Multi-faith Calendar

Multi-faith Calendar – Coming up:

5th January – birth of Guru Gobind Singh (Sikh)

Guru Gobind Singh was the last of the ten Gurus, the one who transformed the Sikh faith. In 1699 he created the Khalsa (Pure), a community of the faithful who wore visible symbols of their faith and trained as warriors. Today the Khalsa comprises all practising Sikhs.

Contributions

Guru Gobind Singh succeeded his father Guru Tegh Bahadur at the age of 9. His teachings were different from his predecessors' - he believed that no power could exploit the Sikhs.

He spent his childhood years studying Persian and Sanskrit, and was skilled in the art of war. His mission was to uphold right in every place and destroy sin and evil. In 1699 he chose the festival day of Vaisakhi as the occasion to transform the Sikhs into the Khalsa, a family of soldier saints.

Guru Gobind Singh introduced many of the customs that Sikhs practise today.

Sikhs who have been through the Amrit ceremony of initiation become Amritdhari, initiated Sikhs. They take new names and wear the 5 Ks - five physical symbols that Sikhs must wear.

He declared the the Sikh holy book as his successor instead of a human being. The Guru Granth Sahib would thus be the Sikhs' guide forever. Sikhs give it the same status and respect as a human Guru.

6th January – Epiphany (Christian)

The Epiphany is an ancient Christian feast day and is significant in a number of ways. In the East, where it originated, the Epiphany celebrates the baptism of Jesus by John the Baptist in the River Jordan. It also celebrates Jesus' birth.

The Western Church began celebrating the Epiphany in the 4th century where it was, and still is, associated with the visit of the magi (wise men) to the infant Jesus when God revealed himself to the world through the incarnation of Jesus.

For many Protestant church traditions, the season of Epiphany extends from 6 January until Ash Wednesday, which begins the season of Lent leading to Easter.

Other traditions, including the Roman Catholic tradition, observe Epiphany as a single day, with the Sundays following Epiphany counted as Ordinary Time.

The Epiphany is also known as Dia de los Reyes (Three Kings Day).

Animal Spirits

FINDING YOUR ANIMAL TOTEM

You do not choose a Spirit Guide as your personal spirit guide. The Spirit chooses you and they decide to whom they will reveal themselves and make their friend. Do not fall into the trap of saying, “Gosh, I think the wolf is a smart, good looking and powerful animal, so the wolf will become my animal guide.” It does not work this way.

Each Animal has its own Medicine which is unique to that specific creature as gifted by the Great Mystery and its spirit cannot be chosen like the color of your new car. Discovering who your animal guides are is a process of paying attention to the spirits around you and following the signs. It is a process of developing your inner knowledge and spiritual understanding.

An individual can not be assigned a spirit guide by another person, regardless of who that person maybe, no more than another person can say how or when the Great Mystery of Life will be known to you.

What happens if you want an animal spirit so bad you can taste it (not literally) and one has not come to you? We have two suggestions for this case. First, pray about it. Second, be satisfied with whatever happens or does not happen. If it comes, then it comes. If it does not, then it does not. End of question.

MENTAL OR SPIRITUAL?

American Indians see Spirit Guides or totems as powerful guardians of the land or spirits of living animals. Some psychologists conjecture that a vision or message from a Spirit Guide may be certain aspects of the human psyche resurfacing from the pre-conscious ancient human mind. For example, fish living in the sea are associated with the unconscious mind and symbolize a deep mind.

Another example, by meditating on the various qualities of reptiles and their mythical associations, it may be possible to access the reptilian aspects of the mind that correspond to the limbic system in the brain, which deals with sensory impressions, pleasure and pain. Likewise, by meditating on various mammals, a path is opened to the mammalian aspects of the human psychic corresponding to the thalamus and the hypothalamus in the brain associated with the emotions, a sense of community, and instinctual wisdom.

THE POWER OF ANIMAL SPIRITS

The natural power of animal spirit guides has not been lost. The knowledge and power of animal guides is alive and can be effectively used to improve our lives and all creation. American Indians call the process of connecting with animal guides and other parts of creation as being ‘One with Nature.’

Connecting with your animal guide will make you a better person. You will be healthier physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually. You will see the world and all things in it with more clarity and understanding.

Animals are wondrous happy creatures. There is no doubt that animals have beautiful, balanced emotions. They love and defend one another. They feel sorrow and melancholy. Yet, there has never been a war between animal species. They know nothing about greed, envy, and hate. They live their entire lives without sin.

They have many amazing powers and use those powers only to benefit their kind and not to overcome their opponents. There is a reason why the Creator put all of us together on the same planet. A part of that reason is to learn from one another.

Animals are here to teach humans. They have many powerful lessons to give. They remind us that we are only a small part of creation; that each part of creation has a place; that each creature has its own skill and wisdom.

For the learning process to begin we must develop a relationship with one or more animal guides and this requires time and patience. This does not mean you must be with the animal physically. But instead, will learn about the traits, habits, skills and spirit of the animal from afar. As with any new knowledge, practice is important to hone learning into a useful skill. The rewards will be understanding, love, light energy, skilful knowledge and wisdom. Moreover, the reward is having a powerful spiritual friend.

Both domesticated and free animals offer an immense heritage of myth, folklore and symbolism. As we learn about animals, it is important to know their symbolic meaning as a point of reference and comparison, however we must keep in mind that symbols are cultural in nature and differ from place to place, from time to time and may not reflect the nature of the animal as you feel it. Give time to the study of their characteristics, habitat and position in the eco-system.

Quote & Thought of the Day

Quote of the Day:

*Trials are but lessons
that you failed to learn,
presented once again.
So, where you made a faulty choice before,
you can now make a better one,
and thus escape all pain
that what you chose before has brought to you.*

A Course In Miracles

Source: <http://www.sapphyr.net/>

Thought of the day:

Create a reward

Create a reward for yourself, and then go get that reward. Give yourself something to look forward to, and let it motivate you.

Make it a wonderful, inspiring reward. Make it rich and exciting.

When you're working your way toward something delightful, nothing can get you down. When you have something to look forward to, you'll do whatever is necessary to get yourself there.

With a clearly defined objective, it's easy to figure out what to do next. Eager anticipation fills you with powerful and effective enthusiasm.

If you have trouble getting yourself moving, take a fresh look at what you're moving toward. Give yourself a good enough reason, give yourself a desirable enough reward, and plenty of motivation will naturally come.

Create a reward you can truly and enthusiastically look forward to. And let it get you moving.

Two Recent Films that Promote Satanic Panic

Jeremiah Films has released a documentary entitled PopCulture Paganism, taking a right-handed swipe at the teen vampire trend, which they call "Neovampirism". The filmmakers try to lump it in with Paganism as well as New Agey stuff like The Secret.

The PopPaganism page features a glut of links to crimes and outrages that have pretty much nothing to do with the topics of the documentary. This film is apparently unconnected to the 13 other anti-Pagan films J.F. has made.

As you probably know, Jeremiah Films is the low-budget Christian Right/conspiranoia production company that churned out The Clinton Chronicles in the '90s. Despite plugs on The 700 Club, the video ended up losing money after J.F. CEO Pat Matrisciana lost a defamation lawsuit. Since then, J.F. has stuck mainly to safer targets: Harry Potter, Mormons, and of course Freemasons.

The other film is a low-budget horror flick about a Satanic cult that ritually sacrifices random folks, aptly titled Satanic Panic. This wouldn't be a big deal on its own, but unfortunately the movie is being promoted as "inspired by true accounts", just like The Exorcism of Emily Rose, The Haunting in Connecticut, and The Fourth Kind (which was really just a hoax).

The film's official website explains that the real Satanic Panic of the '80s was sparked by a "rash" of unexplained disappearances throughout the U.S. This is not true. Disappearances played a very minor role in the hysteria to come, and at any rate the disappearance rate was not elevated in any noticeable way at that time.

People were simply paying more attention to disappearances after the high-profile cases of Etan Patz, Adam Walsh, and other children.

Besides that, it strikes me as rather inappropriate to base a schlocky slasher film (complete with an ugly hillbilly) on the testimony of unbalanced people who, for the most part, really believed they had been tortured by Satanists as children. Real Satanic Panic ruined many lives, families, and minds. It's not entertaining.

Wicca, Witchcraft or Paganism? What's the Difference, Anyway?

By Patti Wigington

For many people, the embracing of an earth-based spirituality is a feeling of “coming home”. Often, people say that when they first discovered Wicca, they felt like they finally fit in. For others, it’s a journey TO something new, rather than running away from something else.

Paganism is an Umbrella Term

Please bear in mind that there are dozens of different traditions that fall under the umbrella title of “Paganism”. While one group may have a certain practice, not everyone will follow the same criteria. Statements made on this site referring to Wiccans and Pagans generally refer to MOST Wiccans and Pagans, with the acknowledgement that not all practices are identical.

Not All Pagans are Wiccans

There are many Witches who are not Wiccans. Some are Pagans, but some consider themselves something else entirely.

Just to make sure everyone’s on the same page, let’s clear up one thing right off the bat: not all Pagans are Wiccans. The term “Pagan” (derived from the Latin paganus, which translates roughly to “hick from the sticks”) was originally used to describe people who lived in rural areas. As time progressed and Christianity spread, those same country folk were often the last holdouts clinging to their old religions. Thus, “Pagan” came to mean people who didn’t worship the god of Abraham.

In the 1950s, Gerald Gardner brought Wicca to the public, and many contemporary Pagans embraced the practice. Although Wicca itself was founded by Gardner, he based it upon old traditions. However, a lot of Witches and Pagans were perfectly happy to continue practicing their own spiritual path without converting to Wicca.

Therefore, “Pagan” is an umbrella term that includes many different spiritual belief systems – Wicca is just one of many.

Think of it this way:

Christian > Lutheran or Methodist or Jehovah’s Witness

Pagan > Wiccan or Asatru or Dianic or Eclectic Witchcraft

As if that wasn’t confusing enough, not all people who practice witchcraft are Wiccans, or even Pagans. There are a few witches who embrace the Christian god as well as a Wiccan goddess – the Christian Witch movement is alive and well! There are also people out there who practice Jewish mysticism, or “Jewitchery”, and atheist witches who practice magic but do not follow a deity.

What About Magic?

There are a number of people who consider themselves Witches, but who are not necessarily Wiccan or even Pagan. Typically, these are people who use the term “eclectic Witch” to apply to themselves. In many cases, Witchcraft is seen as a skill set in addition to or instead of a religion. A Witch may practice magic in a manner completely separate from their spirituality; in other words, one does not have to interact with the Divine to be a Witch.

Poets Retreat

New Year's Reality Check

Another year, another chance
To start our lives anew;
This time we'll leap old barriers
To have a real breakthrough.

We'll take one little step
And then we'll take one more,
Our unlimited potential
We'll totally explore.

We'll show off all our talents
Everyone will be inspired;
(Whew! While I'm writing this,
I'm getting very tired.)

We'll give up all bad habits;

We'll read and learn a lot,
All our goals will be accomplished,
Sigh...or maybe not.

Oh well, Happy New Year anyway!

Chancellor's New Year's Address

Greetings everyone,

As you know it has been my custom for the last decade or so to issue an annual New Years Address, in which I discuss developments of the year past and plans for the year coming. This year has been a very difficult year for many of us around the world, and my heart goes out to all who have faced hardship because of the world economy. Let us pray that the New Year brings a renewed prosperity for us all!

I would like to begin by making several announcements. First, I am pleased to announce the new Correllian social site: CorrellianTradition.ning.com. This site is created as part of the Correllian Outer Court for all Correllian Tradition members and Friends of Tradition to come together and share discussions, photos, video, blogs, etc. The Correllian Tradition is a truly global tradition with people of many ethnicities, languages and cultures –but we are also a single, global family. Let us use this new site to increase our communication with our siblings around the world and to strengthen the bonds of love that connect us all!

If you have not already joined CorrellianTradition.ning.com I hope that you will do so now!

Secondly I would like announce the creation of a new Correllian Membership Database! The new Database was created by a beloved Friend of Tradition: MaryAnn Kaufmann. Over the years MaryAnn has done a great deal to benefit our Tradition and its members, often in ways that people have not seen or had the chance to appreciate.

I would like to take this occasion to bestow upon MaryAnn Kaufmann the Chancellor's Special Service Award in recognition not only of the new database she has gifted us with, but also of all her kind efforts over so many years. In addition I take this occasion to award MaryAnn Kaufmann the status of Honorary High Priestess, an honor she now shares with Rt. Rev. Pete Davis of the Aquarian Tabernacle, Rev. Angie Buchanan of the Council for a Parliament of the World's Religions, and other distinguished leaders.

I would like to thank MaryAnn for all that she does to benefit others! And I hope that you too will take this occasion to thank MaryAnn for her many efforts in our behalf!

This year Rev. Ed Hubbard and I attended the Fifth Parliament of the World's Religions in Melbourne, Australia –and what an event it was! You can learn more about our experiences at the Parliament through Correllian.com, WitchSchool.com, and MagickTV.com where we have placed various reports of the experience. I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed to the Correllian Tradition in support of our mission to the Parliament! Thank you very much –for without you we could not have done it! I would also like to thank Rev. Mike Neal of the CNT Fundraising Office for his invaluable efforts in this!

Ed and I got to meet many exciting new people at the Parliament as well as seeing old friends.

However for me the most important aspect of the Parliament was the startling realization of just how unique our Tradition is in many ways, and how modern our outlook. As I remarked above, the Correllian Tradition is truly a global tradition embracing people all over the Earth. Correllians come from many ethnicities and cultures, and speak many languages, but we are united in our love for Deity and each other, and by our shared teachings and activities! Until this event I had not realized how truly remarkable that is.

Alone among the Wiccan Traditions we were able to present our literature in 19 different languages! This was not due to our having solicited translations from outside, but rather was a love offering from our members who actually speak these languages. Thank you translators! I cannot thank you enough –for you remind us that we are one family of many languages, countries, and cultures!

In recognition of this I am extremely pleased to take this occasion to announce the creation of a new group for the Order of Translators at CorrellianTradition.ning.com, and hope that all members of the Order will join and take advantage of the group, as well as people who are interested in becoming active in translation of our Correllian materials. The URL for this group is <http://CorrellianTradition.ning.com/group/orderoftranslators>.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Rev. Raene Packery, for her services as Head of the Correllian Order of Herbalism. Rev. Raene stepped up to save the Order when it foundered after the Founding Head stepped down and has worked hard to in this role for several years now. In deference to the heavy load she bears running two Temples and Witch School Africa, as well as being the mother of a two year old child, Rev. Raene has asked to step aside as Head of the Herbal Order. For all her efforts we are very grateful! Thank you Rev. Raene. Rev. Raene will be succeeded as Head of Order by Rev. Olivia Watts.

Year 9 Aq. was the first year that the Correllian Lustration has been held in Chicago, hosted by my own Holy City Temple. Lady Traci and I would like to thank all who attended, and also to express our lasting pleasure at one of the nicest and most emotionally fulfilling Correllian Lustrations of recent years.

As you may already know the Spring Lustration for Year 10 Aq. is to be held in Wisconsin, USA, and I am very much looking forward to it. This Lustration is being hosted by Northern Lakes Temple, who I am sure will be working closely with our Lustration Advisors Rev. Mike Neal of the CNT Fundraising Office, Arch Priestess Traci Logan Wood, and High Priestess Green Owl of Trianna Temple, to ensure the best Lustration possible! The Spring Lustration for Year 11 Aq. is planned for Dallas, Texas, and for Year 12 Aq. in Georgia.

The Fall Lustration from now on will be celebrated at the local Temple level, with individual Temples free to hold their own Lustration. A revised Lustration script will be made available soon, tailored to the needs of Temple use. Those Temples with High Priesthood who can act as Oracles will hopefully bring through numerous oracles that will be collected and compiled for future reference. This compilation, tentatively called the Chamber of Prophecy, should become available this fall, after the Lustration has occurred. I believe that this resource will prove to be of tremendous value in the future. I will also be working Lady Krystel and Rev. Ed to determine which of our long term Oracles are suitable to be included in the Chamber of Prophecy.

For me personally this New Year is one that brings many changes. One of the things I regard as most important for me this year is a renewed emphasis on the psychic arts. In recent years my duties as Tradition Chancellor as well as Witch School Chancellor have taken a great deal of attention, and my public practice of the psychic arts has been rather curtailed. I am therefore happy to say that I will be starting a Daily Tarot Blog at both WitchSchool.com and CorrellianTradition.ning.com that will feature a daily Tarot reading. I am quite excited about this, as it is some years since I last did a regular predictive column of this sort. I will also be offering individual psychic readings, using either Tarot or Clairvoyance, which you can learn more about at www.Rev.DonLewis.com.

This concludes my annual New Year's Address and I pray that the new year will bring you and yours every happiness and renewed and redoubled prosperity!

Blessings All!

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be Krystel
