Multi-faith Calendar

Multi-faith Calendar – Coming up:

24th November – Guru Tegh Bahadur (1621-75)

Born in Amritsar, Guru Tegh Bahadur was the ninth of the ten Gurus who founded Sikhism.

He's honoured and remembered as the man who championed the rights for all religious freedom.

Contributions

He taught liberation from attachment, fear and dependence. Strength should be gained through truth, worship, sacrifice and knowledge.

During the reign of Mughal Emperor Aurangzeb, Islam was imposed on the people. Hindu temples were demolished and turned into mosques, higher taxes were charged to non-Muslims and the Emperor persecuted those who would not conform to Islamic law.

Guru Tegh Bahadur spoke out amid this persecution. He refused to convert to Islam and in 1675, he was beheaded in Delhi. The site of his execution was later turned into an important Gurdwara.

He's also remembered for his poetry, much of which is included in the Guru Granth Sahib.

He married Bibi Gujjari and they had one son: the tenth Guru, Guru Gobind Singh.

He founded the city of Anandpur, which later became a centre of Sikhism.

Polytheism and Monism

Gus diZerega

One of the nicest things about Pagans is that in general we do not get into hot arguments about theology. What unites our smaller communities are common practices, not common beliefs. We are little worried if others are not Wiccans or Heathens or Celtic Reconstructionists or devotees to Orishas or whatever, because we do not believe our own tradition is necessary for salvation. Indeed, we do not believe in the need for salvation at all.

"Getting the theology right" simply isn't an issue for nearly all Pagans. Thank the Gods. But some of us like theology any way - trying to make a reliable road map of how our own world fits into spiritual reality. It is this vein that I want to make some arguments as to why Monism is likely a more satisfactory picture of spiritual reality than hard polytheism, as a dear friend who is one put it.

But before I get into this issue, I want to make two preliminary points. First, and most importantly, in my view it does not matter in terms of our practice or relations with our Gods whether we are hard, soft, variegated, or simply confused polytheists. Second, that is a Really Good Thing. Really Good.

As a practice, I think hard polytheism is just fine. Whether a person is or is not a monist or hard polytheist is simply irrelevant on this most important dimension, No one can attend to all dimensions of the super human. My own practice is somewhere between 99% and 100% polytheistic. But as a philosophy I think it suffers from two serious drawbacks.

The first drawback is that any spiritual philosophy that focuses on our experience of the divine in the world needs to be able to take into consideration all reasonably reliable experiences of that reality. Throughout history, at least when people began thinking about these issues and writing their thoughts down, people have reported mystical experiences of a One that is the Source of all things or a Non Dual more real than the world of "illusion." This has been true of Pagan thought from at least the time of Greece. Similar experiences have been reported world wide, and over millennia. This is the biggest drawback - it seems as arbitrary as the hard monotheists, if not quite so lethal in its implications for nonconformists.

And this leads to the second drawback. Putting it broadly, almost all the world's spiritual traditions fall into three categories: Polytheist, Monotheist, and Non Dual. The monistic framework makes it possible to respect all these dimensions of practice on their own terms while denying any one of them ultimate validity or a theological last word. This is more than simply good neighborliness, although it is that.

There is one issue that will give many Pagans pause. Doesn't Monism subtly devalue our Gods and our world? Certainly some philosophies have taken that view. But I think this does not follow.

We know a photon can appear as a particle or a wave, depending on the questions asked through experiments. Why should we expect Spiritual reality to be less paradoxical to our minds than a photon? It can manifest to us in one way, another person with a different make up would find it manifesting another way. Ultimate Reality is not Polytheistic or NonDual or One, it is all of them.

Pagan Days for Monday, November 23rd, 2009

©C.H. Scarlett

Monday (moon day) is the day of the Moon Goddess, Selene, Luna, & Mani.

Mondays are an awesome day to take care of matters or magical rituals and spells concerning:

Traveling, memory, one's instinct, sharpening or increasing Psychic abilities, dreams, healing, home, ancestors and of course, family.

Monday belongs to the Moon and the Element of Water

The Moon Phase is:

Waxing Crescent

37% of Full

The Waxing Crescent is for magic concerning love, wealth, success, friendship, luck or health.

Let's gather around the camp fire while the stars twinkle from the Goddesses eyes, and the dark locks of the God brush across the sky. Let the wise Crone whisper her wisdom of all that came before, all that cries to come again, to all the ears that eagerly listen.

For you are the blessed ones, faces aglow with boundless flame, carrying inside your restless spirits— the enlightenment of an ageless past....

On this day, November 23rd, our Norse and Saxon ancestors celebrated an Observance for Völund

1st Day of Winter

Völund, also known as Wayland or Weyland the Smith, was quite an interesting legend of the Norse and Saxons. He was a mystical blacksmith & armor-maker.

Perhaps you have heard of him since he appeared in the original writings of Beowulf, as well as many other written material. In fact, Völund was the one who created the sword called Balmung—the very weapon used by Beowulf to destroy Grendel.

Völund had two brothers named Egil & Slagfidur. With his brothers, he lived with 3 Valkyries named Orlun, Alvit, and Svanhvit. Legend says that after living together for nine years, one day the Valkyries just vanished—basically up and took off without a word or a good-bye—except for a ring left by Orlun for Völund.

Völund and his brothers went on with their lives until years later, King Nidud captured and imprisoned Völund on his island named Saeverstod. The ring that Orlun gave to Völund was stolen away, along with his sword, by Nidud. The ring was given to Nidud's daughter, Bodvild, while the King kept the sword for himself.

After being held a prisoner for far too long and having two things Völund cherished ripped from him, eventually he did have his revenge. Völund escaped from his prison and killed Nidud's sons. Not only did he kill them, he made goblets out of their skulls, and jewelry from their teeth and eyes!

Now some warriors would have been done after that, but not Völund. No, he was determined to make Nidud regret for all eternity for making him a prisoner and for taking his things. So that's why he went on to send the goblets to King Nidud and the jewelry to his Queen. (Can you imagine unwrapping a present made from the corpses of your sons?) And then he made sure to seduce their daughter Bodvild just for spite. (Bet you he got his ring back.) Once Völund had his fill, being the creative soul that he was, he built wings for himself and escaped the island and King that would never forget his name.

And neither would England where a number of places sport his name as Wayland. One example: Wayland's Smithy in Oxfordshire.

Now how's that for a camp fire tale?

Today is the first day of Winter marked in the old Julian Calendar.

Common Cat Colours part B

From http://fanciers.com/other-faqs/colors.html#common_colors

2. Solids and Smokes

If your cat is pretty much the same color all over, it is a "solid." Some people, especially in the UK, use the word "self" instead of "solid."

- A "solid black" is just that: black all over. It may be coal black, grayish black, or brownish black. Black cats can "rust" in the sunlight, the coat turning a lighter brownish shade.
- A "solid blue" is blue-gray all over. It may be a dark slate gray, a medium gray, or a pale ash gray. This color is also sometimes called "maltese." This is the color of the Russian Blue, Chartreux, and Korat, but it can appear in almost any other breed as well, and is also seen in non-purebreds. Solid blue does not indicate that a cat is related to any of these breeds.
- A "solid white" is white all over. Sometimes white cats have blue eyes, sometimes they have green or gold eyes, and sometimes one eye is blue and one eye is green or gold! This last color is called "odd-eyed white."

Most solid colored cats are the result of a recessive gene that suppresses the tabby pattern. Sometimes the tabby pattern is not totally suppressed, so you might see indistinct "shadow" tabby markings in certain lights even on a solid black cat. If you look at a black leopard in a zoo, you might also see these shadow markings, because the black leopard has a similar spot-suppressing gene!

The tabby-suppressing gene is not effective on red or cream cats, so you won't see red or cream cats without tabby markings.

Solid white cats are the result of a different gene that suppresses color completely. Young white cats often have vague smudges of color on the top of the head where the color is not completely suppressed. Sometimes this persists even in an older white cat.

If your cat is pretty much solid black or gray, but the roots of the hairs are distinctly white, it is a "smoke." (It's normal for the roots on a solid cat to be grayish; true smokes, on the other hand, have definite white roots.) Smokes are the solid version of silver tabbies. These cats are very dramatic because when they move, the hair parts and the white undercoat can be seen.

- A "black smoke" is a solid black cat with white roots.
- A "blue smoke" is a solid blue (gray) cat with white roots.

3. Cats with white markings

Clearly delineated white markings (as opposed to shaded points, like the Siamese) can appear on any color. Just add "and white" to the cat's basic color to describe the cat. So for example your cat might be a "black and white" or a "cream tabby and white."

Cats with white markings might have larger or smaller areas of white. If you want to describe your cat's color more precisely, there are different names for the different amounts of white:

- A "mitten" cat just has white paws.
- A cat with a white spot on its chest has a "locket."
- A cat with one or more little white belly spots has "buttons."
- A "bi-color" is about half white.
- A "harlequin" is mostly white with several large patches of color.
- A "van" is almost all white with color patches only on the head and tail.

There are a couple of affectionate, informal terms used for black and white cats:

- A "tuxedo cat" is a black and white cat with white paws, chest, and belly. It might have some white on the face as well.
- Some people call black and white cats "jelly cats" (after T.S.Eliot)

Quote & Thought of the Day

Quote of the Day:

To find the universal elements enough;
to find the air and the water exhilarating;
to be refreshed by a morning walk or an evening saunter;
to be thrilled by the stars at night;
to be elated over a bird's nest
or a wildflower in spring
- these are some of the rewards of the simple life.

John Burroughs, Naturalist (1837-1921)

Source: <http://www.sapphyr.net/>

Thought of the day:

Take the cue

What you see, what you think, what you feel, has a reason. What you happen upon, seemingly by blind chance, has a reason.

In all that you experience is the voice of your most authentic self, carrying an important, appropriate and timely message. Listen, and seek to lovingly understand what the experience of each moment is saying.

All the wisdom you've collected is speaking to you. All the possibilities that spread out in front of you, are calling to you.

It is not by coincidence that you are where you are. A whole set of thoughts, intentions and experiences brought you here.

All that you have learned and all that you have been through culminate in this place now. It is a rich and entirely meaningful opportunity that greets you and calls you to move forward.

Take the cue, feel the message of this moment, and go with it. In this time and this place, this life is yours with which to do great things.

Poets Retreat

"Lady Winter"

Slowly and silently she glides in, on the wings of the cold north wind. Briskly she slides in and winter begins, again.

Her icy fingers smooth the snow around my heart, as I watch the amber lights of autumn swiftly depart.

Her soft, glacial song lulls the world to sleep, sleep away the chilly day and the bare frigid night, underneath the soft, silvery rays of the pale moonlight.

I can see her magick in the snow, glimmering bits of crushed diamonds strewn over the once grassy plateau.

She's stripped the trees of their green; their artfully placed branches can now be seen.

They grace the whisper grey backdrop sky, their beauty and wisdom etched into the year gone by.

The world turns now and changes her face, as I look on through my window draped in snowy lace.

My mood shifts to a melancholy blue, thinking of the songs that I once knew. Sang beneath a fickle moon, the melody lingers but the words forgotten too soon.

Sound of mind but lost of soul, each changing season taking its toll.

Stolen moments of delight, a lovers whisper in the night, warm sweet scent of the lilacs bloom, stolen kisses in the twilights gloom.

But Lady Winter has the hour, and the words of love begin to sour.
Spoken with a gilded tongue the spell has now become undone.

So soon forgotten all that was once dear, rose colored glasses now becoming clear.

In the stark light of a winter's day, those golden words all turn to clay.

But I will mend these broken dreams, all torn apart by their fragile seems.

New words to the song I will compose, replacing fallen petals from the rose.

Under the chilly earth she will sleep, all of her memories I will keep.

Until the suns long awaited return and her summer fires again do burn.

For now she'll slumber safe and warm within, as the nights grow longer and winter begins, again.

Announcements

Hello All Clergy,

The Parliament of the World's Religions Conference in Melbourne Australia is fast approaching and we need your financial help.

"First held in Chicago in 1893, the Parliament of the World's Religions brings together the world's religious and spiritual communities, their leaders and their followers to a gathering where peace, diversity and sustainability are discussed and explored in the context of inter-religious understanding and cooperation."

Lord Don Lewis, the Head of our Correllian Tradition will be leaving very soon to participate in this monumental gathering. His participation, along with other Pagan leaders presents the ideal opportunity to present our beliefs to the world. The Parliament is only held every 4 years, so the window of opportunity to present our views is limited.

Lord Don has been committed to attending this auspicious gathering for a long time, but it takes money and a large amount of it to travel to the other side of the world.

I am writing this to appeal to you as Correllians, and as seekers of peace and understanding. There are over 450 Clergy members on this Yahoo Group alone, that with as little as a $10.00 donation from each would cover the expense of airfare, accommodations, Conference fees, meals, etc.

Won't you consider a gift to the Correllian Nativist Tradition at this time of year when as a society we give?? I realize that $10.00 may be too much for some, whereas other can give $100.00 or more. But the important thing - is give what you can for this cause. By combining our ability to give in the amount we can - we can insure that our leader has peace of mind for stepping out in faith to attend the Parliament.

I ask you now to take a moment right now, and ask yourself, your guides, your higher self - what can I do to meet this financial need.

Once you know, please act quickly as the Parliament of World's Religions convenes in just 9 days!!

The quickest way to give is via Paypal. See the Paypal donate button in the following link:
<http://www.correllian.com/donate.htm>

Thank You in advance for your participation to send Lord Don to the Parliament in Australia.

Blessed Be, Rev. Mike

Calling all Translators

If you have a second language to English that you are fluent in please consider joining the Witcheschool Translators and help translate material

We want to help Don stand tall and proud at his first presentation to the Interfaith World, and state that the Tradition deserves to be recognized by the most respected Interfaith Body "The Parliament of World's Religions"

On December 3rd, 2009, Rev. Don Lewis will be at the Parliament of the World's Religions and this will be a major chance to present the Correllian tradition to the world. Currently he is planning to bring copies of The Five Mystic Secrets (in 7 Languages), What is Wicca? (Three Languages) and The Comic "Come Join Us for a Wiccan Ritual" (Two Languages). We also plan to share those classes already translated.

We are looking for help getting What is Wicca? Translated at least into Spanish, and maybe more languages. We currently have French, German and English. It is my hope that we can have more languages represented. I know it's a big favor to ask. We will need it by November 25th, 2009. The more languages the better, of course, and we do appreciate any help we can get.

Here is the link: <http://www.witcheschool.com/page/what-is-wicca-language>

Correllian Clergy Degree Program

A new membership has been created called the Correllian Clergy Degree Program. This is a 3-year program that can help you earn your Wiccan Degrees and Legal Clergy Status. Of course every lifetime and supporting member has access to this main program.

The purpose of this level is for those individuals who are interested in gaining their clergy status, and this offers an opportunity for members to do so affordably.

This program is only $49.99. To find out more:
<http://www.Witchschool.com/clergydegree.asp>

Witchschool Referral Program

Witch School, our long-time educational partner, has made an offer to the Tradition and its member Temples and groups.

Witch School has created a new Referral Program. The Tradition itself has enrolled in this program – as you can see from the button in the left-hand menu on correllian.com. You are encouraged to consider enrolling your Temple or group as well, as a means of generating potential passive income.

The program works like this: members receive their own button which they can put on their website, in their email signature, etc... offering Witch School memberships. If anyone purchases a membership through your button, you will receive (approximately) 25% of the payment –that is $4 of a $19.99 yearly membership, or $25 of a $99.99 Lifetime Membership.

Each button has its own unique code which tracks payments made through it. If someone buys a membership through your button, then you get the abovementioned 25%.

If you are interested in finding out more about this program, or in signing up for it, go to www.witchschool.biz.

Witch School are offering a discount on supplies to Correllian Temples and groups in good standing: for example the Witch School books at 40% off cover price, and other discounts on the various items the school produces. If you would like to learn more about this, contact Lady Virginia at Virginia@witchschool.com and she will be happy to explain further.

These offers are being extended to all of our Correllian Temples, Proto-Temples, Witan Shrines, Formal Shrines, Personal Shrines, Orders, and Study Groups who might wish to sign up.

Prison Ministry Formal Shrine

The Prison Ministry Formal Shrine is to function as a bridge to breach the gap between inmates that are still called by Deity and who want to learn and/or correspond with members of the Correllian Tradition. This is a dedicated group that will not judge others' past, but help them pave a way into their future growth.

If you are interested in or already assisting with any type of Prison Ministry, please consider joining. You are required to be a registered member of the Correllian Nativist Tradition and at least 21 years of age. I am looking for people to assist with correspondence, and possible mentoring of inmates. If interested, please sign up at the following group:

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be Krystel
