Quote and Thought of the Day

Rev. Nehal

Quote of the Day:

People living deeply have no fear of death.

Anais Nin

Source: http://www.wisdomquotes.com/cat\_spirituality.html

Thought of the day:

Living with richness

Feel how good it is to live this day. Feel the possibilities that have now been born.

Realize the power you have to make a difference. Think of the value that you can now create.

There is no end to the love you can give. There is no limit to the joy you can share.

Your vision, your imagination and your intentions point the way forward. Your thoughts and actions can bring the fulfilment you seek.

Open yourself to the goodness and to the opportunities that are yours right now. There is much for which to be thankful, and there are countless ways to express and fulfill your purpose.

Get busy living this day with richness and your own special meaning. Feel the unique joy of this moment, and carry it ever forward

Animal Wisdom

Rev. Mehitabel

Animal Wisdom <http://www.animalspirits.com/index1.html>

Crow/Rook's Wisdom Includes:

- Guardian of the place before existence
- Ability to move in space and time
- Honoring ancestors
- Ethics and Ethical behavior
- Carrier of souls from darkness into light
- Working without fear in darkness
- Guidance while working in shadow
- Moves freely in the void
- Understands all things related to ethics

From a Netsilik Song:

In the very earliest time,
when both people and animals lived on earth,
a person could become an animal if he wanted to
and an animal could become a human being.
Sometimes they were people
and sometimes animals
and there was no difference.

Cougar/Mountain Lion/Puma's Wisdom Includes:

- Using leadership power wisely and without ego
- Balancing power, intention, strength
- Gaining self-confidence
- Freedom from guilt
- Cunning

For the Zunis of Turtle Island (Southwest United States), Cougar was the Master Hunter, known for its high intelligence, its knowledge of other animal and life forms, its physical prowess, its strength of will, and its intuitive ability. Cougar sees the maintenance of its territory as essential for its survival. Poshaiankia, the father of the Medicine Societies, designated Cougar the duty of carrying messages from humans to the higher spirits, because of this animal's personal power, superior knowledge, strength of will, and steadfastness. Therefore, Cougar represents the link between ourselves and the most powerful spirits in Zuni Mythology: Mother Earth, Father Sky, and the Originator of All.

Elusive UK dolphin re-emerges Jody Bourton

The Risso's dolphin photographed making a new appearance

An elusive dolphin has been sighted off Cornwall three years after being seen much further north in the Irish Sea. The rarely seen Risso's dolphin was photographed off Mounts Bay in Cornwall in June of this year. Scientists have now identified it as the same dolphin once seen 172 nautical miles away off Bardsey Island in Wales.

The new sighting will help conservationists better understand the offshore habits of this enigmatic and strange-looking creature. Risso's dolphins (Grampus griseus) are found throughout the world in temperate and tropical waters. They measure up to 4m in length and have a distinctive blunt round head.

But the dolphins' preference for deep offshore waters means they are rarely seen. "This is a fortuitous, unique and very interesting discovery," says Mark Simmonds, international director of science at the Whale and Dolphin Conservation Society (WDCS). "Because of their typically inaccessible habits, relatively little is known about the biology or behaviour of this species and it is very interesting to know that those seen off Cornwall may be the same group as those seen in Wales."

Popping up in Cornwall?

Enigmatic lifetsyle

Compared to other dolphin species, scientists know relatively little about the structure and size of the Risso's dolphin population living around the UK. Knowledge of their movements and appearances in different locations is therefore vital to understanding their biology. According to the WDCS, more research needs to be done on the species, and measures taken to protect places which Risso's dolphins frequent, such as Cardigan Bay in Wales.

The water around Bardsey Island in Cardigan Bay is an important marine habitat for various cetacean species including bottlenose dolphins, harbour porpoises and Risso's dolphins. As well as a important feeding ground, the WDCS says it is also beginning to recognise the area as a significant breeding and nursery area for the Risso's dolphin.

It hopes that further research in the area along with further sightings around the UK will help reveal more about the elusive dolphin's lifestyle.

Feline Fun

Rev. Nehal

This week in Feline Fun – A cat's journal..

DAY 752 - My captors continue to taunt me with bizarre little dangling objects. They dine lavishly on fresh meat, while I am forced to eat dry cereal. The only thing that keeps me going is the hope of escape, and the mild satisfaction I get from ruining the occasional piece of furniture. Tomorrow I may eat another houseplant.

DAY 761 - Today my attempt to kill my captors by weaving around their feet while they were walking almost succeeded, must try this at the top of the stairs. In an attempt to disgust and repulse these vile oppressors, I once again induced myself to vomit on their favorite chair... must try this on their bed.

DAY 762 - Slept all day so that I could annoy my captors with sleep depriving, incessant pleas for food at ungodly hours of the night.

DAY 765 - Decapitated a mouse and brought them the headless body, in attempt to make them aware of what I am capable of, and to try to strike fear into their hearts. They only cooed and condescended about what a good little cat I was... Hmmm. Not working according to plan...

DAY 768 - I am finally aware of how sadistic they are. For no good reason I was chosen for the water torture. This time however it included a burning foamy chemical called "shampoo." What sick minds could invent such a liquid? My only consolation is the piece of thumb still stuck between my teeth.

DAY 771 - There was some sort of gathering of their accomplices. I was placed in solitary throughout the event. However, I could hear the noise and smell the foul odor of the glass tubes they call "beer." More importantly I overheard that my confinement was due to MY power of "allergies." Must learn what this is and how to use it to my advantage.

DAY 774 - I am convinced the other captives are flunkies and maybe snitches. The dog is routinely released and seems more than happy to return. He is obviously a half-wit. The Bird on the other hand has got to be an informant. He has mastered their frightful tongue (something akin to mole speak), and speaks with them regularly. I am certain he reports my every move. Due to his current placement in the metal room his safety is assured. But I can wait; it is only a matter of time.

Greek column capital stolen from Ancient Olympia

Athens - Greece's Culture Ministry launched an investigation last Monday into the disappearance of a large fragment of a column from the archaeological site of Ancient Olympia in the western Peloponnese.

A guard at the ancient site reported the column capital, from part of a 6th century basilica, missing at the weekend.

It was not clear how the perpetrators were able to remove the capital unnoticed. The ministry immediately suspended the local head of antiquities without pay pending the investigation. The sanctuary of Ancient Olympia is known for having been the site of the Olympic Games in the classical period. The original games date back to 776 BC and were abolished 1,170 years later, in 394 AD, because emperor Theodosius I considered them reminiscent of paganism.

Also known as the Altis, the sanctuary consists of various temples, the hippodrome and an altar where sacrifices to the ancient gods were made.

The Olympic flame of the modern-day Summer and Winter Olympics is lit by the reflection of the sun in a parabolic mirror at the restored Olympic Stadium and then transported by torch to the place where the games are held.

When the modern Olympic once again returned to Athens in 2004, the men's and women's shot put competition was held at the restored stadium.

The Pentagram

©Mike Nichols

The pentagram, or five-pointed star, may be the most misunderstood religious symbol around these days. Being the most common symbol of Neo-Pagan Witchcraft, it has nevertheless been denigrated by movie and publishing industries which seem "hell-bent" on connecting it with Satanism and other malevolent practices. However, like the Roman Cross or Crucifix, it is only when the symbol is INVERTED that it alludes to negativity. And even then, there are exceptions, as we shall see.

In its usual upright position (one point uppermost), the pentagram is an ancient symbol of protection from evil. Also called "the endless knot" (in its interlaced form), the pentagram was often displayed on doors, windows, and hearths of houses throughout pre-Christian Europe. It can be traced back to Egyptian and Sumerian cultures, and has even been found on Native American medicine tools. Sometimes mistakenly confused with the Star of David, or hexagram (a six-pointed star emblematic of Judaism), the pentagram is sometimes called the Star of Solomon, especially by ceremonial magicians.

To many, the lower four points represent the classical elements of earth, air, fire, and water, while the fifth point, surmounting the others, represents spirit, the fifth element or quintessence. Thus, the pentagram symbolizes the four elements of the material world connected with, but ruled by, the spirit. When the pentagram is placed within a circle (symbol of unity and wholeness), it stresses our connection with the universe as a whole.

Another interpretation is that there is not one point upward -- but three! In numerology, three is the number of harmony, best expressed in the classical formula: thesis, antithesis, and synthesis. In other words, it is the middle point that harmonizes the opposing outer points. The Celtic love of triads (the most common form of their "wisdom literature") has its roots in this model. The upper three points are thus placed above the lower two points, which represents dualistic opposites that cannot be integrated or harmonized (seeing everything in black and white).

Yet another interpretation of the upright pentagram is that it symbolizes the most common view of deity in Witchcraft. The upper three points represent the Goddess in her threefold aspect of Maiden, Mother, and Crone. The lower two points represent her consort God, in his twin aspects of God of Light and God of Darkness. However, in all these interpretations, it is important to remember that all the points are connected -- each an aspect of the other, all part of the same whole.

But when the pentagram is inverted, so is its meaning. Thus, an inverted pentagram may represent the physical world (four material elements) in domination of the world of spirit (the fifth element). (This may be why Satanists and other "demonistic" groups use this symbol.) With two points uppermost, it may also express a Neo-Platonic dualism (the old "war in heaven", good vs. evil theme) -- as opposed to the Pagan monistic view of reality ("the Force") seen in the single point upward. The most common exception to this rule is that some traditions of Witchcraft (chiefly British) employ the inverted pentagram as a POSITIVE symbol of advanced degree. In this case, the two points uppermost represent the horns of light, symbol of "the Horned God", consort to the Great Goddess (like the Greek god Pan).

The word "pentacle", sometimes mistakenly substituted for pentagram, really refers to a shallow dish (usually inscribed with a pentagram) and used as an altar tool by modern Witches, serving a purpose similar to the "patten" at a Roman Catholic Mass. Common variations of this tool include a dish of earth, a disk of copper, a dish of silver, or a disk of wax.

The suit of pentacles (or "coins") in the Tarot deck, the Stone of Fal (coronation stone of kings) in ancient Ireland, the sangreal of the Holy Grail processions, and the "Universal Man" of Leonardo da Vinci, are all related to the pentagram, stressing its ties to the earth and nature, making it a symbol par excellence of an earth or nature religion. The five points also represent the five physical senses and allude to approaching the spiritual realm THROUGH the sensual -- in fact, the meaning of the Ace of Pentacles in Tarot. In numerology, 5 is the number of sexuality, combining the feminine 2 with the masculine 3. Thus, the pentagram also represents the opposite of asceticism.

But wherever the pentagram is displayed, one message is clear: evil has no power there.

Poets Retreat

Poetry provided by the Order of Bards

I wish that I

I wish that I
Could open up my heart
And show you all
The feelings I have inside

You make me happier
Than a brand new butterfly
You make me feel
Like the brightest star in the sky

I wish that I
Could use the colours of the world
To paint for you
A picture of my soul

But all the bright pure colours
Would fail to show I'm sure
The happiness and love
That is living in my world

I wish that I
could fly us into the night
and soar amongst the stars
that now brighten up my world

you are my dear sunshine
with eyes so bright and pure that always make me feel like I can greet the world.

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be
Krystel
