Places of Power

Vladimir Antonov

Now we are going to discuss a very interesting ecological phenomenon, which has a great significance for spiritual work. This is so called places of power.

Places of power are geographic zones, sometimes large, sometimes small, which possess energy fields that are of significance for people.

It should be noted right away that there is a similar and sometimes closely related phenomenon -- energy fields created by plants and technical devices (transformers, high voltage lines and so on).

Places of power may be found on the surface of the Earth, underground (for example, in the subway), above the surface, as well as in water bodies.

The nature of the majority of places of power can be explained as follows. The Earth (as a planet) is a multidimensional structure. In it, all manifestations of the multidimensional space are present -- from the physical matter -- to the plane of the Creator. Depending on the structure of the crystal lattice of the Earth as a whole or of some parts of its crust, the energy fields of certain spatial dimensions in certain places may dominate or, on the contrary, may be manifested weaker. So places of power look like "holes" in dense spatial dimensions "filled" with the energy of a certain subtle energy layer.

According to Juan Matus, places of power are subdivided into positive and negative ones. To the first category He assigned places which give their energy to people, to the second -- places which take energy.

However our experience demonstrates that the first ones are not necessarily favorable and the latter -- unfavorable. For example, there are places of power that take away energy, and this can be used for purging the organism of coarse, pathogenic energies, that is for healing. And vice versa, some places of power possessing excessive energy are detrimental rather than beneficial if their energy is coarse or contains undesirable informational characteristics, inducing, for example, anxiety, depression and so on.

This is why it is better to subdivide places of power into positive and negative ones according to the criterion of their objective significance. In this case places with an excess of unfavorable energies belong to the category of negative places of power.

It is necessary to point out that some authors sometimes try to define places of power through the terms abnormal or geopathic zones. This is not right. They are not "abnormal", i.e. "incorrect". All the more, neither fits all places of power the term geopathic zones, that is "inherent to the Earth zones that cause diseases".

Places of power can be found with the help of divining rods and pendulums. But, in contradistinction to a developed consciousness these tools provide very poor information about this phenomenon. With the help of a divining rod or pendulum one can only say that here is a place of power, only that "there is something over here". The biolocation method in this case is akin to the situation when a poor-sighted person tries to determine whether it is light or dark here. But a person with a normal vision perceives the whole spectrum of colors, and not only colors but also the emotional quality of their combinations and iridescence, and sees life in them! This is the difference between mechanical, instrumental determination of the energy gradients on places of power and perceiving them directly with one's own organism through attuning oneself as a developed consciousness with their multidimensional manifestations.

Places of power are, truly, multifarious!

There are places that selectively activate anahata, or vishudha, or the front meridian, giving us bliss.

And there are places causing "hypertrophied" sense of one's "I" -- inflated and arrogant! One may show to the disciples how disgusting such an "I" is -- so that they learn not to be like this.

There are also places that cause "unmotivated" joy, laughter in everyone present there.

Also there are places of power depleting people energetically; this can result in "dead" tiredness and diseases if one settles there to live or just to take a rest.

On other places, one can heal oneself, quickly restore one's strength.

About 50 kilometers from Saint Petersburg, there is a negative place of power approximately 100 meters in diameter inducing a strong feeling of sadness and loneliness. Unfortunately this place covers a part of a village. The destiny of the families settled here is pitiable: on this place it is not possible to experience any joy of communication with each other...

Still other places of power induce anxiety, fear. A person who understands the reason can make just a few steps backwards. But ignorant one easily can fall a prey to mystical horror.

There also exist places that cause aggressiveness, the state of "drunken animosity". And so forth. (Other examples can be found in our book Ecopsychology).

So we see that this knowledge can make the life of each one of us easier, while ignorance can result in a lot of unnecessary difficulties.

Knowledge allows one to use negative places of power for good. For example, we used in our work the place of "loneliness and sadness" mentioned above for cognizing the state of solitariness. Not loneliness of one's body in isolation from other people but the state of being solitary in front of the Creator -- that is detachment from everything earthly, when I remain with Him face-to-face in the Ocean of the multidimensional universe.

Therefore, negative places of power can be subdivided into two groups:

- 1) those draining the energy needed by the organism;
- 2) those creating undesirable psychical states.

Now let us list the variants of positive places of power.

The first group is the places of power containing a surplus of favorable energy, which they easily give to people. In some cases this energy can be more subtle, in others -- less subtle. Sometimes there is a narrow range of energies which differ by the criterion of "subtlety-coarseness", sometimes -- a wide range. The energy, which is not sufficiently subtle, can be used by means of moving it around the microcosmic orbit and sublimating it this way into subtler energies. And these subtler energies can be used for filling the organism, and thus for performing crystallization. That is the energy for crystallization can be obtained not only from food: one can get it directly from space on places of power.

The second group of positive places of power consists of those which activate and develop certain energy structure of the organism (a chakra, a meridian, or something else), and produce thus useful activation of the emotional-volitional or intellectual function of the organism.

In the third group there are places of power making a consciousness to assume certain form (or, in the language of Juan Matus, shifting the location of the assemblage point). Such their quality allows one to train mobility, "elasticity" of the consciousness, developing oneself as a consciousness -- active and strong.

Places of power of the fourth group shift the consciousness (provided it is sufficiently developed) into a certain spatial dimension. This is also a kind of gymnastics for consciousness. Juan Matus said that prior to starting really large, serious work, a seeker has to shift the assemblage point tens of thousands times. The consciousness has to become mobile, moving easily along the whole scale of the range of emanations within the multidimensional space, become able of acting at any distances. This is what a developed consciousness is!

The fifth group corresponds to the places of power which imprint in themselves the state of a person (or people). Such are, for example, places of power formed in places of meditations or on graves of spirituality highly advanced people.

And there are places of power which are working sites of Divine Teachers. (See more details about this in our book Ecopsychology).

Places of power exist everywhere. I came across them in Moscow, Saint Petersburg, Warsaw, Prague, in towns, in woods, in swamps, in mountains.

... A question may naturally arise: how to find them?

The first thing to do is to move the consciousness out of the head; the mind has to be silent.

Secondly, during this we have to search for God, the Path to Him rather than solving our earthly problems.

Thirdly, in the beginning of such practice the following technique may prove helpful. Let us feel ourselves dressed in wide, bell-formed skirts, which start right from the neck. Then fill the space under this skirt with ourselves. Draw also the head of the consciousness under the skirt. And in this state roll easily along the surface of the Earth, among fields, meadows, woods...

This is it -- a wonderful lesson in the ecology of multidimensional space!

Ecology is the science that studies relationships of an organism with its environment. There is ecology of plants, ecology of animals, ecology of human being. The task of the latter, in the higher sense, is to establish the Harmony of each person with the entire environment, including other people, air, water, all forms of life around, God. The art of psychic self-regulation as a powerful means of such harmonization may be considered as one of the practical methods of the ecology of human being.

Seriously Stuck? Blast Those Thought Forms!

Donna Cunningham, MSW

What I began to fathom recently, as Pluto entered Capricorn for a 14-year stay, is that we all need to address the negative thought forms that hold us back now so that they don't crystallize into a solid brick wall. If you're not familiar with thought forms, they're near-solid objects in our energy fields that we create by thoughts and beliefs that we repeat over and over until they manifest in the outer world.

When these self-fulfilling prophecies come true, they're reinforced—"See, I was right!" Ultimately, they lodge in what's called the causal body—an outer layer of the energy field that attracts people, situations, and events into our lives. This ancient teaching is the basis of many modern metaphysical works like The Secret.

We can, of course, create positive thought forms through repetitive positive thoughts and beliefs, and that's part of what sustains us when we meet obstacles. In the absence of negative thought forms, positive thinking can have remarkable results. In areas where we're blocked, however, many of us have thunk positive thoughts until we're blue in the face without results. We've visualized, we've affirmed, and we've chanted, but nothing budes, and we're left feeling like metaphysical morons.

If so, you aren't among the metaphysically challenged, it's just that most of these teachings start in the middle rather than at the very beginning. In order to change a negative reality, you need to go back a step. The first stage in upping your manifestation quotient is to identify and nullify negative thought forms. Listen to your own thoughts about key areas of your life where you've been blocked—they're the very opposite of hopeful. They're thoughts like these:

"I'll never be able to find a job I like."

"I'm not qualified, and anyway the interviewer won't like me."

"What do I have to say that anyone would listen to?"

"I'm just never going to find somebody to love me."

And so on—listen to your own thoughts about those stuck areas. They'll seem familiar. You may have been wearing them into a groove for years, even for most of your life. Or maybe you've had a bad setback a while ago, and you've lost confidence. (For setbacks, try the Bach flower remedy Gentian, available at most health food stores.) When repeated enough times, they crystallize into negative thought forms that keep on attracting failure, rejection, or toxic people and situations into your life. Each time a self-fulfilling prophecy occurs, the thought form grows more solid.

Capricorn is the sign of building structures and realizing long-term goals by consistent, disciplined focus and practical actions. Now that Pluto is in that sign, take time to identify places in your life that you're stuck. Listen to your thoughts about that area and let your ears perk up when you hear words like "never" or "always." When you find a familiar thought or set of thoughts that represent a deal breaker for your goals, put feelers out into your energy field--this may be a thought form.

There are a series of articles about thought forms and how to address them on my blog under the category "Metaphysics," but ultimately you're the expert in how to demolish your own. After all, you built them!! Make up a method—maybe you aim an ultraviolet ray gun at it, maybe your angel carries it away, maybe a rocket ship blows it into the sun, or maybe your favorite superhero blasts it to smithereens. In this interval of heightened healing and manifestation powers that accompany Pluto in Capricorn, seize the day and clear unwanted thought forms out of your life.

SAMHAIN

Recipes

Cranberry-Pumpkin Cookies

Makes soft, cake like cookies.

Ingredients:

½ cup butter or margarine, softened

1 cup white sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla extract

1 egg

1 cup pureed cooked pumpkin

2 ¼ cups all-purpose flour

2 teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon baking soda

½ teaspoon salt

1 cup cranberries

1 teaspoon ground cinnamon

1 tablespoon grated orange peel

½ cup chopped nuts

Directions:

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. Grease cookie sheets.

In a large mixing bowl, cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in vanilla, egg and pumpkin.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and cinnamon and add to mixture.

Mix until well blended.

Cut the cranberries in half and stir into mixture. Add orange peel and nuts.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto cookie sheets. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Popcorn Balls

These are fun to make and fun to give—wrap them in orange tinted cellophane or clear wrap and tie with a ribbon. This makes about 18 three inch balls. Unless you have a really large pot, make these in two batches.

½ cup solid margarine

2-10oz packages of large, white marshmallows

orange paste food coloring

Melt margarine in a large pot. Add marshmallows, turning to cover with oil well, and cooking slowly to melt completely. Stir in tiny amounts of food coloring with a toothpick until the color appeals to you. When completely melted, remove from heat. Then:

20 cups popped, fresh plain or colored popcorn (don't use microwave corn)

1 cup candy corn (optional)...stir in popcorn and candy, covering well with melted marshmallow until marshmallow turns to stringy threads. Let sit a few minutes.

Extra butter...butter all popcorn ball-maker's hands liberally, and begin to pack mixture into balls. Adults mind that the mixture can still be quite hot, so put aside a pan in which to set balls down if children find them too hot. Let balls thoroughly cool, then wrap them up!

Bread of the Dead

Serve with milk or hot chocolate, and offer some to your departed ancestors, so they may breathe in its essence and be nourished, before you gobble it up yourself!

2 cups flour

2 teaspoons baking powder

2 Tablespoons sugar

¼ t. salt

1 egg

2/3 cup milk

¼ cup vegetable oil

10 drops anise extract

Mix all of the above until smooth. Heat the oven to 400 degrees and grease a cookie sheet.

With clean hands, mold the dough into a round shape with a knob on the top (which will be a skull) or into smaller round shapes, animals, faces or angels. Place dough on cookie sheet.

¼ cup brown sugar

1 T. flour

1 t. ground cinnamon

1 T. melted butter

Mix together brown sugar, flour, cinnamon and melted butter for the topping. Sprinkle topping on dough and bake for 20 to 25 minutes. When cool, decorate the skull shaped knobs, animals or faces with icing sugar to make eyes, nose and mouth.

Samhain Chant

“Fire red, summer’s dead,
Yet shall it return.
Clear and bright in the night,
Burn, fire, burn!

Dance the ring, luck to bring,
When the year’s aturning.
Chant the rhyme at Hallowstime,
When the fire’s burning.

Fire glow, vision show
Of the heart’s desire,
When the spell’s chanted well
Of the witching fire.

Dance the ring, luck to bring,
When the year’s aturning.
Chant the rhyme at Hallowstime,
When the fire’s burning.

Fire spark, when nights are dark,
Makes our winter’s mirth.
Red leaves fall, earth takes all,
Brings them to rebirth.

Dance the ring, luck to bring,
When the year’s aturning.
Chant the rhyme at Hallowstime,
When the fire’s burning.

Fire fair, earth and air,
And the heaven’s rain,
And blessed be, and so may we,
At Hallowstide again.

Dance the ring, luck to bring,
When the year’s aturning.
Chant the rhyme at Hallowstime,
When the fire’s burning.”

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be
Krystel
