me
As I live through you
So Mote It Be

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be
Krystel
