Announcement

Greetings and Merry Meet to all of my fellow Correllians!

Due to some technical difficulties on my website I have not been able to change the Lustration fee to the "late registration fee" therefore at this time you can still sign up for the price of early registration which is $99.00.

I would take advantage of that as soon as possible.

Please note that the airlines have posted a cost of at least $25 per ticket one way being added to pay for additional fuel costs that they are incurring. With that in mind that is a savings of $76 when you include airfare both ways and the late fee of the Lustration event! Every penny helps today.

Also please note that there is a free shuttle provided by the hotel to and from DFW airport both for arrival and departure. If you have any questions please contact me directly at revmichaeljoffrion@gmail.com

Blessings,

Pagan Calendar February 28 – March 6

February 28. In ancient times, a Chaldean sabbath known as the Sabbatu was celebrated each year on this date. On this day of the year, the Earth-Goddesses Ceres, Demeter, Gaia, Ge, and Mauri are honored by many Pagans and Wiccans around the world. Also honored annually on this day is the ancient Pagan deity Zamyaz, who was worshipped and offered sacrifices by the ancient Chaldeans and Persians.

March 1. On this date in the year 1888, the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn (an influential Western occult order and secret society) was established. It offered teaching on ceremonial magic, divination, Kabbalah, and other occult-oriented sciences. Many of its rituals are still in use by modern-day practitioners of High Magic. Aleister Crowley (one of the Golden Dawn's most famous members) was initiated into the Order in the year 1898 but was later expelled. In ancient Rome, the sacred fire in the Temple of Vesta was rekindled by the Vestal Virgins on this day which, at one time, marked the beginning of the Roman year. The first day of March is celebrated in Bulgaria as Granny March's Day. (Granny-March is an old Witch-Goddess who presides over the month of March). It is believed throughout the country that if any woman works on this sacred day, Granny March becomes angry and uses her magickal powers to destroy the crops with storms.

March 2. In various parts of Europe, women celebrate Mother March each year on this date. The Mother-Goddess who presides over the third month of the year is honored and a festive parade is held to commemorate all women who have created life.

March 3. The number three is the most magickal of all numbers; therefore the third day of the third month is believed to be a favorable time for Witches and practitioners of magic throughout the world. This day is sacred to all Triple Goddesses and deities of the Moon (which shows itself in three aspects: waxing, full, and waning). The magickal and healing power of pyramids is said to be strongest on this day.

March 4. On this day in Ireland and Wales, the annual Feast of Thiannon is celebrated by many Wiccans in honor of Rhiannon, the Celtic/Welsh Mother-Goddess who was originally known as Rigatona (the Great Queen) and identified with the Gaulish mare-goddess Epona. On this date in ancient Greece, an annual ritual called the Anthesteria was held to honor the souls of the dead (the Keres). The ritual lasted for three days. On this date in the year 1968, the Church of All Worlds (founded by Otter Zell) was formally chartered, thus becoming the first federally recognized church of Neo-Paganism.

March 5. In parts of North Africa, the ancient wiccan goddess Isis is honored on this date with an annual festival of music, dancing, and feasting. In Rome, Isis's opening of the seas to navigation was commemorated on this day with an annual ceremony called the Navigum Isidis (Blessing of the Vessel of Isis).

March 6. According to an ancient book called Perillous Dayes of Every Month, the sixth and seventh days of March "shall come to no good end, and the dayes be full perillous for many things." On this date (approximately) in the year 1795, Count Alessandro Cagliostro died in prison. He was renowned as an alchemist, healer, psychic, and practitioner of wizardry before falling victim to the Catholic Church's Inquisition.

Legends and Lore for March

March, the third month of the current Gregorian calendar and the first month of Spring, derives its name from the ancient Roman war-god Mars, who also presided over the fertility of the land.

The traditional birthstone of March are the aquamarine and the bloodstone; and the daffodil and the jonquil are the month's traditional flowers.

March is shared by the astrological signs of Pisces the Two Fishes and Aries the Ram, and is sacred to the following Pagan deities: Eostre, the Green Goddess, the Lord of the Greenwood, Mars, and Ostara.

During the month of March, the Great Solar Wheel of the Year is turned to the Vernal Equinox, one of the four Lesser Sabbats celebrated each year by Wiccans and modern Witches throughout the world.

March Weather Lore: A wet March, a wet Spring.

Quinquatria

Roman Festival in honour of Minerva, March 19 - March 23. Minerva is the Roman Goddess, and the Greek Goddess with similar attributes is Athena, Patron of Athens. This ancient Goddess is associated with civilization, wisdom, strength, strategy, poetry, weaving, magic, music, crafts, justice, and skills. Her totem is the owl. She is a virgin goddess, Pallas Athena, where she is one of three virgin goddesses along with Artemis and Hestia, known by the Romans as Diana and Vesta. Minerva/Athna is featured on the great seal of the State of California.

The Spring Equinox

"Gwyl Canol Gwenwynol or Eostre: (pronounced E-ostra, also known as Ostara, Spring Equinox etc.), March 21-23. Time of equal day and equal night. This is often celebrated with eggs (beginnings) and rabbits (fertility) ... see the theme? It is now time to lay the seeds of new projects and new directions that you have meditated on throughout the cold months. Now is the time to start taking action. (A lot of traditions use this particular sabbat for initiations. New roads, a new breath.) Colours for this sabbat: Purple and Yellow. The Spring Equinox defines the season where Spring reaches its apex, halfway through its journey from Candlemas to Beltane. Night and day are in perfect balance, with the powers of light on the ascendancy. The god of light now wins a victory over his twin, the god of darkness. In the Welsh Mabinogion, this is the day on which the restored Llew takes his vengeance on Goronwy by piercing him with the sunlight spear. For Llew was restored/reborn at the Winter Solstice and is now well/old enough to vanquish his rival/twin and mate with his lover/mother. And the great Mother Goddess, who has returned to her Virgin aspect at Candlemas, welcomes the young sun god's embraces and conceives a child. The child will be born nine months from now, at the next Winter Solstice. And so the cycle closes at last to begin anew. The customs surrounding the celebration of the spring equinox were imported from Mediterranean lands, although there can be no doubt that the first inhabitants of the British Isles observed it, as evidence from megalithic sites shows. But it was certainly more popular to the south, where people celebrated the holiday as New Year's Day, and claimed it as the first day of the first sign of the Zodiac, Aries. However you look at it, it is certainly a time of new beginnings, as a simple glance at Nature will prove."

Spell of the Week

<http://www.magicspells.in/>

SPELL FOR A PEACEFUL HOME

This spell is very good if there is a lot of turmoil or stress in the household.

Do the following spell, and while doing so, remember to focus on your intent for a peaceful household.

Sew a small pouch of lavender cloth. Place a small trinket in the pouch for each member of your household.

Add to this a pinch each of lavender, rose and chamomile, before placing each pinch in the pouch, remember to hold it for a moment and REALLY focus, finally add a small amethyst.

Now, anoint lavender or pink candle with peace oil and then light it.

Sit in front of the candle and hold the pouch in your hands and whisper the following chant over it softly 3 times:

Blessed Goddess, most gentle one,
calm my home for me.
Relieve all tension, send it far,
so from stress we shall be free.
Touch my family with peace and calm,
and the sweetest softest bliss,
bless my home, Great Gentle Goddess, with your calming kiss.

Set the pouch with the candle. Allow the candle to burn down completely.

Hang the pouch in your home, preferably in the room where everyone gathers the most.

Whenever tension seems to build, repeat the above chant 3 times and envision peace and tranquillity radiating from the pouch and The Goddess.

Please remember to be responsible with candles if there are children or animal around.

Magical ingredient of the week

Alfalfa

Photo sources:

<http://uniherbal.org/>

Alfalfa

The planet ruler of this plant is Venus. It is a herb and in magic we use the seeds and the sprouts. When eating the sprouts, we can increase our income and generally it is a herb that can help with obtaining loans or money owed.

Sprinkle the seeds in prosperity spells during the waxing phase of the moon and keep some seeds in your kitchen during the waning phase to ward off poverty.

Eat the sprouts on Fridays for love.

Living Wiccan

Staff Writer

Is it just me, or does it seem like, more often than not, doing the right thing is a hassle or causes some sort of inconvenience. Let me give you a few examples. On Monday, I was on my way to my first class of the day. On this particular day getting to class entailed a twenty-minute walk to the bus stop in blizzard like conditions, and a five-minute wait at a crowded bus stop.

I got on the bus and managed to find myself a seat amongst two people who got on at the previous stop. As the bus got filled it became clear that after a while there was standing room only, and what should happen is that an elderly woman would get on the bus and end up standing right in front of me. After waiting a few seconds to see if any of the freshmen would offer the lady their seat I realized that I would have to be the one to do the right thing. So I said to the elderly woman who barley could reach the overhead straps to hang on “Ma’am, I insist that you take my seat.” She smiled at me and said in return “Thank you very much young man, I will not argue.”

It felt good for me to be the one to give up my seat and put the other young men to shame for not doing the same but not two minutes after I gave my seat up did the bus driver make a sharp turn, jumped a curb. The impact forced me spill my hot coffee onto my neck and my hand. It hurt, and as I released my hand to pat myself down the bus driver drove off the curb he jumped and I fell, falling into the person standing behind me, I am pretty sure I spilled my coffee on at least two people as I knocked them down.

So there I am sitting on the bus floor, completely muddy and wet from the ick that was on the bus floor embarrassed and responsible for a domino effect of people falling over. I couldn’t help but think as the people stared and chuckled from the safety of there bus seats “no good deed goes unpunished.”

Another example of when doing the right thing hurts comes from a scenario that happened to me on Saturday 2/26/11. I decided it was a good time to take my friend out to dinner. She is a good friend of mine and always makes herself available to bail me or my boyfriend out of a jam. Im talking car jumps, laundry duty anything you can think of.

So as the story goes I walk over to her dorm from my off campus apartment and we go to her car. I insist on driving even though I only have my learners permit. (how pathetic, 22 years old and still no drivers license.) She agrees since she is 21, which makes it legal for me to drive.

Moving on, we drive all around town looking for a restaurant that isn’t packed. We get on the interstate and head down town (Buffalo NY, is really that bag!) and then we get on the thru-way again to get back up town. All the while its snowing and raining. We finally decide that eating at red lobster or Olive garden isn’t so bad. So as I make the right on red that would lead to the area where both these eateries are conveniently located, I skid right into oncoming traffic, I get the car back into the right side of the road, but I skid again. This time instead of driving into the skid, I break, the breaks do that annoying anti-lock thing and I over-correct doing a complete spin-out. It was an amazing 360 leaving me facing the wrong direction.

The car finally came to a stop hitting a curb outside an "IHOP". I didn't apologize for what happened, my first words to her were "I will pay for it all." I turn on the Hazards, we get out the car and we look at the damage. Her back driver side tire is at a near 45degree angle with the road.

I managed to turn the car around and drive it into a nearby parking lot. The best part is, she wasn't mad at me, she was very upset that her car had been in a 3rd accident but she expressed that she trusted me to not leave her stranded with the repair costs.

When we got back to her dorm, I bought her AAA (triple A) insurance for the year, which only cost $54 and allowed her to tow her car to her family mechanic for free. As far as off hand estimates go, I'm hearing fixing cost could be anywhere from $300-$1200 dollars.

Once again, all I wanted to do was bring a good friend of mine out for dinner and instead we get into a car wreck, and snack on Wendy's to calm our nerves and wait for her parents to arrive to pick us up.

Why is it that I can only think of few experiences when doing the right thing for someone else doesn't come at personal cost? Such is the life of this Wiccan I guess, always trying to do the right thing despite personal suffering. But does this really make us better in that we are better off for doing it?

Stargazing Information

<http://stardate.org/nightsky>

As the nights grow shorter during February, the stars of winter reign for much of the night. Beautiful Orion is in the south at nightfall, with dazzling Sirius, the brightest star in the night sky, twinkling fiercely to its lower left. By late in the month, though, the stars of spring slide into better view. Leo clears the horizon by mid-evening, with Virgo trailing behind him. Venus reigns as the "morning star," while Jupiter dominates in the evening, although it slides lower in the sky each day.

This Week's Stargazing Tips

February 28, 2011

The crescent Moon and the planet Venus are quite low in the southeastern sky as daylight begins to break tomorrow. Venus, the dazzling "morning star," is close to the upper right of the Moon.

March 1, 2011

The Milky Way arches between Gemini and Orion this evening. To find Orion, look for the line of three bright stars that marks Orion's Belt high in the south in early evening. To find Gemini, look for a pair of even brighter stars high in the east.

March 2, 2011

If you can get away from city lights the next few nights, look high overhead for the Gegenschein, a round, faint, hazy patch of light. It's created by sunlight reflecting off grains of dust scattered between the planets of our solar system.

March 3, 2011

The Beehive, a star cluster in the constellation Cancer, appears almost directly overhead in late evening. The cluster is about 500 light-years from Earth. To the unaided eye it looks like a faint smudge of light, but binoculars reveal dozens of stars.

March 4, 2011

The Moon is new at 2:46 p.m. CST today as it crosses the line between Earth and the Sun. It is lost in the Sun's glare, but will return to view as a thin crescent in the west shortly after sunset on Sunday.

March 5, 2011

From dark skywatching locations, a faint pyramid of light glows faintly in the west after nightfall the next few evenings. This dim glow is the zodiacal light, which is sunlight reflecting off of tiny grains of dust scattered around the inner solar system.

March 6, 2011

Jupiter, the largest planet in the solar system, stands to the left or lower left of the crescent Moon early this evening. It looks like a dazzling cream-colored star.

The Cosmic Conception

by Owen Waters

As your awareness grows spiritually, it rises in frequency. Each step that enhances soul awareness brings with it a more expanded viewpoint of reality.

Humanity today is processing the mind-expanding concept of life on other planets. Every step in that direction is met by small-minded resistance and scepticism and, yet, those steps keep being taken by those who dare to venture away from the parochial view of our tiny planet being the only one that matters in the whole universe.

Today, in 2011, scientists have studied the early results of NASA's planet-hunting Kepler telescope and estimated the first cosmic census of planets in our galaxy. The numbers are astronomical, with at least 500 million of those planets in the not-too-hot, not-too-cold zone where life could exist. And, that's just in our galaxy: The universe contains over a hundred billion galaxies!

Bear in mind that this estimate of life-friendly worlds is still limited by the concept that life can only exist in bodies just like ours. The idea that intelligent life could be designed to operate in other environments and at different temperature ranges hasn't yet entered into the picture, so the actual possibilities must be much greater than this early estimate.

Furthermore, all of the above relates to physical humans in this third-density layer of existence. But, what about other densities of existence? Physical humans can live in the lighter realms of fourth density as well as in our current, third-density existence. On Earth, we have been working through third-density experience and using the fourth-density world only as the place we go to in the afterlife. That is about to change.

The greatest change of The Shift will be when the earth 'rises in the heavens' and we all shift into a fourth-density frequency of physical existence. Things will still look the same after this frequency shift, although consciousness will be seen to have a more noticeable influence on reality. So, let's not discount the existence of physical life in fourth density on any of the 500 million or more planets.

A view that encompasses a populated universe rather than just one planet would also explain the mystery of where all the souls alive today have come from. Where did all of these billions of souls come from? Today, there are more people incarnate on earth than the sum total of all incarnations in all of recorded history, so we're getting extra people from other places, and a lot of them.

When you expand your viewpoint to a cosmic conception, you can appreciate that The Shift is a wave of ascension rippling through this part of the galaxy. Could it be that, like surfers looking for the next good wave, people have come from other planets to be a part of the action here on Earth?

The truth is, Earth is a 'happening place' right now. Incarnating on Earth during the era of The Shift is a huge experience for any soul exploring physical reality anywhere in the universe. Just being a part of the changes that are leading up to the big change is something that gets imprinted in the soul experience of anyone alive today, either in a physical body or in the world of the afterlife.

Let's face it, we're facing an historic ascension wave that will carry us from third density right over the hump into fourth density. So, right now, planet Earth is where the action is!

Transformation of Energy

"Equal dark, equal light
Flow in Circle, deep insight
Blessed Be, Blessed Be
The transformation of energy!
So it flows, out it goes
Three-fold back it shall be
Blessed Be, Blessed Be
The transformation of energy!"

The March Wind Roars

"The March wind roars
Like a lion in the sky,
And makes us shiver
As he passes by.
When winds are soft,
And the days are warm and clear,
Just like a gentle lamb,
Then spring is here."

Spanish Wiccan Blog and Podcast

Wiccan blog and podcast in Spanish, 13 lunas (13 moons), created and maintained by Rev. Clara Fuentes (aka Harwe Tuileva), a Correllian priestess from Spain.

The blog seeks to keep Pagans and Wiccans from all the Spanish-speaking countries informed by means of an easy access format, and, of course, for free. Besides, the recent creation of a radio program in the form of a podcast completes this successful project that is currently receiving more than 400 visits per day at its website. The wonderful reception granted by the Spanish-speaking community reflects the need of more information of the Pagan and Wiccan community, which was looking forward to counting on this kind of initiatives in their own language.

The blog can be found at <http://www.13-lunas.com>.

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,

The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be Krystel

The motto of the Order of Peace Weavers is: "Be Peace, Live Peace, Send Love, Weave Peace." We hold a monthly 15 minute group peace meditation on the first Wednesday of every month and would love to have more join us to promote peace.

The Order of Peace Weavers is a chartered order of the Correllian Tradition. Membership is by invitation or application and is open to Inner and Outer Court members.
