Pagan Calendar January 3 – 9

January 3. On this day, an annual fertility ceremony known as the Deer Dances is performed by the Native American tribe of the Pueblo in the south western United States. The ceremony, which includes sacred ritual dances performed by shamans wearing deer headdresses, is centuries-old and dedicated to the great female spirit-goddess known as the Deer Maiden. In ancient Greece, a Pagan religious festival called the Lenaia was celebrated each year on this date in honor of Dionysus, the god of wine and fertility. Birthday of JRR Tolkien

January 4. In Korea, the annual Sacrifice to the Seven Stars (Chilseong-je) is performed on this date at midnight. To receive good fortune and divine blessings, water and white rice are offered to the god who rules the constellation Ursa Major. New Moon and partial solar eclipse.

January 5. Twelfth Night and Wassail Eve (in England) heralds the end of Christmastide. In ancient Egypt times, it was believed that the waters of the mystical and sacred River Nile possessed special magickal powers on this date. On this date in the year 1918, renowned astrologer and author Jeane Dixon was born in Medford, Wisconsin.

January 6. Day of the Triple Goddess

On this date in the year 1988, Circle Sanctuary of Mount Horeb, Wisconsin, became legally recognized as a Wiccan Church by its local Township and County levels of government. Circle Sanctuary's attainment of church zoning was a significant victory for Wiccans around the world, for it was the first time a Witchcraft group had been publicly sanctioned as a church by local government officials.

January 7. In the seventeenth century, it was customary on this day for a special Epiphany Cake to be baked with a coin in it. Whoever was lucky enough to receive the portion containing the coin was saluted by the family as a "king" or "queen" for the day. As part of the tradition, the "king" or "queen" would draw cross symbols on the ceiling with white chalk to drive out evil spirits and ward off misfortune.

January 8. Old Druid's New Year

In ancient Greece, Midwife's Day (dedicated to the goddess Babo) was celebrated annually on this date, while an annual festival called Justica's Day was celebrated by the early Romans. In ancient times, this day was dedicated to the Norse goddess Ferya (or Freyja), who presided over both love and fertility.

January 9. On this date in the year 1989, Jamie Dodge (a Wiccan who had been fired from her job at the Salvation Army because of her Wiccan beliefs) won a lawsuit against her former employer for violating her First Amendment right to freedom of religion and unnecessary entanglement of government with religion.

Good Luck New Years Traditions From Around the World

Almost every culture has special beliefs reserved for the first day of the year, all of them intended to make a new beginning and to ensure good luck. In some places, it is customary to open the windows at midnight on New Year's Eve so good luck will fly in and bad luck will fly out. It is also considered important nearly everywhere to make as much noise as possible with noisemakers and horns, church bells, and fireworks to encourage the bad luck to go away. If someone kisses you on New Year's Eve, you'll be kissed frequently all year long. And if you take a drink at the stroke of midnight, you will have good luck. It will be even better if you drink the last of the contents of the bottle - but be careful. You won't feel so lucky the next day if you have to drink the first half of the bottle to get to the bottom half!

In many countries, it is thought that a person can affect the luck they will have throughout the coming year by what they do or eat on the first day of the New Year. For that reason, it has become common for folks to celebrate the first few minutes of a brand new year in the company of family and friends. Parties often last into the middle of the night after the ringing in of a new year. It was once believed that the first visitor on New Year's Day would bring either good luck or bad luck the rest of the year. It was particularly lucky if the first visitor happened to be a tall, dark-haired man.

Traditional New Year foods are also thought to bring luck. Many cultures believe that anything in the shape of a ring is good luck, because it symbolizes coming full circle - that is completing a year's cycle. For that reason, the Dutch believe that eating donuts on New Year's Day will bring good fortune.

Many parts of the United States celebrate the New Year by eating black-eyed peas. They are usually eaten with ham or some cut of pork meat. Black-eyed peas and other legumes have been considered good luck in many cultures. The hog and its meat is considered lucky because it symbolizes prosperity.

Cabbage is another "good luck" vegetable that is consumed on New Year's Day by many. Cabbage leaves are also considered a sign of prosperity. Cabbage is representative of paper money! In some regions, rice is a lucky food that is eaten on New Year's Day.

AUSTRIA The suckling pig is the symbol for good luck for the New Year. It's served on a table decorated with tiny edible pigs. Dessert often consists of green peppermint ice cream in the shape of a four-leaf clover. They exchange Good Luck Favors (Gluecks-bringers) which are decorated with Chimney Sweep figurines, Clover charms, Ladybug charms, Magic Mushroom figurines and or of course a Pig figurine, which all, according to old traditions, bring Good Luck throughout the new year.

BELGIUM Farmers wish their animals a Happy New Year for blessings.

CHINA In China, where the New Year arrives with the first full moon after the sun enters Aquarius (January 20, according to our calendar), it is time to give gifts of money or gold to bring good luck during the coming year. For the Chinese New Year, every front door is adorned with a fresh coat of red paint, red being a symbol of good luck and happiness. Although the whole family prepares a feast for the New Year, all knives are put away for 24 hours to keep anyone from cutting themselves, which is thought to cut the family's good luck for the next year. The first day of the first month of the Lunar Year is the start of the Chinese New Year. As a symbol of good luck, red packets called Lai See Hong Bao (or Hongbao) with money (even amount) tucked inside are given out to the children.

On the Chinese New Year's Day, a vegetarian dish called jai with root or fibrous vegetables is the main course.

ENGLAND The British place their fortunes for the coming year in the hands of their first guest. They believe the first visitor of each year should be male and bearing gifts. Traditional gifts are coal for the fire, a loaf for the table and a drink for the master. For good luck, the guest should enter through the front door and leave through the back. Guests who are empty-handed or unwanted are not allowed to enter first.

FRANCE French people eat a stack of pancakes for luck and good health.

GREECE A special New Year's bread is baked with a coin buried in the dough. The first slice is for the Christ child, the second for the father of the household and the third slice is for the house. If the third slice holds the coin, spring will come early that year.

HAITI In Haiti, New Year's Day is a sign of the year to come. Haitians wear new clothing and exchange gifts in the hope that it will bode well for the new year.

JAPAN The Japanese decorate their homes in tribute to lucky gods. One tradition, kadomatsu, consists of a pine branch symbolizing longevity, a bamboo stalk symbolizing prosperity, and a plum blossom showing nobility.

NORWAY Norwegians make rice pudding at New Year's and hide one whole almond within. Guaranteed wealth goes to the person whose serving holds the lucky almond.

PERU The Peruvian New Year's custom is a spin on the Spanish tradition of eating 12 grapes at the turn of the year. But in Peru, a 13th grape must be eaten to assure good luck.

PORTUGAL Children go carolling from home to home and are given treats and coins. They sing old songs or "Janeiros" which are said to bring good luck.

PUERTO RICO Children enjoy throwing pails of water out the window at midnight. Some believe that this rids their home of any evil spirits!

SICILY An old Sicilian tradition says good luck will come to those who eat lasagna on New Year's Day, but woe if you dine on macaroni, for any other noodle will bring bad luck.

SPAIN In Spain, when the clock strikes midnight, the Spanish eat 12 grapes, one with every toll, to bring good luck for the 12 months ahead.

SWITZERLAND The Swiss believe that good luck comes from letting a drop of cream land on the floor on New Year's Day.

UNITED STATES The kiss shared at the stroke of midnight in the United States is derived from masked balls that have been common throughout history. As tradition has it, the masks symbolize evil spirits from the old year and the kiss is the purification into the new year.

WALES At the first toll of midnight, the back door is opened and then shut to release the old year and lock out all of its bad luck. Then at the twelfth stroke of the clock, the front door is opened and the New Year is welcomed with all of its luck.

Pagan bride raises charity funds with wedding cookbook

By Catherine Ball

PAGAN bride Sarah Bell has collected recipes from her unusual wedding to create a charity cookbook.

The 25-year-old, who lives in Burslem, decided to produce the Handfasting Recipe Book when all the guests to her Pagan wedding on October 2 started asking each other for their recipes.

Sarah and her husband Chris, aged 31, wanted to get married on a budget so they asked all their friends to bring a dish to their ceremony in Meerbrook.

The food was such a hit she has put all her guests' recipes into a book, which is being sold to raise cash for SANDS – the stillbirth and neonatal death charity, which supports bereaved parents.

Sarah, who works at Lush in Hanley, said: "There is a good mix of recipes with traditional things from the handfasting ceremony like mead and handfasting bread to gluten-free and vegan recipes. There are a lot of cakes too."

Sarah, who has two children, Jacob, aged three and Noah, aged two, takes part in an internet forum called Little Lost Lushies, which originally started as a forum for fans of Lush products, but has spiralled into an online community which discusses any subject.

Every year the forum holds a Christmas market and participants buy and sell items from each other to raise money for that year's chosen charity.

So far the recipe book has raised £200 and some copies are still available.

The book is being sold at Leek Tourist Office for £3.50 and by Sarah directly for £4.50, including postage and packing.

She has already sent copies to as far afield as Japan, Scandinavia, America and Ireland.

Sarah said she and Chris chose their unusual wedding because the handfasting ceremony is very symbolic and they felt their relationship was meant to be. She moved in with Chris the night they met and fell pregnant two weeks later.

She said: "At the handfasting ceremony everyone gets into a big circle and asks you if you are sure you want to be together – there is no going back."

The couple's hands are bound together with a scarf and four of their friends each lit candles. A handfasting candle at the centre of the circle represents their love.

Sarah said: "If you have an argument you have to light the candle and sort it out before it burns out. It's all about never going to bed on an argument."

Ceremonial mead and handfasting bread is then offered to the ground and shared out among the guests.

Sarah added: "It's about sharing your first meal together.

"We didn't ask for any presents just for people to bring food to share and it's great that we can now share the recipes with even more people."

Ancient underground chamber in Acton MA

The Nashoba Brook Conservation Area in Acton MA contains many well-marked historical sites of interest to local pagans. Most notable of these is a human-built chamber carved into the side of a small hill. Inside the chamber, stone walls and roof form a dark six-foot-square room in which one can stand up. Was it built by pre-Colonial Native Americans, as some historians claim? What was its purpose? A nearby Acton Conservation Land sign refers to “stone structures lying along an ancient swath of landscape sacred to Native Americans. For thousands of years, early people used this ritual landscape to sustain their reliance on Mother Earth and the spirit energies of balance and harmony.”

Susie Phoenix took the Boston Pagan Examiner along the wooded path to see this chamber. Ms. Phoenix has studied local conservation lands and led “Mystery Walks” on them since 1996. She describes herself as “raised in the tradition of Emerson and Thoreau, walking their haunts since I was a child.” Ms. Phoenix says, “The Native sites are being re-discovered. Neo-pagan people are looking, and so are the Indians.”

The opening to the chamber faces south. One must stoop to enter, not to bump one’s head on the stone lintel. After a few paces, the passage turns to the right and opens up into a small room. It is dark. One can touch the stones of the walls and ceiling and the fine sand underfoot. A nearby sign reads in part, “There is great debate within the archaeological community as to whether all these artifacts are Colonial or some the work of Amerindians.” It also mentions that at one point a local farmer stored ice, meat, root crops, apples, and cider in the underground chamber. Was the chamber built for such prosaic purposes? Or was it the site of ritual, underground, in the womb of the Earth Goddess?

This area of conservation land also includes stone mounds which some suspect were of spiritual significance to local Natives, the remains of Henry David Thoreau’s pencil factory, and part of the land on which white minister John Eliot had the Nashobah Praying Village built for Christianized Natives in 1654 (see ww.boudillion.com/nashobahill/nashobahill.htm). All of these may interest local pagans.

The walk from the parking lot (at the end of Wheeler Lane, off route 27 in north Acton) to the chamber took about fifteen minutes. The trail is well-marked but rough; wear your hiking boots and take precautions against ticks. There is no admission fee.

THE AVAILABLE LIGHT

Sarah Feeley

Our sun plays an important role for us spiritually. It sends out Photon energy which activates our Pituitary and pineal glands in our brain. This, in effect is what makes up our third eye, our psychic eye that enables us all to see beyond a five sense reality and into other dimensional 'worlds'. Much awaits us beyond this curtain that we currently cannot see, but nevertheless it is there. To see all would be our natural state of being.

Without this we can only see beyond five senses if we boost our signals by awakening spiritually using the enlightenment that we all are. The sun when active emits sunspots, sun explosions and activity, causing heat waves amongst other things including these informational photons.

So if there was a force that wanted to keep us asleep and un-awakened then a good course of action would be to somehow block or divert these photonic signals. And by doing so we would be kept within this five sense illusion that we are currently residing in, with other efforts.

So how could these photonic spiritual signals be blocked? For the answer to this we need look no further than the Moon!

We know, and NASA knows although they won't tell you, that on the dark side of the Moon there are extra-terrestrial bases. We can see evidence of this on certain photographs of the Moon in which large structures can clearly be observed, these are not man made as we know it.

From the Moon, which many would say was placed there by extra-terrestrial beings long after the Earth was created, interference is beamed out into space that block out the signals from the sun's photon energy and consequently jam our third eye (psychic eye) and stops us from seeing beyond our 'reality' and keeps us believing that this is the only reality, when it isn't!

There has been so much speculation about the famous 2012, in films, news, documentaries and not least the Mayan calendar. It is so important, whatever does actually happen in this year to be ready and as awake as we can be spiritually. Because if we are not then a few surprises may be in store for us.

What do we mean by this statement? Well, and this is our view, in the coming years the sun is going to emit large and powerful sun spots that will override the deliberate blockages caused by the position of the moon. When this happens our third eye will be exposed to the effects of the photon informational energy that will in turn allow us to see, and maybe in many cases instantly, all that is around us, good and bad, all that hides beyond the available light of our physical eyes and reality.

Can you imagine this happening instantly when you are not aware of anything beyond this realm? Even for those prepared it will be a shock, so for those who are unprepared it will be an ambiguous and trying time. There is much beauty to behold, but there is also much we do not want to see, and yet we will, when the suns photons activate out pituitary & pineal glands and open up fully our third eye. Some Angels wear armour for a reason.

Be prepared, awaken yourselves up to all possibility and awaken all those around you, then we can be ready, willing and able to cope with all that we are exposed to and can cater for anything we weren't expecting.

A Brief Guide on Vampire Investigation

By Rev. Karl Ben-Jedi

Traditionally there are two ways to qualify as being a candidate for the task of Vampire hunter or investigator. One would have been born on a Saturday or more correctly Friday night to Saturday night once three stars are present in the heavens. This is because in ancient times the day started from nightfall to nightfall.

Another but less common way to become a possible candidate was for ones mother to have been made pregnant by a vampire. This would only occur when ones father died from vampirism and returned to visit his wife to procreate.

Cases can be found in, "Treatise on Vampires & Revenants by Dom Augustine Calmet".

Later, in life the candidate would gain the ability to be able to see and identify a Spiritual, Mental or Adult Vampire. If they wished to complete the process and become a Vampire Hunter they would have to eat the limb of a sheep that had been attacked by a Wolf.

Hence the origin of the legend of the Werewolf being the spiritual enemy of the Vampire. This would enable the Candidate to gain the spiritual strength to not fear the vampire and protect the local community.

If a Candidate wishes to achieve the same effect this can be done with a joint of lamb and the aid of a domestic dog, due to them also being able to see and detect vampires. Present the limb to a dog, allowing it to attack the piece of meat and leave visible bite marks. Then roast the joint and then consume the bitten area with the domestic dog, both will have developed a spiritual bond enabling them to find the vampire.

However, the modern day Candidate who does not have the above qualifications need not be disheartened. Due to the fact that modern day Paranormal Investigative equipment can be used to detect and locate a Spiritual, Mental or Adult Vampire.

Useful Equipment to have in a Paranormal Investigation Kit

EMF Meters:- Electromagnetic field fluctuations occur both naturally and artificially. Most electrical equipment give off a weak field and should be eliminated. Some EMF Meters adapted for Paranormal Investigation can be adjusted to filter out these readings.

Thermometers:- Can be very useful for measuring heat fluctuations which may detect the presence of invisible entities both indoor and outdoors. IR thermometer with a laser would be most useful in detecting the hidden presence and identification of a possible hoax or anomalous phenomena. The investigator has to follow the O.C.O rule which means objectiveness, confidentiality and open-mindedness to guide any investigations.

Cameras of Differing Types:- Instant, 35mm and Digital. The benefit of the instant especially the Polaroid produces an image that has not been formed by a flawed negative. 35mm cameras using a high speed film of 1600 or 3200 as used for night photography with a shutter speed of 1/500 second can capture paranormal phenomena. Digital cameras offer a cheap way to photograph an area with multiple pictures. However, some phenomena can drain the batteries and make the camera useless.

Tape Recorder: Tape or Digital recorders are able to pick up faint sounds at a distance and can provide valuable evidence to aid an investigation.

Motion Sensors: Detect incoming body temperatures and can help in securing an area from third party tampering or production of false evidence. If the area is secure it may then be able to detect phenomena worthy of further investigation.

All the above items can be found online at any Paranormal or Ghost Hunting supplier and would compliment any working Vampire Hunter Kit.

Anyone interested in possible becoming a future Vampire hunter or investigator would do well to start of as a general Investigator into Ghosts and Anomalous Phenomena.

Spell of the Week

SPELL TO DREAM OF THE FUTURE

Dream divination is the power to see the future and enhance clairvoyance through dreaming.

To foresee an event in the future through a dream, try this powerful dream ritual.

Decide what subject your prophetic/psychic dream will be about:

Does it involve you, or someone else?

What is the subject you need information on? (Money, love, etc.)

How far or near in the future do you wish to see?

Do you have a specific question to ask, or just a general topic?

How do you want the question answered- by a guide, symbols, emotions, etc.?

Once you are sure you know what exactly the prophetic dream should be able, you can gather your items and prepare your working. Lay out a square of pale blue cloth.

In the middle, place a mixture of ash leaves, bay leaves, cinquefoil, heliotrope, holly, jasmine flowers, marigold flowers, mimosa, mugwort, onion, and/or yarrow (however many you can find). Bring the corners towards the middle and tie it all together like a small bag with a string, ribbon, or piece of yarn.

Then, on a white piece of paper, briefly explain what you need to see in the dream, using the guideline above to tell the main ideas/questions you need prophecies about.

Place the herbal bag and the note beneath your pillow, and make sure you record your dream in a notebook or journal as soon as you awake, so you do not forget it.

Use what you learn to prepare you for the future.

Poetry for January

January, 1795
by Mary Darby Robinson

Pavement slipp'ry, people sneezing,
Lords in ermine, beggars freezing ;
Titled gluttons dainties carving,
Genius in a garret starving.

Lofty mansions, warm and spacious ;
Courtiers clinging and voracious ;
Misers scarce the wretched heeding ;
Gallant soldiers fighting, bleeding.

Wives who laugh at passive spouses ;
Theatres, and meeting-houses ;
Balls, where simp'ring misses languish ;
Hospitals, and groans of anguish.

Arts and sciences bewailing ;
Commerce drooping, credit failing ;
Placemen mocking subjects loyal ;
Separations, weddings royal.

Authors who can't earn a dinner ;
Many a subtle rogue a winner ;
Fugitives for shelter seeking ;
Misers hoarding, tradesmen breaking.

Taste and talents quite deserted;
All the laws of truth perverted ;
Arrogance o'er merit soaring ;
Merit silently deploring.

Ladies gambling night and morning ;
Fools the works of genius scorning ;
Ancient dames for girls mistaken,
Youthful damsels quite forsaken.

Some in luxury delighting ;
More in talking than in fighting ;
Lovers old, and beaux decrepid ;
Lordlings empty and insipid.

Poets, painters, and musicians ;
Lawyers, doctors, politicians :
Pamphlets, newspapers, and odes,
Seeking fame by different roads.

Gallant souls with empty purses ;
Gen'ral's only fit for nurses ;
School-boys, smit with martial spirit,
Taking place of vet'ran merit.

Honest men who can't get places,
Knaves who shew unblushing faces ;
Ruin hasten'd, peace retarded ;
Candour spurn'd, and art rewarded

Spanish Wiccan Blog and Podcast

Wiccan blog and podcast in Spanish, 13 lunas (13 moons), created and maintained by Rev. Clara Fuentes (aka Harwe Tuileva), a Correllian priestess from Spain.

The blog seeks to keep Pagans and Wiccans from all the Spanish-speaking countries informed by means of an easy access format, and, of course, for free. Besides, the recent creation of a radio program in the form of a podcast completes this successful project that is currently receiving more than 400 visits per day at its website. The wonderful reception granted by the Spanish-speaking community reflects the need of more information of the Pagan and Wiccan community, which was looking forward to counting on this kind of initiatives in their own language.

The blog can be found at <http://www.13-lunas.com>.

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be Krystel

Order of Peace Weavers

The Order of Peace Weavers was created to provide members of the Correllian Tradition with the means of gathering together to collectively promote the weaving of peace into the fabric of society through meditation, prayer, Reiki, visualization, spell working, ritual, creative writing, intentional art and music, and other positive energy work and light work, with harm to none, and for the highest good of all concerned.

The motto of the Order of Peace Weavers is: "Be Peace, Live Peace, Send Love, Weave Peace." We hold a monthly 15 minute group peace meditation on the first Wednesday of every month and would love to have more join us to promote peace.

The Order of Peace Weavers is a chartered order of the Correllian Tradition. Membership is by invitation or application and is open to Inner and Outer Court members.

For more information, please find us at <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/orderofpeaceweavers/> or contact moonraven3x3@yahoo.com.
