Enquire Within for Everything (Well Almost!)

Merry Meet Everyone.

To finish the Nine Herbs Charm off we complete the Magical and Shamanic uses of the last four on the list.

Nettle (wergulu)
Sweet Cicely (Chervil)
Fennel and Apple

VI. Nettle (Urtica dioica)

Names: Nessel, Noedl (needle), Wergulu, Ortiga ancha

Nettle Beer (Included for Ritual purposes only of course ☺).

In a large pot combine

2 gallons of cold water,

5 cups of washed, young Nettle leaves,

2 cups each of Dandelion leaves and Horehound or Meadowsweet flowers,

2 ounces of bruised Ginger root.

Boil gently for 40 minutes, then strain

Stir in 1 ½ cups of brown sugar.

When cooled to lukewarm temperature, toast a slice of bread and spread with one cube of fresh yeast.

Float the bread yeast side up on the top of the mixture, cover and allow to ferment for 24 hours.

At the end of this time, open and remove the residue from the top of the beer.

Add 1 tablespoon of cream of tartar and bottle as you would an ale.

Traditional Magical Uses: Associated with Thor, nettles send curses back to their owner. Sprinkled around the house, it keeps evil away; thrown onto a fire, it averts danger; held in the hand, it keeps away ghosts. It is considered a "carnivorous" herb, and is used in purification baths. Burn for exorcisms.

Shamanic Magical Uses: This is the herb of Muspellheim, the burning land, and its power is aggressive defense.

Nettle is an aggressive defender, in the sense that it will not only absorb any harmful magic that is thrown at you or the space, it will strike back if you let it. Due to its difficult nature, it's nearly impossible to handle fresh in ritual, but dried or cooked nettle will lose its sting - physically, anyway. Nettle keeps its rabid-guard-dog energy when burned, or sprinkled dry around an area. You can drink it in tea in preparation for any kind of guardian duty. Sometimes Nettle's aggressive defensiveness will slip over into offensiveness, so it's not a bad herb to use before any duty where you're going to be armed and going into danger.

Because of its association with Muspellheim, Nettle likes being burned, but throwing it into a fire may make the fire burn longer and hotter, perhaps dangerously so. Take care that you have plenty of water around before infusing your little campfire with the power of the Fire World. On the other hand, it can be a symbolic substitute for fire in a place where you aren't allowed to actually light a flame.

VII. Sweet Cicely (Myrrhis Odorata)

Names: British myrrh, garden myrrh, sweet fern, sweet chervil, British chervil

Traditional Magical Uses: It is said that this plant "comforts the heart and increases a lust for life."

Shamanic Magical Use: This is the herb of Alfheim, used to honor the alfar and the fey. It is a pair with Fennel - "felamihigu twa", the mighty two, and they are most often used in conjunction. Tea of Sweet Cicely and Fennel protects against elf-shot; tea to drink or salve rubbed on the afflicted area treats cases of it. Sweet Cicely also aids in the Gift of Sight, in this case the ability to see beauty beneath ugliness, power beneath simplicity, and possibility beneath limitation. It is a useful plant when faced with clients who are living in a swamp of negativity, and you have to find them some hope. Drink in tea or smoke it or eat the seeds (preferably six of them).

VIII: Fennel (Foeniculum vulgare)

Names: No others we can find.

Traditional Magical Uses: Romans believed that serpents sucked the juice of the plant to improve their eyesight after shedding their skins.

Greeks used it to magically lose weight and grow thin. Grown around the house or hung in doors and windows, it is protective. Carried, it wards off ticks and biting bugs. Burn for purification and healing mixtures. In Lacnunga, Fennel is used in charms against all manner of ill-meaning wights, from elves to sorcerers, and even against insanity.

Shamanic Magical Use: This is the herb of Svartalfheim and Nidavellir. Together with Sweet Cicely, it is used to protect against elf-shot, and to treat cases of that remedy. Also like Sweet Cicely, Fennel aids in the Gift of Sight, but it gives the ability to see the darkneses in life - the hidden anger and pain, the inner rot, the creeping deaths. This makes it useful in shamanic client-work when one must discern hard truths about someone's behavior, or find hidden disease or poisoning. Drink in tea or smoke it or eat the seeds (preferably seven of them).

IX. Crabapple (Malus spp.)

Names: Crab, Sour Apple

Traditional Magical Uses: Used for anything an apple can be used for, which is tons of things.

Shamanic Magical Use: This is the plant associated with Vanaheim, the land of the Vanir. It can be used for any fertility charm, whether for people, animals, or the fields, as it carries all the fertility of Vanaheim behind it. It is also a powerful healer, and rubbing crabapple slices on an afflicted body and then burying them in the Earth is a useful healing technique, as the clean, sharp energy of the crabapple absorbs disease energy. It can also be charged with healing energy and eaten. Its wholesomeness makes it an inappropriate carrier for seek-and-destroy spells; use Crabapple as a follow-up after using other plants in this way, in order to strengthen the body's defenses.

And so we come to the end of the Nine Herbs Charm, a fascinating visit into ancient Herbal lore.

I have enjoyed bringing this fascinating information to you.

May you all be well and prosper. Till next time.

Moonleaf's Grimoires

A-Z of Dragons

MEDEA

Origin: Greece

In some versions of the voyage of the Argo, Medea aids Jason in retrieving the Golden Fleece from the grove of Ares.

The fleece was hung on an oak tree, guarded by a huge dragon with horny scales, but Medea invoked Sleep, the conqueror of the gods, to charm him. She also called upon the night-wandering Queen of the world below to strengthen her efforts. The dragon, enchanted by Medea's song, relaxed but his head still threatened to snap them up, and hovered above Jason and Medea.

Medea, chanting a spell, dipped a fresh sprig of juniper in her brew and sprinkled the dragon's eyes with this potent drug. As the magic scent spread around him, sleep fell on him and he lowered his head, and his fearsome jaws, to the ground.

Jason was then able to take the fleece from the tree and they left the sombre grove of Ares.

MERTSEGER

Origin: Egypt

Mertseger's image was painted in tombs in the Valley of the Queens. It has the body of a cobra with feathered bird wings and a sun disk above its head.

MO-O-INANEA

Origin: Hawaii

Mo-o-inanea is known as the 'self-reliant dragon' and is a Mother Goddess with a dual nature, sometimes she would appear as a dragon, and at other times as a woman. All the dragons of Hawaii are descended from her.

Mo-o-inanea brought the dragons, the kupua dragons, from the "Hidden Land of Kane" to the Hawaiian Islands. She was coming to the islands in the migration of the gods from Nuu-mea-lani and Kuai-he-lani to settle. The dragons and other kupuas came as spirit servants of the gods.

For a while this Mo-o-inanea lived with her brothers, the gods, at Waolani, but after a long time there were so many dragons that it was necessary to distribute them over the islands, and Mo-o-inanea decided to leave her brothers and find homes for her numerous family. So she went down to Puunui in the lower part of Nuuanu Valley and there made her home, and it is said received worship from the men of the ancient days. Here she dwelt in her dual nature--sometimes appearing as a dragon, sometimes as a woman.

Very rich clayey soil was found in this place, forced out of the earth as if by geyser action. It was greatly sought in later years by the chiefs who worshipped this goddess. They made the place tabu, and used the clay, sometimes eating it, but generally plastering the hair with it. This place was made very tabu by the late Queen Kaahumanu during her lifetime.

Mo-o-inanea lived in the pit from which this clay was procured, a place called Lua-palolo, meaning pit-of-sticky-clay. After she had come to this dwelling-place the dragons were sent out to find homes. Some became chiefs and others servants, and when by themselves were known as the evil ones. She distributed her family over all the islands from Hawaii to Niihau. Two of these dragon-women, according to the legends, lived as guardians of the pali (precipice) at the end of Nuuanu Valley, above Honolulu. After many years it was supposed that they both assumed the permanent forms of large stones which have never lost their associations with mysterious, miraculous power.

Merry Meet fellow Wiccans to my Wiccan World.

My week has been a really, really good one. I have enjoyed my time with my family, and we have had loads of fun together. There have been lots of walks, and as the dogs are shedding their fur we have to groom them almost everyday. It is the negative side of having dogs, as you have to deal with the loss of fur twice a year. That is something that I gladly take on, as they give so much back everyday. We have had one day with rain, and that day was a real blessing to just relax. I do love the summer rains, as they are so light and showery.

I have noticed that my mother is living with us as spirit, and probably has she lived as a Kitchen Witch at my man's home for about 5 years. When I moved in here, his Kitchen Witch went less active. Also I have sensed her being around us, as she is showing herself when I'm between sleep and awake. There have been times when my male dog has been looking out in the blue, and had trouble to relax when he is trying to lay down. I have then told him that it's his "grand-mother" that is here. When I tell him that, he does ease down. My female dog isn't as affected as my male dog is, about this matter. It can be to the fact that I consider that she is my former dog reborn, and my former dog did see and cuddle with my mother. She is just feeling herself at home, with that she is around us in everything we do.

I have a day of cleaning around the house and that is on Wednesday's. It is not a pleasant chore, but it needs to be done. I take on the cleaning, and my man takes the dogs all that day. If I should have them to think about too, then I would be over stressed. We do part the chore with the dogs, but as he is even more against the cleaning around the house. I do take it as someone has to do it, and it is the best way for us all.

During the weekend we will my "nephew" over, and as always we have so much fun when he is here. He is only 20 years, and by that about half of our own age. We could actually been his parents, that is how "young" we are (I'm 41 years and my man is 39 years). He does love to meet his "uncle" and "aunt", and he is seeking our companionship. I am so happy to have him in our life, and I do hope that he will love us as much as we love him, forever.

I send a lot of energy to all of you readers, and hope that someone need it. A very special energy healing is I sending to our Mother Earth for all that She is given us, unconditionally!

Take care until Monday. Blessed be all of you.

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

The Order of Web Weavers Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
