Witch School leaving Rossville Seeking a new future in 'The Witch City', Salem, Mass

Rossville, IL (October 26th, 2009) -- Witch School Headquarters are closing in the Rossville-Hoopeston area of Illinois. Witch School settled from Chicago to Central Illinois in 2003, and became the center of protest by many of the Christian Churches in the area. A well-documented spiritual battle has been waged for the last six years, with open hostilities and long quiet truces by various Christian factions. Simply put, this has not allowed Witch School the staff and resources needed to keep up with their growth. On Halloween, Witch School Rossville will close permanently, and Witch School will be moving its HQ to 'The Witch City', Salem Mass.

According to Ed Hubbard, Founder and CEO of Witch School, "The Churches are not the cause, they are a symptom of the problems in rural areas, and that is the lack of useful educational resources. While the United States Urban areas have been undergoing a communications and information revolution, the Digital Divide between those areas and places like Rossville IL, which has very few Internet carriers, all very expensive, and very undependable, has continued to grow. Our Internet provider has terrible customer service, and been down as much as a week at a time, on a regular basis, and we use the same one the city government uses. Also attempts to provide computer training and employment saw pressure on participants to quit and boycott the business. The Churches believing that they were 'protecting' the community have rejected and blocked several attempts by Witch School to improve Internet Service in the area. So it has become necessary to find a place where we can get the online access and staff we need to continue our growth."

Grown they have. At the beginning of September when they began their 9th year in Education, it was announced that WitchSchool.com became the most trafficked Pagan website in the world according to Independent Ranking site, Alexa.com, an Amazon Company. Since they began Witch School has added many new features, and tons of information to provide to the public, and relevant information for even the most experienced practitioner. The Witch School site has evolved from a simple school to a global educational community with hundreds of thousands of participants in as many as 147 countries worldwide. The number of features are truly too many to list, but includes a .Library, Downloadable Book of Shadows Pages, Booklets, a Nightly Radio Show called 'Pagans Tonight'; over 500 self produced Magick TV videos, as well as many community videos and photos, group listings for everywhere in the world, and extensive blogs, forums, multiple chat rooms, and a community dedicated to providing anyone, anywhere, anytime a magickal education. It becomes easy to forget they have a core education with over 100 online classes, which provide an excellent basic education in Wicca, Magick, and metaphysics.

"It's heartbreaking to leave the area, my home," says Rev. Don Lewis, Co-founder of Witch School, and Chancellor of the Correllian Nativist Tradition, "I really wanted this to work in Vermillion county, where I and the Tradition were born. My family has been here a long time. Unfortunately, I have a commitment to the whole tradition and to the school to do the best possible job I can in teaching and providing spiritual support. That commitment, a covenant between myself and our members to provide a lifetime of education, leads me to be aware that Central Illinois is not a place where we can continue to build our community, virtually at this time. We have to move in order to continue to survive and grow to fill the needs of our members."

However, this will not be without adding to the anguish of the local Rossville-Hoopston community as five jobs currently, and at one time as many as 11 jobs, are now leaving the area. It is unclear how many, if any of Witch School's employees will relocate to The Witch City. This also forces local Correllian and Pagan groups to scramble for new locations to practice and teach. It will be a more closeted community once Witch School departs, as the churches believe they have been rewarded for their continued prayers, and will deepen their discrimination against local Pagans. There is little question that the local Central Illinois Pagan Community will be dramatically impacted by this move. Witch School has stated that it will do everything in its power to continue working for a more open community everywhere including Central Illinois.

So as Halloween arrives, also known as Samhain or Witches New Year, Witch School plans to create a new future, leaving Rossville-Hoopston behind, and hoping for a better day in Salem, Mass: 'The Witch City'.

Find out about their plan at WitchSchool.com

ALL RELIGIONS PRACTICE WITCHCRAFT - PAGANISM IS THE ONLY ACCESS TO GOD

NAIWU OSAHON

Source: <http://www.modernghana.com/GhanaHome/>

There is too much religion in the developing world right now, too much pre-occupation with spiritually false and ineffective money spinning religious enterprises of con-artists, especially in the hapless African world of abject poverty and ignorance; resulting in the colossal loss or waste of precious and productive energy and time that all of mankind could have jointly harnessed to move civilization significantly forward.

We spend the better part of the day and several vigil nights weekly, on our knees or butts praying endlessly and tirelessly to no avail because that is not how spirituality works. We are the most wretched people on earth. Our society is riddled with unmitigating violence; entrenching culture of dare-devil robbery and filthy and shameless corruption; dearth of basic infrastructure and degrading, decaying, primitive unnurturing, unfulfilling environment, because we are applying spirituality wrongly and we are not using our heads. We are wasting too much time on our knees instead of on our feet to work.

Praying in the name of any God is not enough. If humans, who do not live in the same house or the same street or the same town or country, want to talk to each other, they do not begin to pray or shout or use loudspeakers in their rooms or churches or mosques and expect the other to hear them miles away; they use the telephone. Does it even make sense or show respect that you should be shouting in the name or presence of your God or Gods, unless they are deaf? That could be a reason they are not responding.

Witchcraft is the telephone link with the Gods and the spirit world. The only link, and it is the highest level of science for man. How to effectively use it to engage the Gods is one of the greatest secrets of the ages. The secret is kept from most of mankind because such power could be misused in the wrong hands. To engage a God or deity to respond to you, you must do a number of things pleasing to the God. You must first knock (and knocking entails giving up something dear to the seeker of favours); and receive the response to enter the realm of the deity in question, before making your requests in form of praying or crying.

To enter the computer Internet, for instance, we first switch on the electricity mains, then the computer, then the communication gadget to engage some special engines (or facilitators) such as Yahoo, Hotmail, Excel, Google and so on. These engines are the energizers of the Gods or deities such as Maat, Sango, Olokun, Yahweh etc. Surfing on the computer Internet to check out websites and send e-mails, is the equivalence of praying, meditating, asking, begging, wishing and crying. The practical activities of getting on, sending and receiving messages on the Internet, equate with witchcraft. Witchcraft is the Spiritual Internet link and information and action processing catalyst of human interaction with the Gods.

All organized religions deceive followers that witchcraft is all evil but the elite of these religions are soaked in the practice. It is impossible to engage the Gods without some formalities that involve abstinence, meditation, fasting and ritual sacrifices. Sacrifices are paramount and sometimes include blood of some sort and so on. Christ was supposed to have sacrificed his blood for mankind so his devotees make a meal of his flesh and blood with bread and wine in communion.

Another lie by modern religions is their claim to worship only one God. What the Christian and Islamic religions did was to pick Yahweh from the ten Jewish intermediary gods and substitute the remaining nine: Hokhmah, Binah, Hesed, Gevurah, Tifereth, Netsah, Hod, Yesod and Malkuth with Jesus, Muhammad, dozens of Saints, Anubis, Angels etc.

Yahweh is only one of the ten Jewish attributes of En-Sof. Yahweh is a tribal deity and claims to hate Africans and others (i.e. Amorites, Philistines, Canaanites, Jebusites, Hittites). He threatened to wipe all of us off the face of the earth for his children, the Israelites. So, when someone tells you 'God bless you,' be weary and ask which God, which deity? It is important for all religious people, particularly African Christians and Muslims, to understand this. Yahweh is a Jewish tribal god and not the ultimate source of spirituality, which is Tu-SoS or the Jewish En-Sof.

Tu-SoS (The ultimate Source of Spirituality), or En-Sof (in Judaism), is not a God or spirit but an energy source and is not worshipped anywhere in the world. Modern Africans, like their ancestors, do not worship Tu-SoS, which they variously call Olodumare, Osanobua, Chukwu. The Jews too do not worship En-Sof. The Jews, like the Africans, worship the intermediary Gods. African ancestors created all the initial intermediary Gods and Deities known to man. African ancient intermediary Gods include El, Thoth, Auser, Auset, Heru, Maat, Anubis etc., and in modern times, names such as Sango, the God of lightening, masculinity, fearlessness and hard work; Olokun, the Goddess of beauty, arts, culture, poetry, love, marriage, femininity and fertility; Orunmila, the God of wisdom, scholarship and learning; Obatala, the God of creativity and Ogun, the God of Iron and technology.

The secondary intermediary gods or deities include Yahweh and the other Jewish adaptations of the original African intermediary Gods, and the ethnic gods and goddesses with a variety of names around the world today: Apollo, Venus, Jupiter, Adonis, Minerva, Diana, Brahman etc.

The adapted gods and goddesses are not as spiritually potent as the original African spiritual Gods. If you go to any of the original, undiluted, African spiritual Gods, such as Sango, to make a request, the deity or Sango, would give you conditions to fulfil there and then. You would not have to go home and come back for Sango's response, and if you meet the conditions set, Sango would oblige you with your request. It is as simple as that and it could happen within minutes of your request. If, on the other hand, you go to the diluted or adapted spiritual Gods like the Christian and Islamic Yahweh, to table a request, you don't get an answer right away. In fact, you could be talking to a brick wall. You keep praying, begging, and fasting, hoping that someone is listening.

A good example of this is the Irish priest who assembled a dozen barren, middle-aged, married women and passed six of them on to Baba-maven to use his witchcraft to alter their faith while he prayed for the other six. The priest decided the choice of candidates and allocated them. After six weeks of the experiment, five of Baba's six candidates were pregnant for their husbands while the six the priest prayed and fasted intensely and fervently for, remained barren. If by any chance something favourable eventually happens, perhaps months or even years after you first made your request to Yahweh or the other secondary gods, you give the credit (or glory as it is often claimed), to Yahweh. But when a tsunami happens in your life, you blame your sinful self or the devil and not Yahweh for it. Your relationship with Yahweh is based purely on chance, and that is not how spirituality works. Spirituality can be asked and even commanded to make things happen although often at a price.

Quote & Thought of the Day

Rev. Nehal

Quote of the Day:

Our lack of compassion stems from our inability to see deeply into the nature of things.

Lama Surya Das

Source: http://www.wisdomquotes.com/cat_spirituality.html

Thought of the day:

Chosen feelings

The situation does not create the feeling. You create whatever feeling you wish to feel in each particular situation.

Why are some people happy and other people sad in the same circumstance? Because that is how they have chosen to be.

When you respond the same way often enough it becomes a habit that you follow without even thinking. In this way your feelings come to seem automatic, even though they never have to be.

The way you feel was at some point a conscious choice. And you can choose to change, or let go of, or expand what you feel, or to create an entirely new feeling.

The connection between the moment and the feeling is made by you. Always, you can feel the feelings that serve you best, the ones that pull you toward true and magnificent fulfillment.

Your feelings profoundly influence the life you experience, and those feelings are yours to choose in any moment. Choose the ones that give real power to the purpose that lives within you.

Man carried weapons for pagan religion

By James Colasanti

A MAN carried a police-style baton, nunchucks and a ceremonial throwing knife because of his religious beliefs, a court heard.

James Fry, 22, of Oakfield Road, Benfleet, admitted to carrying the baton in Ferry Road, Benfleet, when he appeared at Basildon Crown Court yesterday.

Fry was also charged with two further counts of possession of an offensive weapon, after being found with two sets of nunchucks and the knife at the same time on February 14 this year.

But those charges were dropped after the Crown Prosecution Service accepted he brought them out of the house by mistake, and owns them because they are part of his following of the pagan religion.

Lynne Shirley, defending, said: “There is no suggestion he brandished these items, or he intended to use them dangerously. They are important to him as they are part of his paganism.

“He also uses the nun-chucks to strengthen his wrists.”

Recorder David Holborn said the court would take possession of the baton, but agreed to let Fry keep the other items after inspecting them and concluding they were more ornamental than dangerous.

Fry has adult attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder, which makes it difficult for him to concentrate and leaves him particularly susceptible to stressful situations.

He has no previous convictions and was released on unconditional bail.

Fry was told to return to Chelmsford Crown Court on November 16 for sentencing, following an assessment of his mental health and the compilation of a pre-sentence report.

Feline Fun

Rev. Nehal

This week in Feline Fun – How far will your kitty go for cheese??

I had adopted two kittens the beginning of this year. One of them, my female Amanda really likes cheese for snacks. She quickly figured out where I kept "her" cheese. I was talking to her one day when she came up and jumped in my lap. She knows what "cheese" is. I asked her if she wanted some. Of course she gave me her please mom can I have some before I die meow. I told to her to come on, so she hopped off my lap and headed for the kitchen and stood at the fridge and looked at me. I asked her again if she wanted some cheese. She gave me the same meow.

I opened the door (dummy me didn't close it) and sat the cheese on the counter, grabbed the knife and cut her off a piece. I turned around put the cheese back in the fridge and closed the door. I washed off the knife stuck it in the dish drain and looked down to see where she was. I didn't see her. I called out to her and told her I had her cheese. No answer and she was nowhere to be seen.

I figured she went into the den and was waiting for me to come back in there with her treat. I went to look for her. She wasn't there, so I looked down the hall towards the litterbox. Didn't see her there. I heard a noise in the kitchen and I went to see if she was in there and I looked over her. I looked around in there and saw nothing she wasn't under the breakfast table, on the bottom shelf of the microwave cart, or on my bakers rack.

About that time I heard a noise again. I turned around and listened to see if I could hear it again. I did. Something in my fridge was clanking the bottles together on my door shelves. I opened the door and saw Amanda. She wandered out of the fridge and looked up at me and meowed. I caught out of the corner of my eye the cheese in the fridge. She had pulled the saran wrap off the cheese and had taken her a few bites. I sat her on the stool at the breakfast table and gave her the cheese I cut off for her. I grabbed a Ziploc bag and wrote on it cats only and stuck the cheese in the bag, put it in the fridge, checked to see if any cats were in it there, and closed the door.

I have never had a cat climb into the fridge before. I was surprised. I have learned my lesson though. Look before you close the door since I have a cheese crazy cat who will stop at nothing to get her cheese. That has been the only incident and attempt, so I think it's safe to say she learned her lesson too.

Samhain

Samhain Meditation

Prepare yourself for meditation in the usual way. Ensure that your mind, and the space you occupy, are clear of any negative or unpleasant influences. Sit comfortably and relaxed. Close your eyes. Take a few deep breaths to cleanse your body and mind of everyday cares and concerns.

You are sitting at a table, with other people, in the communal meeting hall of a large village. The tables are loaded with delicious food and drink of all kinds. The hall is warm with the heat from a fire in the centre of the room.

An elderly, distinguished looking man rises and says a few words to the assembled company. Then everybody starts eating, drinking, and chatting happily to one another. The elderly man moves to the door and opens it. It is dark outside, and a little chill, autumn air wafts into the hall, but the cold is kept at bay by the roaring fire.

The man speaks again. "On this night, the night of the dead, we invite you who have passed beyond the veil to join us in our celebration. Come of your own free will, and be of good cheer, for you will find comfort and friendship here."

Repeat these words silently in your own head. "On this night, the night of the dead, we invite you who have passed beyond the veil to join us in our celebration. Come of your own free will, and be of good cheer, for you will find comfort and friendship here."

The man returns to his place and sits down. He joins in the party with everybody else.
[Pause for four or five minutes; silence or quiet music]

Look around the hall. Is there anyone here who was not present at the start of the feast? Go up to them, make their acquaintance, get to know them. See what they have to say.
[Pause for ten to fifteen minutes; silence or quiet music]

The time has now passed in which the dead might communicate with us, and they must now leave our party. One by one, the spirits of our visitors move slowly back out through the open door of the hall, until only those souls who were present at the beginning of the party remain. And now, you must return yourself to objective reality, in the place and the time where you started your meditation. Put your consciousness in the centre of your head, just behind your eyes; and when you are ready, open your eyes.

It is particularly appropriate to take some food and drink following this meditation. Then take a few hours, or a few days, to absorb its significance. It is suggested that you should perform this meditation as close as possible to Halloween, and that you do not repeat it on a frequent basis; one or two occasions each year should be sufficient.

Samhain Altar

Samhain is the time of year when many Pagans and Wiccans celebrate the cycle of life and death. This Sabbat is about the end of the harvest, the calling of the spirits, and the changing aspects of the god and goddess. Try some or even all of these ideas -- obviously, space may be a limiting factor for some, but use what calls to you most.

Colors of the Season:

The leaves have fallen, and most are on the ground. This is a time when the earth is going dark, so reflect the colors of late autumn in your altar decorations. Use rich, deep colors like purples, burgundies and black, as well as harvest shades like gold and orange. Cover your altar with dark cloths, welcoming the coming darker nights. Add candles in deep, rich colors, or consider adding an ethereal contrasting touch with white or silver.

Symbols of Death:

Samhain is the time of the dying of the crops and of life itself. Add skulls, skeletons, grave rubbings or ghosts to your altar. Death itself is often portrayed carrying a sickle or scythe, so if you've got one of those handy, you can display that on your altar as well.

Some people choose to add representations of their ancestors to their Samhain altar - you can certainly do this, or you can create a separate ancestor shrine.

The Harvest Ends:

In addition to symbols of death, cover your Samhain altar with the products of your final harvest. Add a basket of apples, pumpkins, squash, or root vegetables. Fill a cornucopia and add it to your table.

Other Symbols of Samhain:

Mulled wine
Dried leaves, acorns and nuts
Dark breads
Ears of corn
A straw man
Tools of divination or spirit communication
Offerings to the ancestors
Statuary of deities symbolizing death

Poets Retreat

Goddess, Are you Real?

The little child whispered
"Goddess speak to me"
And a meadowlark sang.
But the child did not hear.
So the child yelled
"Goddess speak to me"
and thunder rolled across the sky
but the child did not listen.
The child looked around and said
"Goddess let me see you"
and a star shone brightly
but the child did not notice
And the child shouted
"Goddess show me a Miracle"
and a new life was born
but the child did not know
So, the child cried out in despair
"touch me Goddess and let me know you are there"
Where upon Goddess reached down and touched the child
but the child brushed the butterfly away
and walked away unknowingly

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be Krystel
