AHT Case Studies- Bella Cobden

Bella, a three month old Pomeranian weighing less than a bag of sugar, was playing in the garden with her sister Trixie. Her owner, Olive Cobden, heard a sudden burst of barking and yelping and rushed outside to find that Bella had been attacked by a large cat. She had collapsed and was bleeding from the nose. Olive took her to the local veterinarian who said she was displaying neurological signs including blindness, head tremors and ataxia. She remained there for five days and, although she did show signs of improvement, she had a large swelling on top of her head, consistent with a haematoma. Her vet decided to refer her to the specialist neurology team at the Animal Health Trust.

Dr Alberta de Stefani undertook careful physical and neurological examinations and x-rays revealed a skull fracture and soft tissue swelling. An MRI scan confirmed the fracture and a probable brain lesion. Dr Stefani suspected a severe brain infection, probably as a consequence of the penetrating brain injury.

Bella was immediately given an intravenous antibiotic but the following morning she was depressed and started convulsing. A decision was made to carry out brain surgery and remove as much of the infected material as possible. The operation went smoothly and Bella recovered well from the anaesthetic. She was put on antibiotic and anti-epileptic treatment and, although she has a soft spot at the front of her head, it will close up in time.

“I really thought I was going to lose her,” said Mrs Cobden when Dr Stefani said she wanted to operate; “but now she’s right as rain, tearing around the garden. I don’t think she would still be here if we hadn’t brought her to the Animal Health Trust.”

Uranus

Now that we have passed through the darkness and destruction of Saturn we move onto the higher level planets which deal with social and world changing issues. The first of these master planets is Uranus.

Uranus is not a planet that believes in being subtle. When there is a lesson to be learned Uranus will jump right in and fill your life with events that make it impossible for you to ignore what is happening. Uranus enjoys filling your life with the unexpected and unusual. When working with Uranus, you can expect the bizarre and unusual to become commonplace. When you wake up in the morning and frogs are falling from the sky you can rest assured that there is a reason and that Uranus is behind it. While working with Uranus you will quickly discover that this planet is quite eccentric. Although Uranus does nothing normal you will never be placed in harms way. Uranus will never place your life in jeopardy just to make a point. Uranus is very effective in getting your attention. The reason for this is that Uranus will go to any length to reach you. The problem with Uranus comes from trying to decipher what the meaning is behind the message. Because Uranus chooses to communicate in such abstract ways it is sometimes difficult to shift your own way of thinking as to allow you to interpret the message correctly.

When you follow Uranus you are sure to enter into the realm of the unexpected and unusual. Working with Uranus guarantees that your experiences will be memorable and thought provoking. The joy of working with this planet is that you are always on your toes for Uranus changes so often and so quickly that you never know what to expect. Uranus usually comes into your life with a sudden and unexpected bolt. This way Uranus is sure that you will not run away. The reasoning behind this sudden movement is that you are thrown off guard and your ability to react honestly in this situation is what is needed. When you do not have time to prepare you are more likely to be open and honest about your thoughts and feelings and less likely to simply express what you feel is expected of you. There is a desire to catch you off guard and to shock your senses in order to help you wake up and see what is really going on around you.

When Uranus moves in your life you will face many challenges. The main goal of these activities is to help you to re-connect to the world around you. Right now you are dealing with a detachment from your life and you cannot see what dangers are hidden on the path ahead. When you move away from your life's purpose then you begin to wander aimlessly. This wandering can bring you great misfortune if you are not careful. The purpose of these drastic actions is to wake you up before you wander right off the cliff in front of you.

Uranus does not act to punish or to harm. It is true that Uranus may act in a cold and uncaring way but this apparent detachment is only there to make the lesson that more effective. Uranus is both the mother and father. This duality can be seen in the way Uranus sends your lessons to you. The mother energy will bring loving and nurturing challenges while the father energy will bring structured and moralistic challenges. When you need someone who is caring and nurturing Uranus will come and fill you with maternal lessons and help to wipe your tears as you prepare to set off again. When you need to be put back on track and you need that hard and firm push the nurturing will fade and you will feel the paternal lessons that will pick you up, wipe you down and send you off again.

Uranus is the heart of your intellectual spirit. This is the planet that will encourage you to think scientifically and analytically at your current situation. Uranus unusually will encourage you to seek unusual ways to solve your problems. When you choose to work with the power of Uranus you will find a new way of looking at your life. Here you will be able to make new connections that will allow you to see different perspectives. By being able to open your mind you will be able to expand your own consciousness. When you open up your mind you are making it possible to see beyond your own limitations. Uranus is the key to pulling back the veil that is blinding you. When you begin to see the world beyond the veil you begin to see how limited you have become. Abstract thoughts dwell in the lands of Uranus. Gaining a new perspective and thinking outside of the confines of reality will allow you to find solutions that would not materialize any other way.

Through the challenges set up by Uranus you will begin to notice many of your own quirks and eccentricities. This is the planet that rules over bizarre behavior. Uranus asks you if you ever wondered where your unusual sense of humour came from. Do you care that you have a different beat in your head than those around you? Do you try to nurture or suppress this unique spirit in your chest? A warning that comes from Uranus is to be careful with how you express yourself.

Uranus has the ability to move fast and unexpectedly. For this reason Uranus controls your own unexpected outbursts. You may find that when you deal with Uranus that you become susceptible to bouts of anger and this could lead to some harsh words and upheavals in your life. The reason for you to watch over this is because too many angry and violent outbursts can lead to great loneliness. This is a deep loneliness that stretches out into the core of your being. When allowed to take root this loneliness will spread and fill you with a great despair. Uranus shows you that you can be opinionated and there is nothing wrong with voicing these opinions but you must be careful not to be argumentative. When you express yourself for the sheer purpose of upsetting others and causing problems then there is no forward momentum and you only waste your time and energy.

The main goal of Uranus is to help you to break through the illusions that cloud your mind. When you open up you will be able to gain new insight into the world around you. This is a good place to be when you are looking for new and inventive ways to face the problems in your life. Uranus tells you that you do not always have to follow the norm. You can easily find your own path and solve your problems in unconventional ways. Uranus has a knack for filling you with ideas that could revolutionize the world. The great fear comes from the unconventionality of Uranus. Most of these great ideas are passed over out of fear. Uranus challenges you to break free from the chains of fear and see the validity in your ideas and dreams. No one wants to be isolated and the fear of change can cause people to hold back. Uranus urges you to be open and to experiment with new ways of thinking and acting. Freeing yourself from the fears of others will allow you to become a true visionary. This gift will allow you to inspire others to reach their full potential. When more people open up to the power of Uranus there will be a great wave that will spread through the world and many changes will occur.

When Uranus comes into play you can bet that it is because you have allowed yourself to become too complacent. Expect revolution to occur. Uranus will come into your life and turn it upside down. Now is the time for you to pull your head out of the sand and see what has really happened to your life. When you are willing to break free then you will be closer to your own source of illumination. Uranus has come to tell you that you must take action. There is no longer any time for you to sit back and allow others to make all the decisions. Now is the time for you to exert your own leadership qualities. This may work to catch others off guard but you will find that this momentary imbalance in the system will be enough to reset the mechanism and place it back on the proper path.

Uranus is the planet that gives you the necessary tools to change yourself. When you break free of your limitations you open yourself up to change. This new way of thinking will offer you great flashes of insight. You will now be able to take control of your own destiny. Uranus has the power to change the shape of your world. You will see that what you have believed all this time has only been a defensive construct that was meant to shield you from the universal truth. When your mind is strong enough you will bend these constructs and reveal the truth that lies beyond.

Uranus wants you to see how truly extraordinary you are. You can be your own person. You can take the time and challenge the framework of the existing structure. It is important for you to see the way fate is working in your life. When you open up to the great pattern you will open up to the secrets of life. This new way of being will allow you to break free of the societal mold you have been placed in. You may indeed cater to your own eccentricities but you will be able to see the way to achieving your ideals. This new point of view will carry you towards the destiny that you wish to create.

Symbolism What Does it All Mean?

by X

For someone following a spiritual path, there are many times that questions regarding symbolism arise. Dreams and meditations are obvious ones, along with the discovery of symbols in obscure books and manuscripts. Then there are the less obvious symbols and symbolism, occurring in ordinary everyday events, or the people within those situations.

The inevitable question is what does it mean? What does it symbolise? And how do I find out?

Dream symbols have often been dealt with in books that collect together hundreds or even thousands of symbols and attempt to ascribe meaning to them. Likewise there are various resources for common (and less common) occult and mythological symbols. These may all be useful, but they seldom have much in the way of personal symbolism - what it means to the individual.

Before delving in to personal meanings, it is worth noting that symbols and signs can be viewed, from an occult perspective, from many different levels. This is especially true of everyday events. The dog barking next door may well be just that, a mundane experience of a bored dog barking. That is one level - a mundane explanation that the dog is bored.

The random encounter we have with someone scary along a darkly lit street may just be a random encounter with a less civilised human, but on a slightly deeper, more esoteric level, it may well be a manifestation of our shadow side - and something we can learn from.

Other events in our lives may even be viewed from a mythological perspective.

It is therefore possible to view symbols on more than one level at a time, if we choose to do so.

On a personal level, the meaning of a symbol may be very personal to us. It may be very different to the meanings ascribed in books or the interpretations of other people. It isn't so much that our meanings are right or wrong when compared to the alternative meanings. It simply means that our own personal interpretation and whatever we can learn from it is different and personal to us.

There is plenty of merit in working with our own interpretation of symbolism. It allows us the opportunity to work intuitively, rather than analytically. It allows us to work with the personalised dimension of a symbol (or symbolic event), as well as explore other interpretations. This gives the framework for seeing similarities and differences in the interpretations and perhaps drawing even more conclusions.

If we rely primarily on our own interpretation then we are not risking putting our faith in someone else's beliefs, as we have no real way to know that they are right (especially if they try to claim that we are wrong). We can accept and work with their version of things, as well as our own, which allows two separate levels to explore. It has to be kept in mind that it isn't the symbol itself that is so important, but what is actually symbolises - and especially what it means for us. It is our personal journey that is the most important, and it is essential that we know how to read the signs and symbols for ourselves, and not rely on other people or entities. Keep in mind the old saying about not being able to see the woods for the trees.

To explore the personal interpretation of a symbol we may already have some kind of idea what it means to us. We may have some kind of vague or strong feeling surrounding it. We may feel we just 'know' what it means for us, perhaps as many experiences where the symbol or symbolism has occurred.

If we have no idea, or want clarity on the meaning, then an easy way is to use some light meditative practice. This can be as easy as closing your eyes, and imagining the symbol, and 'reading' anything we can from the symbol. So, perhaps it was the dog barking. With eyes closed you imagine the dog barking, and allow an image to form of this bored dog yapping away. Perhaps a word comes to you... lonely. That is one part of the symbol - there may be more. Depending on what we want to do, we may stick with what comes first, or we may look for more symbolism. It is often considered that whatever arises first is the most important, and should therefore be worked with. As a personal meaning, we would instant start applying the meaning in our own lives. So - "lonely" - how does that fit in my life? When do I feel lonely? When have I felt lonely? How does it feel when I'm lonely?

If you have the ability to draw the symbol, especially if it is fairly simple in design, another method can be employed. On a small square or rectangle of card (approximately the size of a playing card or tarot card) the image is drawn or painted. Sitting or lying comfortably, look intently upon the image for a few minutes, or as long as you feel is necessary to imprint the image upon your mind. While staring at the symbol you may also concentrate on your breathing, and imagine breathing in and assimilating the image as you inhale. When you feel ready, close your eyes. If you have stared for a sufficient period of time you will see a glowing version of the symbol (probably in inverse form) before your eyes. You can work with the symbol from here in various ways, talking to it, willing it to reveal its secrets to you. Or you can imagine that the symbol is a doorway, or inscribed on a doorway, that you can pass through, and use it as a gateway through which you can journey into a magical realm to explore the symbol in depth. This technique is known by various names, including pathworking (originally this was exploring the paths between the Sephiroth on the Kabbalistic Tree of Life), astral projection, shamanic journeying, or conscious dreaming. It is a very powerful way of exploring symbols, and can be done with Tarot cards, Runes or letters of the Hebrew or Enochian alphabets, Tattva cards, or anything else you choose.

Remember, with either technique, the most important factor is your own intuitive wisdom. Feelings and sensations can be far more revealing than thoughts. To become proficient at discovering the personal meanings of symbols takes time and practice, and skill and wisdom to avoid reading too much into a symbol that is actually more straight forward, or ascribing meaning that isn't there. The symbol is there for you to learn from, and the meaning you decipher is right for you. It isn't necessarily going to make sense to other people, as it is personal, intuitive, and not necessarily a rational or intellectual process - it is ultimately creative and holistic!

It can be useful to keep a journal when doing work with symbolism, and keep notes on all your experiences relating to each symbol. This can allow you to see recurring themes in your waking life, or in dreams and meditations.

Working with the Elements

Anja Heij

Four is the number of the physical universe. Both the square and the cross are symbols of material life in the three-dimensional world. The horizontal line of the cross symbolizes time, and the vertical one depicts space. The corners of the square and the ends of the cross form the four different faces of the Divine, or the four basic energies this universe is built of. These basic principles are named the elements.

Traditionally the four elements are called Fire, Earth, Water and Air. These are symbolical, not literal names for the various energies. To many natural methods of healing, magick and astrology the idea of the elements forms a practical, workable system and thought model. In a nature based life-philosophy it seems quite logical to work with the different characteristics of the four winds, the four directions, the four seasons, the four tastes, or the four stages of life (baby, childhood, adulthood, and old age). Let's take a look at the wind: northern wind is cold and dry (Earth), southern wind is warm and dry (Fire), eastern wind is cold and moist (Water), and western wind is warm and moist (Air). People react differently on the various winds and temperatures.

Ancient naturopathy developed the system of the temperaments, in which humans are divided in four groups, according to their way of reacting physically and emotionally, each with their own tailored therapies.

Choleric or Fire persons are hot-tempered, easily offended, enthusiastic, passionate, creative, impatient, courageous, adventurous, impulsive, daring and active. They like to take initiative and try out something new. They make good sportsmen, leaders and inspiring businessmen. Astrological Fire signs are Aries, Leo and Sagittarius. Fire complaints are fever, inflammations, high blood pressure or an over-active digestion because of eating too hasty or too spicy. Sick Fire people need to cool and calm down. Cold showers are often helpful. Magickal colors for Fire are red and orange. Call forth elemental Fire in your magick or visualizations when you need success, optimism, courage, energy, great love, an improved sex life, a new job or other new undertaking, greater authority or more self-consciousness.

Melancholic or Earth persons act slow and thorough, they are realistic, practical, sober, concrete, orderly, materialistic, critical, punctual, responsible and dutiful. They tend to be gloomy. They are great organizers, reliable partners, they can endure a lot and will not easily give up a certain task. Astrological Earth signs are Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn. Earth complaints are stiffness, frozen body parts, constipation, depression and problems with bones and joints. Warm water is often healing, as is taking clay internally. Gardening or mountain walking can be very meditative for Earthy people. Magickal colors for Earth are dark green, black and brown. Call forth elemental Earth for grounding, stability, healing, finding lost objects, securing a venture or relationship, money, promotion or other forms of progress, family matters, constructions and your home.

Flegmatic or Water people are sensitive, emotional, intuitive, paranormal, artistic, romantic, passive, magnetic, soft and kind, caring and compassionate. They are dreamy and have a vivid imagination. Watery people are the nurses, healers, intuitive counselors, artists and poets among us. Water signs are Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces. They often fall ill because of crossing their boundaries; therefore they get too many impressions of others, or their great helpfulness drains them. These liquid signs have difficulty with giving form to something; physically this can work out in profuse bleedings, long lasting diarrhea, or inexplicable complaints. For their healing it is really important to reserve time and space for themselves, for instance meditation or painting. Magickal Water colors are blue of course, and soft pastel and transparent colors. Call forth elemental Water if you do magick for divination, unconditional love, energy healing, dream work, spirituality, soft relationships with children and friends, artistic inspiration and negotiation with others.

Sanguine or Air people are quick, flexible, moveable, changeable, communicative, hasty, playful, nervous, easily interacting, mentally quick and strong, rational and objective. They love traveling, new people, new places, new contacts. They make good writers, talkers, traders, politicians and inventors. Air signs are Gemini, Libra and Aquarius. Air complaints are problems with the respiratory system, the circulation, and nervous complaints. Fresh air, a stay in the woods or the mountains, enjoying relaxing contacts with friends instead of stressy business contacts, are all healing. The traditional magickal Air color is yellow, the color of Mercury, the messenger of the gods. But light blue is great too of course. Call forth elemental Air to improve contacts, save traveling, successful trading or otherwise selling things, teaching, learning, mental activity and writing.

More and more people in the occult community add a fifth element: Spirit, representing the soul or the spiritualized and transformed human being through purification. Astrology and naturopathy still work with the four traditional elements. Elemental Spirit is found in the center of the cross and the square, or on the top of the upward pentagram. It's magickal colors are white and violet. Call forth elemental Spirit for divination, transformation, purification of energies, meditation and channeling.

You can strengthen the force of a certain element in yourself by working with the energies it represents. Go to the sea to let your emotions flow, wear red clothes in a daring mood, dig in the garden if you need to go back to base, and learn something new to make new contacts. Magickally the elemental energies can be evoked by addressing each element individually in a prayer or invocation. You may also call all energies forth as follows: sit in a circle and chant all at the same time "Earth, Earth, Earth – Air, Air, Air – Fire, Fire, Fire – Water, Water, Water – Spirit, Spirit, Spirit." Continue for several minutes. You will feel a powerful energy building up. I've worked with this in reiki healings. At the end of the session thank the energies and send them forth.

Poets Retreat

Poetry supplied by members of the Order of Bards

I Wonder

Can it be that you really feel
This soul-completion, this void-lack?
Some moments you hang on my every word
While others-
We're two galaxies orbiting distant suns
Ellipses nearing but never converging

You share my dreams, my hopes and fears
We draw solace in each others eyes
Eyes that sometimes open wide with wonder
When I do something uncertain

You say you feel it, this fit, this right
But every now or then, late at night

I wonder.

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be
Krystel

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers
