Runes

By Vitki Freyatrú

Waes Hael!

To continue with last week's examination of some of the lesser known Gods and Goddesses of the Aesir and Vanir: this week I bring you Mimir.

I have found three sources for Mimir, Snorri quotes from the Voluspá which is otherwise known as the Seeress's prophecy and I will give you both translations so that you can see how much variation you can get between one and another, It must be remembered also that Snorri was writing a quote from a manuscript which was then translated into the English form of 90 years ago. The Modern translator was working from the actual document or Photostats of the Codex Regius. There is also a different style of translation. Many of the earlier translations try to remain poetic in style. Whereas the modern translation tends to lose the poetic value in order that you get a better literal translation.

Firstly from the Deluging Of Gylfi (part of the Prose Edda) Then the modern translation of the Poetic Edda. Also note the many different kennings given to Odin.

But under that root which turns toward the Rime-Giants is Mimir's Well, wherein wisdom and understanding are stored; and he is called Mimir, who keeps the well. He is full of ancient lore, since he drinks of the well from the Gjallar-Horn. Thither came Allfather and craved one drink of the well; but he got it not until he had laid his eye in pledge. So says Völuspá:

*All know I, Odin, | where the eye thou hiddest,
In the wide-renowned | well of Mimir;
Mimir drinks mead | every morning
From Valfather's wage. | Wit ye yet, or what?*

Translated by Arthur Gilchrist Brodeur [1916]

Verse 28 Seeress's Prophecy
*Alone she sat outside, when the old man came,
The Terrible one of the Aesir looked in her eyes:
'Why do you question me? Why do you test me?
I Know everything, Odin, where you hid your eye
In the famous well of Mimir.'
Mimir drinks mead every morning
From Father of the Slain's wager—do you understand
Yet, or what more?*

(The Poetic Edda., Trans. Carolyne Larrington 1996 Oxford World Classics) ISBN 0-19-283946-2

Next we have the story of the war between the Aesir and Vanir, in which the Aesir got well and truly whipped. One account has Niord burying his Axe in the very gates of Asgard!

Unfortunately I can't find the exact quote...yet. However in this telling it is made to sound like more of a stalemate which was resolved by an exchange of hostages to ensure peace. It seems that the Vanir got the worst end of the bargain in hostages and the Aesir actually ended up with three for the price of two as Freya joined her father and brother in their exile. However it is the Aesir hostages we are interested in. Hone is known elsewhere as Hoenir (The Prose Edda p51 Trans. J.I.Young 1954) and Mime is obviously Mimir who we are interested in. The fact that different translators have given different names to the same God does not help in deciphering the Norse Myths, which in any case are quite fragmentary in nature. I have seen in some translations Vanir being called Waners here they are simply Vanaland people. The Aesir are therefore logically the Asaland people. Njord is an alternative Scandinavian spelling of Niord. Kvasir is otherwise known as Kvasir and I will tell you more of him next week!

Odin went out with a great army against the Vanaland people; but they were well prepared, and defended their land; so that victory was changeable, and they ravaged the lands of each other, and did great damage. They tired of this at last, and on both sides appointed a meeting for establishing peace, made a truce, and exchanged hostages. The Vanaland people sent their best men, Njord the Rich, and his son Frey. The people of Asaland sent a man called Hone, whom they thought well suited to be a chief, as he was a stout and very handsome man; and with him they sent a man of great understanding called Mime. On the other side, the Vanaland people sent the wisest man in their community, who was called Kvasir. Now, when Hone came to Vanaheim he was immediately made a chief, and Mime came to him with good counsel on all occasions. But when Hone stood in the Things or other meetings, if Mime was not near him, and any difficult matter was laid before him, he always answered in one way -- "Now let others give their advice"; so that the Vanaland people got a suspicion that the Asaland people had deceived them in the exchange of men. They took Mime, therefore, and beheaded him, and sent his head to the Asaland people. Odin took the head, smeared it with herbs so that it should not rot, and sang incantations over it. Thereby he gave it the power that it spoke to him, and discovered to him many secrets.

Snorri Sturlson
(c.1179-1241)

Samuel Laing (London, 1844), translator

What is not certain is whether Mimir was sent to the Vanir because he gained his wisdom from being guardian of the well. The other option being that it is his undead decapitated head which guards over it.

For those who are interested, the singing of incantations which Odin performs is a form of Norse Magic known as Galdr which is quite distinct from Vitka and Siedr.

Till next week Waes Hael!

Tarot

By Rev. Leona

The Tarot card for today is the Seven of Swords.

Key terms for this card are Stealing, Uselessness, Secrets

Message of the Seven of Swords

The Seven of Swords comes into your life at a time where there is much crisis. Here you will see that there is a duplicity in all that you say and do. There are those around you who seem to be quite two faced and who seem to be trying to do anything they can to cause havoc and confusion. This is a time for you to take stock of all the negative events that have been taking place in your life. Do they seem to stem from the same root problem? Now may be a time for you to practice your shielding and to make sure that you are not leaving enough of an opening for someone to take advantage. When dealing with people who are of this nature it is best to keep your cards close to your heart and not to reveal too much personal information. This is a time for you to keep your balance and not to become too emotionally charged. The Seven of Swords is a card of air and as such you must let your emotions subside so that you will be able to see the situation with a clear and level head.

Right now things seem to be falling away and out of your grip. There is someone around you who is stealing in and taking from you. This could be that there is someone you trust who is literally stealing from you or that others are taking away your power and leaving you in the dark. This is a time for you to contemplate where you are in your life. Is this where you wish to be? If not why are you not where you had hoped and dreamed. This is the time for you to look to the actions and words of those around you. Listen to the reasoning of your mind and not the voice of your spirit. This is a time when your intuition may indeed lead you astray

With the Seven of Swords comes the feeling of anxiety. You are not sure what is waiting for you just around the next bend. With the Seven you must be on your guard. This is a time to be very careful of your physicalness. This means paying attention to how you feel around certain people. Your body is trying to tell you things about your situation. Notice if anyone makes you feel exceptionally tired. Do you have headaches after dealing with certain people? These are the types of warnings that you need to be looking for and to make sure that you take the time to avoid these people and especially not to give them any ammunition that could be used against you in the future.

When the Seven of Swords comes into play you feel very useless. You do not feel as though you have any power or any control of the situation. This is the time when you must look at what you have been doing or not doing. The Seven wants you to see what is going on and give you the hope that you do have the ability to see this through and that there is something you can do. When we feel this way we have usually given our power up. We may have given the power to someone else (as in the case of abusive relationships) or we may even have given the power up to ourselves. We are often harder on ourselves than we are on anyone else. This means that you need to take the time to look at your own words and actions and how they have come to help or hinder you upon your path.

Meditation for the Seven of Swords

Meditations for this month will require one candle and a journal.

Find a time and a place where you will not be disturbed. When you are ready breathe in through your nose and breathe out through your mouth. Take the time to breath and to relax. Allow all the stress and anxiety to flow out of you while being replaced with peace and light. When you are ready close your eyes and light your candle.

Reflect upon the following questions.

Where do you feel a loss of power?

Who in your daily life makes you feel tired or ill?

Who in your life do you dread to deal with?

What makes you feel this way?

Write your answers in your journal and reflect upon the following questions.

What is being taken away from you?

Are you allowing this to be taken or do you fight this?

What can you do to bring the power of your life back under your control?

Write your answers to these questions. When you are ready open your eyes and extinguish the candle. Now you must take the first steps to regain control in your life.

Merry Meet Everyone!

Today I led the online Gaia Ritual for my Temple in the US timeslot. As I was going through the form and visualization of the rite I had an insistent little voice in my head, it was meaning to be heard as I could not leave the ritual room when the ritual was completed and wrote the words being given to me then and there. I give them to you with my best wishes, something I felt I was also meant to do.

Disclaimer... If what I have written does not make sense to you... not my fault ☺... blame the little voice inside my head.

A Visualisation for Gaia

We stand on a promontory that stretches its earthly finger out into the sea
Around us the water is quiet and as still as the ocean can be.

There are no waves here so close to the frozen circle we know as the Antarctic.
Only the continuous motion of the sea's perpetual coming and going, gently lapping at our feet rising a little higher with each light surge towards the earth we stand on.

As we look out towards the greater ocean we extend our senses to the point of stepping out of our earth bound bodies.

We move out across the water towards that great southern continent we know is covered in snow and Ice year round.

This is the heart of our planets seasons, the place that holds all together across the world
We move lightly towards it looking for those markers that tell us all is well on Planet Earth.
Ice and Snow as far as the eye can see, crisp and white, shelves of it out into the sea.

Where are the animals that depend on its frozen wastes for pro-generation and succour.
But as we search we find naught but land, dark and frightening in its appearance.

Small mountains of ice and large Islands of ice moving away from the places that should remain
The animals are dying, caught in avalanche and lost in crevasse, isolated behind ice mountains that did not exist when last we were here.

We shed our tears, they should have frozen on our faces but do not, Mother what can we do to help we cry?

A soft whisper comes on the breeze, "It is too late, my garden shall die but in its place I will build another".

We turn to look northward from this place and see the haze that is on the air
Man has grown, yet man forgot, without the mother, man too will suffer!
Where will man go to build another earth, already they look to the stars, our Mother cries out
No!, no-more, if you do not learn here, you will not go there, to take destruction with you.

Not all will fade here on this Earth but life will have to struggle
Not because the Mother decreed it so, but because we would not listen to Her when we could mend our ways

And because we will have to rebuild a planet rent asunder, but when we do, or so I feel, our Spirit will have grown, perhaps far more than our brains.
When that happens we will see the beauty return once more.

This is not a garbage tip
It is our Mother Earth, the matter that Goddess is, the Spirit that is all
So we raise our hands towards the heavens and dance a spiral dance, and as we do we raise the power to mend what we have wrought.

The energy we are building now will go on around the world, it will not fade and become weak, rather it will gain and grow,
For every heart that is purely sorry for what man has done.
For every soul that takes up arms to rebuild our home.
Their spirits add to the store that we return to our mother.

Every time we raise our hearts we send Her love and Healing, we may not stop the destruction completely but;
We will have given back enough to give Her the strength to stand alone and fight back and remain.

We feel ourselves gently moving back, into our earthly bodies,
The water gently laps our toes and hope beats in our hearts.
We will return here everyday and repeat this power building, telling others on the way so they might join us too.

The breeze is cool as we open our eyes the sun not quite as hot, and with hope we go about our lives.

Brightest Blessings to you all

Merry Meet fellow Wiccans to my Wiccan World

My week so far, has been on the lazy side of life. I have taken the days as they came, and just do what has been needed to do. Well, not quite so lazy when I come to think of it, as I was vacuuming and cleaning the floors on Tuesday. It was well needed, and now they are shining. The weather has mostly been gray clouds or raining, but today Thursday it is actually sunny outside. So we can take our usual walk in the afternoon, as we use to do. When the rain comes, it gets so muddy and dirty on our usual walk tour. Sorry, to say this, but should we have had just a few degrees lower. We should then had the snow outside, that I am so looking forward to.

I had my baking with the saffron bread and gingerbread cookies on Sunday, and this weekend I am planning to do some Ice-chocolate as we say in Sweden. It is pretty much ordinary chocolate, just that you have melt it and added some butter to it. I will use cocos-fat in mine, and then have them in small forms made of tin foil. It is my beloved mother's recipe, and I can't feel that it is yule/christmas if I don't have them.

Otherwise then, I will attend the Healing Ritual in Healing Temples chat room at 9 PM GMT time tomorrow, and on Sunday there are a Symbel Ritual in the Folkvang Shrine chat room at 10 PM GMT time. I always look forward to Fridays Healing Rituals, and the Symbel Rituals. They are different, but still they are so much alike.

We will have my stepdaughter over to us, as she will spend yule/christmas together with us and my mother in law. It will be so much fun, and later on to the New Years. I will have my "sister" here, as she will celebrate the New Year together with me, my man and my stepdaughter. After that I will travel down to my other "sister", and spend some time together with her as well. So the coming month, will be a very busy one for me. I will have loads of fun, and have a lot of things to look back on after this month.

Well, enough spoken for today. I will ask the Goddess to grant my wish for snow again, and see if she will be granting it for me. It would be such a great Yule/Christmas if it should be coming some snow. I love the snow, and the dog is also loving it. It also shines up the days and nights in a way, that it isn't as when it is just nothing laying on the ground.

Take care until Monday. Love to you all, always. Blessed be all of you.

Hugz and Blessings

She is my all, my everything

I look out into the night sky
The Moon; full and resplendent
The awesome beauty of the Goddess fills me
She is my constant where none existed before

The path before me I willingly traverse Heedful that the Goddess is with me throughout
Before this path, I wandered without purpose
Now I have a direction, and welcome it

My Wiccan ways were slow to emerge
But the Goddess has made it right
Nothing but absolute Love do I feel
She is my all, my everything!

I am complete, and at total peace.

Merry Meet little hatchlings! I trust all is well wherever you may be? Don't forget to keep sending that healing energy towards Rev. Silver-Moonblossom by the way - I'm sure you all agree it will be nice to see both her and Josie back with us soon!

I hop you've all been enjoying the Yule treats we've had so far with our run up to Yule - well the fun doesn't stop! It's been a challenge finding extra goodies for two articles a week - but we've got yet another action packed edition today - lots more Yule-type treats to make, taste, hang, etc.

Enjoy!

Thoughts And Ideas / Crafts:

Garlands

Garlands are wonderful decorations for the altar, tables, over doorways, around and down stairways and banisters, the porch and so may other areas. You can make garlands out of;

- Construction paper
- Popcorn
- Live or artificial evergreen branches
- Holly
- Candies
- Flowers

Construction Paper Garlands

You Will Need

Construction paper

Glue or stapler or tape

Thumbtacks (or more tape)

Select the colours of construction paper you want to use. Cut all the paper into strips between 1 & 2 inches wide. Make the first loop: Fasten the ends together so that the strip forms a circle. If you use glue, let the glue dry a little bit before continuing. All other loops: Pass one end of the construction paper through the previous loop. Fasten the ends into the new loop. Continue until the garland is the length you desire. Attach to walls, shelves, doorways with tape or thumbtacks.

Popcorn Garlands

These can be a lot of fun. To make stringing easier you should use popcorn that is one to two days old because "stale" popcorn strings much easier. Be sure to pop new bowls for snacking during stringing! A variation: Add berries, cereal (the kind with holes in the centres like Cheerios are great) popcorn, and seeds for an outdoor garland for the birds and small animals that share your space. Remember it's winter for them and they will appreciate the treat!

You Will Need

Plain popped corn, berries and all the things you will put on the garland

Dental floss or other string like fishing line or thread (extra fine, unwaxed) dental floss it is really hard to break

Large needle (it should be sharp to pierce berries and nuts but if stringing cereal you can just give kids a string or a plastic needle used to sew with yarn CAREFUL HERE!)

Measure out a length of stringing material. 4 to 6 feet (an arm's length) is good; any longer and you have problems with the thread knotting up. If you want a really long garland, tie several together. Thread the needle. Tie a big knot at the far end. An alternative is to leave a couple of inches at the end and tie a loop around the first thing you string on the garland. Pass the needle through the popcorn. If you're too young to handle sharp needles, you can move the popcorn down the length of the floss to the knot while mum or dad uses the needle. Continue stringing until the garland is full. Hang the garland inside or outside. Remember that popcorn tends to "melt" in the rain. Also, if it's an outside garland, the creatures will probably eat everything in a couple of days, so if you put it out early, it won't last... If you are planning the bird-food garland, consider hanging suet (animal fat) from the garland. Birds really like it when it's cold outside. You might also try things like Fruit Loops, Cheerios or other cereals

Flower Garlands

An easy garland may be made by using the heads of flowers such as carnations, mini carnations, mini roses or roses. Simply break the heads off fresh flowers close to the calyx of the flower and thread on strong thin string, wire or dental floss. Hang to dry in a warm place out of direct sunlight and be sure to move the flowers very carefully together as they dry. Depending on how dry an area you use it will take from 5 days to 2 weeks for the garland to dry. Hang as desired from mantles, on the Yule tree, etc.

Ideas For The Kitchen:

This one's a little high in the sugar content, so don't have too much at once - especially before bed time! It is Yule soon though, so we deserve a treat don't you think!?

Sun Shine Sugar Cookies With Orange Frosting

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup white sugar
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 cup shortening
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon distilled white vinegar
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine milk with vinegar to make sour milk. Let stand for 5 minutes. In a large mixing bowl, combine sugars, shortening, eggs, and vanilla. Add flour, soda, baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Stir in sour milk and mix well. NOTE: Dough will be very sticky and hard to handle so be sure to refrigerate either several hours or overnight. Roll on well floured board to ½ inch thickness. Cut with cookie cutters to desired shapes - a sun shape or large round circles are best to signify the sun with large cutters working best.

Bake at 350° Fahrenheit / 180° Celsius / Gas Mark 4 for 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly brown on bottom. Frost with frosting (below) and decorate.

INGREDIENTS

- 3 egg whites
- 4 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
- 1 teaspoon orange extract
- 1 tablespoon orange rind
- 1 tablespoon orange juice

Beat egg whites in clean, large bowl with mixer at high speed until very foamy. Gradually add sugar, rind, orange juice and extract. Beat at high speed until thickened. Spread over cooled cookies or put in a pastry bag with a piping tip attached and pipe onto cookies.

Activities:

THE NEW SITE: Yes, our Petite Pagan site is now up and running! It's still in the early stages, but there are lots to see and do! Check it out at <http://petitepagans.bravehost.com> as soon as you get the chance!

Don't forget guys - ask your parents to send us an Email at Rev.Andi.UK@googlemail.com if you want to join our Petite Pagan Pen Pal scheme - you'll soon be chatting to new friends from all over. If you feel like you can't talk to your non Pagan friends about the things you believe and see, then this is the scheme for you!

Also... Watch this space for details of the Sunday Online Youth Club! We'll start this club very shortly!

There are also plans in the works for live events for all you guys, so make sure you sign up to our clubs as soon as possible to make sure you receive you invites to these events. There'll be Witches' Balls, and Summer Barbecues and all sorts - don't miss out!

Closing Messages:

Anybody wishing to share their stories of trying to juggle their children and their beliefs, or any of you little guys want to send anything (pictures you've drawn maybe?), or for anything related to this Thursday Kidz Komer, please write to Rev.Andi.UK@googlemail.com. As usual, full credit will always be given.

Till next time, brightest and warmest blessings

Tradition Announcements & Adverts

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

Flash Fiction Challenge

Greetings Dearest Readers!

Have you ever dreamed of being a writer? The Correllian Times wants to help make that dream come true with our flash fiction contest!

The flash fiction story must contain exactly 250 words, excluding the title. Not 249 - not 251. 250 words. There should be a beginning, middle, and an end. It should not just be 250 words of whatever comes to your mind. The goal here is to have some kind of twist at the end.

Our challenge to you is this:

Write your own flash fiction before January 01, 2009. The prize for the top Flash Fiction submission will be a feature writer of the month. A picture of you, bio and your short story, also a gift certificate to the Witch School Store.

Please, only 1 entry per person.

Contest begins February 1, 2008 and ends January 01, 2009. Entries become the property of The Correllian Times. We assume no responsibility for illegible, lost, late, misdirected, incomplete, or stolen entries.

ENTRY: Submit an original, flash fiction story of exactly 250 words. Include your name and e-mail address and email to: windy at windy0716@aol.com or CNT_Correllian_Times-owner@yahoogroups.com Please include the words "FLASH FICTION CHALLENGE" in the subject detail. Entries must be original, unpublished and may not have won any prize or award.

LIMIT: Only one entry from an individual will be accepted - no group entries.

ELIGIBILITY: Everyone is eligible to enter! We do however reserve the right to withhold inappropriate materials from publication at our discretion.

Voting on flash fiction:

Each submission will be featured in The Correllian Times. A voting poll will be opened in January 2009 (details to follow). If you appreciate the storytelling in a flash fiction piece, please grant the writer the honor of your vote.

The great part for voters is that each entry shouldn't take much more than a minute. You can read dozens of them in a short period of time. Please support the writers in this challenge by reading as many as you can!

Now... get flashing!

Please be aware should you wish your child to be a member of the sub-group Order of the Magick Quill, then you, yourself first must be, and must remain for the duration of their membership, a member of the parents group.

Both groups will be strictly monitored and the children's group will be moderated at all times.

The Order of Web Weavers Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

Faces of Correllianism
