How Infinite Being Emerged as the Creator

by Owen Waters

The difference between God the Creator and Infinite Being is one of degree. In Western culture, we think of God as active, as the Creator, as being aware of everything that we do.

However, the ultimate state of original consciousness is a state of unchanging perfection. As an infinite awareness or beingness, Infinite Being is behind all things. It exists even behind the One Creator of the universe, because the Creator emerged from this unchanging stillness in order to go into action.

This Infinite Being is all things. It is all potential. As a state of being, it fundamentally doesn't "do," it just is. Infinite Being is the ultimate state of being. However, at some point, Infinite Being decided to 'become,' rather than just 'be.' It decided to manifest its potential, and then to act out every part of that potential.

The reason why Infinite Being came forward from its unchanging state of perfection in order to create a universe full of change, and therefore a place for the pursuit of perfection, was the biggest mystery of all time. The need to pursue something that it already had – perfection – was the ultimate mystery of all time... until now.

In November 2007, I was visited by the spirit of a spiritual master who had always been known for his great determination in exploring beyond what had previously been known. After he had passed on from the physical realm ten years before, had decided to pursue the answer to the age-old mystery and, thanks to his usual sense of intense determination, he had returned from his exploration with the answer.

In case you haven't already read the full story, it is revealed in my e-book, "Discover Your Purpose In Life" (see below). Now, once and for all, we know the real answer to why we are here on earth.

Infinite Being, in order to achieve the original Creation, divided its consciousness. In one direction, it focused intent. In another direction, it focused its love, or its feeling. Then, in a third direction it applied action, or motion, so that the two facets of itself – intent and feeling – could interact with each other as intertwined waves of consciousness in motion.

In this way, Infinite Being extended itself from just being, into a state of action. This extension of itself had become what we call the original Creator. The One Creator has three facets, a triad of intent, feeling and motion. The existence of motion in this creative triad makes the One Creator an action-oriented projection of the original, unchanging, all-potential state of Infinite Being.

And yet, nothing specific had been created up to this point. There was, however, the potential for everything to be created. For this, a stage needed to be set, upon which Infinite Being could express itself as an infinite variety of possibilities. In order to provide that stage, the universe was created.

First, the concept of space was intended within the consciousness of Infinite Being. Next, this hollow, original shell of a potential universe was filled with love. Then, life was 'breathed' into the void when motion was added to it.

With the setting of the universe into motion, the 'light' had come. It filled all of space with infinite pathways of primary energy and, later, the energy for matter and all that matter could become.

Today, we find ourselves living out the latest quest in the infinite experiences of existence. As facets of Infinite Being, we are each here to experience life as we see it from our individual, unique viewpoints.

You, as the soul within, are the observer of life. While you are busy with life in the physical world, it may seem difficult to connect with your spiritual aspect, your soul. But to do this means that you are connecting directly with the observer within and seeing the purpose in all aspects of your life.

That is why the most rewarding part of the day is the time that you set aside for regular meditation. With inner support and guidance, your path through life becomes clear and filled with purpose.

If you haven't already done so, make the time to practice meditation at the start of each day. A habit very soon becomes a routine, and this is one that very soon becomes the highlight of each day.

To Be a Wiccan in Today's Society

By Naudia Silverwind

There are many people in today's society that have problems relating to various religions. Witchcraft was condemned long ago through fears or jealousies of the members of the society at the time or just to get another's properties.

A few centuries pass (so it is explained).

Then along comes a man by the name of Gardner . Let's revision the old ways, bring back the old gods and pantheons. But there was a problem. What to call this new system, this new religion. Witchcraft? No. That has been done, used up and well, had its share of bad press. Wicce sounds ok, but we want men involved too. (If it is going to be a religion, men still have to have some say in what it does after all). Wicca. Now there is a name we can live with. After all, witchcraft is a female/male type thing so it goes without saying that a matriarchal system should be in place.

We have a name. Gardner now had to justify his belief and somehow prove that he actually had the right to say that he could indeed lead this system.

The Rede was written, re-written and most possibly pieces were taken from other sources. A mentor was found, invented, or whatever was done to provide a lineage. Now degrees and expectations had to be established. Well as one can understand, the biggest hurdles were over. The seed had been replanted.

Time passed and finally, Wicca became a searched out word. A religion that called out to many as in the time of its beginning there was only silence for fear of retribution. The trials were still not over and other "book" religions continued to maintain their hold over the basic populace with the threat of everlasting damnation.

Name calling came to the forefront now as people came forward with their own interpretations of what should and should not be Wicca. Saxon wicca with Ray Buckland was out. A new way of celebrating the witch within. Never mind the others with their "fluffy bunny" attitude; this tradition is the straight stuff. To be a Wiccan though, does one not have to be in a coven? How to do this. Another book comes out. Coven life and you.

Finally, at last comes another way of looking at the picture. The solitary practitioner. If you cannot find another witch, just become one. That's right! Easy peasy! In a short time you too can be a child of the Goddess. Now remember, during all this fiasco those who claimed family tradition with no formal schooling to back them or any degree to "prove" what they were had to be false. After all, a witch can only be such if he or she was properly schooled in the fine arts. So to say the least, at this point in time they were missing out on a lot. There were after all witches with Italian traditional upbringing (this would eventually lead to a manuscript known as the Vangelo delle Streghe). This will prove to be a very important manuscript for future traditions and witches. Also family traditional teachings passed from (in my case) grandmother to granddaughter, and some that I cannot even begin to understand as they are so flamboyant and "in your face". In my own opinion, this is the last thing a modern witch needs. We are only just getting over some of the bigotry with not only other religions, but general society as well. It was fine to be a witch and healer working spells and seeking to be one with nature. They could write off most of it as eccentricity, but to brag about what we do? Well that is just plain wrong (not to mention suicidal in a career way).

I mentioned child of the Goddess earlier and that a book had mentioned how to become one. Fast forward to present day with the Correllian Tradition.

I quote two things that gave me the trust in their system above the others. First and my favorite was that the Goddess fell to earth and as She allowed parts of Herself to fall we were created. We ARE part of the Goddess, Her children. There is no need to learn how to be but only to accept that we are. The other is that there is one power in the universe and we are all a perfect manifestation of that power. Heavy stuff to be sure but I see it as a light at the end of the tunnel.

In my personal life I have practiced my family tradition for 45 years now. Since before I ever heard of the above noted writers or systems and I still find that something was lacking. I needed a base from which to begin in earnest.

The Correllian Nativist Tradition has provided that base. We no longer have to be alone in our path but have been able to join others for both fellowship and reference needs. Clearly this is a good thing. A place to share opinions with and not being knocked down for the fact that it does not merge with their own. Diversity is a valued thing here. As any witch will agree to, if we are nothing else we are diverse by nature. We have more freedoms then ever before.

To bring this paper to an end I would simply like to say that I enjoy “walking the walk and not just talking the talk”. There are too many religions that love to preach but never seem to follow that preaching. Wicca does not go door to door trying to find new blood. If you are a witch, you have sought it out yourself. When you go to the altar, you go of your own free will and in the end, you are richer for the experience of having gone through the process. A personal meeting with the Goddess that none can truly understand but yourself. It makes it so much easier to listen to the born again preaching of fellow workers that you can actually smile and go about what you do in your job knowing that they could not possibly understand what they are criticizing and damning.

We are as we were, healers, councilors and of course witches. Wiccans. As it was in the beginning, so has it come to be again. All Wiccans are pagan, but not all pagans are Wiccan. All Wiccans are witches, but not all witches are Wiccan. As in everything we too have our bad apples. Most of us sharing this tradition have seen past the bad apples though and moved onto more positive ways to improve ourselves. To share our knowledge with new and old alike. We give freely and become richer in that giving. Love is our most high ideal and we show it (or try to) in our daily lives. Traditionals are accepted as if there were never traditionals, where did the original ideas come from?

In worship and faith we now are free, and it harms none, so mote it be.

Vampire Hunters Prayer

The light of a Vampire Hunter is darkness visible, serving only to express that gloom which rests on the prospect of futurity. It is that mysterious veil which the eye of human reason cannot penetrate, unless assisted by that sacred light which is from above.

Yet, even by this glimmering ray, you may perceive that you stand on the very edge of the grave into which you must descend, and which, when this transitory life shall pass away, will open to receive you into her cold embrace. Let the emblems of the Vampire hunter which lie before you lead you to contemplate on your destiny, and guide your reflections to that most interesting of all human studies, the hidden knowledge of yourself.

Be careful to perform your allotted task while you still have the light of day. Continue to listen to the voice of Nature, which bears witness that even in this perishable frame resides a vital and immortal principle which inspires a holy confidence that the Lord of Life will enable you to trample the undead King of Terrors that lies beneath your feet, and lift up your eyes to the bright Sunlight, whose rising brings peace and salvation to the faithful and obedient of all humanity.

Spell of the Week

INCENSE RECIPIES

Be sure all herbs, spices, peels, and flowers are completely dry.

All dry ingredients must be ground into a fine powder.

Mix all ingredients in a small glass container with a clean stick or your fingers.

Let the incense stand over night to dry.

Store any unused incense in a tightly capped glass jar, away from light.

These incenses need self-igniting charcoal. Check the classified ads.

Or, in a pinch, you might try to smoulder some in a small, heavy pan on top of your stove.

Most important, for best results, try to blend your energies with the incense as you prepare and use it.

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: wwcw@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be
Krystel
