Veterinary Notes D is for Dignity in Death

This is not an easy topic but it is best to be prepared for this inevitable event. The passing of a loved animal is so very hard, and perhaps even more so if it passes at a young age.

When a loved pet falls ill or becomes infirm through old age there is a natural tendency to want to keep it alive and with you as long as possible. There is nothing wrong in this and I personally believe that life should be preserved as long as possible. There's a very major "but" here. Life should only be preserved as long as the animal still has some quality of life, so long as it is eating, is pleased to see its humans, is interested in its surroundings. It is hard sometimes to see through your desire to keep your pet and to really assess how things are from its side. It doesn't matter if it can't go for long walks, can't climb stairs etc. so long as it is content. You may find you need to make some changes in your daily routine, especially if your pet can no longer "last" through the night and has an accident on the floor. Dogs who have been clean indoors all their lives find this distressing so it is important to reassure them that it doesn't matter. If you can manage it, getting up in the small hours to take them outside quickly, can solve the problem.

When the end comes, you will know this intuitively. Go to your veterinary surgeon if you are not sure. His/her advice will be coloured by how he/she perceives the owner's ability to cope, for taking care of a sick pet is not possible for everyone due to other responsibilities. So be honest in explaining what you can and can't manage. No veterinary surgeon wants to end life prematurely but animal welfare must be the prime consideration.

Although we all have a tendency to avoid such issues it is worth sparing a thought for what comes after before it actually happens and before you are consumed by grief.

Most areas of the UK now do not allow private burial in order to protect water supplies although people do continue to bury animals within their own gardens where they can mourn in peace. However, digging a grave for even a small dog can be exceptionally hard.

If you want more than the mass cremation offered by the veterinary surgeon, there are alternatives offered by the pet crematoria and cemeteries. In these places you may opt for a private burial in their grounds, or request a private cremation and return of the ashes. These places offer a non-denominational chapel for reflection and remembrance and deal with all matters discretely and with compassion.

A-Z of Dragons

NAELYAN

Origin: Magick

The elemental dragon ruler of water. Naelyan oversees the dragons of the seas, springs, lakes, ponds, and rivers. Although he is normally calm, when angered he is quite powerful. Naelyan is said to have a long serpent body with fins and scales.

Water dragons teach us the importance of water, how to heal both body and land, diving deeply into our dreams and emotions. They can also show us past and present lives and how to tap into that knowledge.

NIDHOGG

Origin: Norse legend

Nidhogg, who's name means "Corpse-Tearer" or "Evil Blow", is the dragon who gnaws at the root of the life-tree Yggdrasil that is planted through Niflheim.

He is also assigned two important roles at Ragnarok; he is the one who eats the corpses of the fallen, and the one who will fly overhead during the aftermath.

Nidhogg is also seen as a symbol of chaos.

NYAN

Origin: Burmese and Indian legends

The Nyan is described as being a vast, sinuous, worm-like being that inhabited the estuaries and rivers of Burma and Bengal in India. It would prey upon all large creatures that happened to enter it's domain. It would kill them by encircling their bodies with it's sinuous coils and dragging them under the water to be consumed. It's main meal was elephants, and caused the death of so many that the "Dhammathats", when judging the caused of lost hired work elephants, decreed that there was no liability if they had been taken by a Nyan.

Merry Meet fellow Wiccans to my Wiccan World.

My weekend has been a terrifically great and fun one, and on Sunday my step-daughter came home from Brighton, UK. She has been there on a language-course for 3 weeks; it was by EF Language Courses. She had a lot of things to tell us, and was just bubbling of stories to tell. It was so fun to have her back again, and it made me feel how much I had missed her. She told us about her trips to London and the visit at Beachy Head. Her BBQ at the beach, and a lot of other things they had been doing when she was there. I believe that she has a memory for a life-time, and it will last forever in her mind.

She told me that in Brighton, they have a store that I would have loved to visit. It is a typical store that is screaming my name, sort of speak. It is a store with Tarot-cards, incense, scented candle; practically everything and anything that a Wiccan would like to have. I don't know the name for it, but if I ever go to Brighton I have to visit it. What a wonderful time I would have to look around in that store and I would be very poor and pretty heavy loaded with bags when I walk out of it. *LOL*

The weekend went and passed, and we do have had a very relaxed one. On Saturday when we were out walking the dogs, we met two other dogs and ours had a playful time with them. It was a German Shepherd-mix, and an Old English sheepdog. I have as you probably know already, two German Shepherds. It isn't too often that our dogs have the opportunity to play with others. We do have one another dog they can play with named Thea, she is a German Shepherd-mix. Or if you really would say it; her father is Black-and-tan German Shepherd and her mother is a White German Shepherd. In Sweden they are two different breeds. As we have change the name White German Shepherd, to just White Shepherd.

Today, Monday, we have rain outside and I am only waiting for the big thunder and lightning to come along with it, too. A tiny summer-rain is wonderful and nice, but it doesn't get the air to get any less dense. That would really heavy rain weather be a salvation to, as the Nature needs it, too. Now the water just laid itself on top of the earth-soil and not getting deep down to the tree-roots. The day will tell if it will be one or not. I will be satisfied with whatever it will be.

Take care until Thursday. Blessed be all of you.

Love and Light
Hugz and Blessings

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be

The Order of Web Weavers Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers
