Announcement

Correllian Awards

Greetings Everyone,

As you know at each Lustration we give awards in recognition of the hard work which so people put into this Tradition. Ordinarily the award nominations are co-ordinated by Rev. Terry Power of Celtic Cross Temple, however this fall personal circumstances have prevented Rev. Terry from this. Therefore I am myself co-ordinating nominations for the awards.

Please send nominations directly to me at DonLewisHP@aol.com and please make sure to place the word "Nomination" prominently in the subject line. Your letter of nomination should be as complete as possible, so that we can make a fair decision.

To be considered I must receive the nomination no later than 27 August.

As you may know, there are five awards which we give at Lustration:
Order of the Copper Athame: representing Air, the realm of ideas, recognizes achievement in the Sciences, including divination, astrology, herbology, enviro-technology, etc.

Order of the Golden Wand: representing Fire, the realm of passion and action, recognizes acts of bravery or compassion in the service of others.

Order of the Silver Chalice: representing Water, the realm of emotion and intuition, recognizes achievement in the Arts, including visual arts, dance, music, etc.

Order of the Iron Pentacle: representing Earth, the realm of stability, integration, and wisdom, recognizes achievement in teaching, writing, etc.

Order of the Thurible: representing Spirit, the smoke carrying our prayers to the Gods, recognizes achievement in ritual leadership and writing. This award can also be used to recognize those whose spirituality had inspired others to greater commitment and devotion.

The awards are open to every member of the Correllian Tradition, except for the Arch Priesthood. Please help me to honor those within our Tradition who do so much for so many!

Thank you and Blessed Be,
Rev. Don Lewis
First Priest and Chancellor

Kittens

By Rev. Mehitabel

We are now in the peak “kitten season” since most kittens are born in the summer months, and so a few words on their care seems appropriate.

Kittens are babies and need to be treated as such, allowing them plenty of time to sleep and rest without being the focus of attention. They also need to have access to food and drink at all times as they do best with small amounts of food frequently. This is a practice that is best continued with adult cats.

Before your kitten arrives spend some time kitten proofing your home. This involves blocking off all small holes which might attract an inquisitive kitten, covering electric wires which are tempting to chew and removing all prized breakable objects that might be knocked off during the kitten’s mountaineering adventures.

Kittens do not need to be house trained. They will automatically use a litter tray providing it is kept clean. In a large house it is advisable to have several trays because accidents may happen if the kitten is a long way from the tray when it needs to “go”.

Kittens will need to be vaccinated from 8 weeks onwards. The vaccine schedule will vary with the actual vaccines used. The kitten should not go outside until vaccinated.

When you first let your kitten explore the outside world stay with it and then encourage it to return to the house with food. It is important to establish “home” as the centre so that the kitten will return. It is advisable not to let the kittens out unsupervised until around 6-9 months.

Neutering usually takes place from 4 months depending on the size of the kitten and is essential. Entire tom cats will fight and suffer from repeated abscesses as a result. They are also far more likely to be killed on the road and they have a less than pleasant aroma!
Unneutered females will have litter after litter of kittens which will impact adversely on their own health as well as presenting the problem of finding suitable homes for the kittens.

Most of all though, enjoy your kitten.

Merry Meet fellow Wiccans to my Wiccan World.

My weekend has been very emotional, as I now know that I actually are accepted as a student to the Rune-class. It's 7 weeks of hard work, and then I might be able to take on the Advance Rune-class, too. I want it to be Thursday, today.*LOL* I know this week will feel like it's not moving forward at all. Then suddenly it has gone 7 weeks and the class is finished. I am so excited to see what one are going to learn in the course. No matter what, I would love every minute of it, for sure.

In Sweden we have had summer like weeather, even though the temperaturess are more as in late spring/early summer. Anyhow, we have had sun and warmth. You can feel that the Autun is on it's way though, as I can smell it in the air. I also see the geese moving south, and the v-shape they are flying in is a sure sign for that the Autumn is on it's way.

My female dog has finally get better from her stomache-problems. She has that from time, as all dogs can encounter now and then. No one of my dogs are eating anything outside, it's only the female dog that loves to chew on sticks. I actually call her "fibre-rabbit", as she is constantly seeking to get her fibres.

During weekend we were up in our forest and in that forest we have a sand-pit. A large one, as they are working with digging and taking sand from it. It is a sand-ridge, and the hills are at some places very steep. So we do get our dogs to exercise and they love it both of them. We through balls to them, and they go fetch. We also carry with us water, of course, as they need to drink water after they have ran up and down the hills. I actually got some exercise too, when we were up there. My female dog decided that she didn't want to fetch her ball, so I had to go down all the way and pick it up and then go all the way back up the hill. What did my female dog do, while I was doing this you may ask?? She followed me down and back up again, of course! She probably wanted her mum to get some exercise, too. Believe me, I was exhausted after that walk, but it felt very nice after I have had my rest and got my breathe back. I was panting as the dogs do, after they have been running up and down. I have had all-in-all a ost wonderful weekend.

Yesterday, my step-daughter came on a quick visit to sleep over, as her school has began and she is all ready going in 9th grade. Is she big, or is she big. It's only about 4-5 years left, before she move away from home. She is determined to get the best grades that she ever can get, this year. She is starting college next fall, and that will be an even greater adventure for her.

Take care until Thursday. Blessed be all of you.

Love and Light

Hugz and Blessings

THE LEGEND OF THE LAMBTON WORM

Penshaw Hill

Penshaw Hill and the nearby Worm Hill are closely associated with one of the North East's best known folk tales;

The Legend of the Lambton Worm.

The hero of this legend was a certain young man called John Lambton, who on one particular Sunday morning decided to go fishing in the River Wear rather than attend the local church, as he was expected to do. His truancy was rather a waste of time, as he did not have a very successful morning's sport. The only thing he had been able to catch, was a tiny worm-like creature which he despondently threw into a nearby well, before returning home for lunch.

In later life John Lambton became a brave knight and crusader and left England to fight in the Middle East, where he soon forgot about the strange little worm caught on that otherwise uneventful Sunday morning.

Unbeknown to John, while he was away abroad, this tiny creature had grown into an enormous hideous serpent that began to terrorise the local neighbourhood. It is said that the worm would feed off the udders of cows and swallow little children alive and after feasting, would fall asleep and lazily lap its tail around the crest of Penshaw Hill.

Naturally, many attempts were made to slaughter this beast, but even when it was cut into many pieces the parts would rejoin and the worm remained alive. John Lambton, perhaps feeling partly responsible for the activities of the worm, decided to return home to England, where he consulted the advice of a wise old witch.

He asked her how he should go about killing such a creature. The old lady explained that the only way to kill the beast was by standing in the middle of the River Wear, wearing a suit of armour coated with blades of steel, and wait patiently for the worm to arrive. However a warning was given to Lambton, that upon defeating the worm, he must then kill the first living thing he set eyes upon. Otherwise a curse would be placed upon nine generations of the Lambtons so that none would die in their bed.

Lambton, obeying the words of the old lady put on the appropriate armour and instructed his father to send one of the family hounds to him, so he could complete the deed in accordance with her wishes.

Making his way to the banks of the Wear he stood in the centre of the river, where he didn't have to wait for long. The worm came darting towards its adversary of long ago and proceeded to viciously wrap itself around the armoured knight.

After a short struggle the creature was gradually sliced up into many tiny pieces by the steel blades of Lambton's armour. Bit by bit each piece of the worm was carried away by the current of the river before they had time to rejoin. At last the worm was dead.

The victorious but exhausted Lambton, made his way back to the bank of the river, remembering that he must now kill the first living thing he set eyes upon. As he emerged from the river he looked up with shock and horror to see his excited father, who had evidently forgotten the hound. Lambton could not kill his own Dad !. Would the curse prove true? Well history seems to suggest it did. Several Lambtons met violent deaths and indeed one General Lambton, confined to his bed by a terrible illness, pleaded and pleaded with his servants to release him. When they finally lifted him from his bed - he died. That is the twist in the tale of the legend of the Lambton Worm!

Janamashtami – 24th August 2008

The Janamashtami festival marks the birth of Krishna, one of the most popular Gods in the Hindu pantheon.

Krishna is perceived by most Hindus to be an avatar (incarnation) of Vishnu, who is regarded as the highest avatar. It is believed that all other deities are manifestations of him. Krishna is considered to be a warrior, hero, teacher and philosopher by Hindus.

Krishna's birthday is celebrated eight days after Raksha Bandhan in the month of Sravana and celebrations are spread over two days.

The first day is called Krishan ashtami or Gokul ashtami. The second day is known as Kaal ashtami or more popularly Janam ashtami.

For the 48 hour period Hindus are likely to forego sleep and instead sing bhajans, which are traditional Hindu songs. It is believed that Krishna was born at midnight and it is at this time that the true festivities commence. Food is prepared from milk and curds said to have been favoured by Krishna. Some Hindus choose to fast for the first day of Janamashtami, choosing only to eat after the midnight celebrations. Dances and songs are used to venerate and remember this supreme God. Plays are also carried out re-enacting scenes from Krishna's early life. In Temples images of Krishna are bathed and placed in cradles, whilst the shankh (conch shell) is played and bells are rung. Holy mantras are also chanted to venerate Krishna.

Given the significance of Krishna in the Hindu pantheon Janamashtami is celebrated with great importance and consideration.

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be

Krystel

The Order of Web Weavers Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers
