Animal Totems

Part 25 Water Animal Totems

Sources: <http://www.whats-your-sign.com/animal-totems.html>

Each totem carries messages and information for us. This is known as their medicine.

Crab

Animal totems are not limited to mammals. Members of all phyla of animals will serve as totems and be our guides. Perhaps we prefer a cuddly totem, but welcome the others, the insects, the crustaceans, the fish, the arachnids and animals of all types. All have important messages for us.

The crab teaches us the power of regeneration and transformation, of breaking the mould and growing anew. The crab also brings us protection and teaches us the value of trust. It shows us the cyclical nature of all things.

Perhaps in contrast to their transformative power, the crab is a lunar animal, and working with crab often involves working with the moon as well.

If crab comes to you, think about your life and realise that there is more than one route to a goal. Crab's sideways movement shows us how to think laterally, how to approach problems from a different angle and so achieve success. Think too about cycles, the waxing and waning of the moon, the movement of tides and think how these relate to your life. Learn to use cycles and call on crab for assistance

Tarot

Rev. Leona

The Tao Oracle for today is Resoluteness

Key terms for today are: Determination, No Compromises, Unwavering Focus, Inner Resolve, Integrity, A Test of Character and Self-Examination.

Message of Resoluteness

Resoluteness bring into your life more obstacles and more confrontation. You have the ability to face any problem face on. You need to remain focused on your own talents and abilities and remember that you have had the strength to overcome all of the other obstacles that you have met thus far. Life is filled with many different cycles. Resoluteness enters your life to show you that you have indeed progressed and made great strides in your life. Sometimes the obstacles that we face are difficult and seem almost impossible to overcome. When new challenges come into our lives we look back on the past and see how difficult it was for us to overcome the past ones and wish that no more hardships would come our way. Each new challenge seems to bring us to that place where we doubt our own talents and abilities. We are able to overcome any challenge that comes to use but we need to remain focused and remember that the challenges may indeed be more difficult but due to the earlier challenges we have indeed overcome and are stronger and this strength will bless us with the ability to overcome any new challenges.

Resoluteness wants you to look at the challenges before you and use your new skills to be able to resolve the situation smoothly and to the benefit of all involved. You need to be able to see the growth that you have made. Seeing how far you have come will fill you with the courage and the confidence to meet any of the challenges with pride and sensitivity. You may be further down the path than others and for this reason you must use your own judgment to be able to find a solution that will be beneficial for all involved. you must be willing to meditate the situation so that all parties will be able to walk away knowing that the best solution was found. Allow yourself to remain open to the experience of others. By being open people will be more likely to open up to you and this will make the challenge less daunting.

Now is the time for you to remain focused on your goal. Being patient and open will allow you to see the situation from a different perspective. You need to always remember what your long term goal is. By remaining focused you will be able to see which battles are meant for you and which are being forced upon you by others who are avoiding their own path. You need to choose which battles and obstacles will need to be overcome to help you to achieve your own goal. Be mindful of your actions and the consequences they carry. Any action, word or deed taken today will one day return to help or hinder your progress. Resoluteness shows you how to be patient and how to remain focused while not being drawn into the arguments and sidetracks that you will encounter along the path. You have many goals that you need to achieve and once you are able to strip all the frivolous notions from your goal it will be much easier to stay focused and work speedily and confidently to the resolution.

Meditation for Resoluteness

Find a quiet place where you will be able to sit or lie down comfortably without being disturbed. You may wish to play some soft instrumental music or have water flowing softly in the background. When you are ready close your eyes and breathe in deeply. Feel your whole body filling with the breath of life. See your body as a large balloon and as you fill your lungs full of air see your body expand and fill also. When you exhale feel your body shrink back to normal. Continue to breathe and with every breath feel the balloon stretch your skin and your muscles. When you exhale feel all the stress and tension flow out of your body as you decompress. Feel your body grow loose and relaxed with every breath. Continue to breathe until all the stress and anxiety of your day has been stretched away. After 10 breath cycles open your eyes and look at the card in front of you.

Look at Resoluteness. See the expression on his face. See the colour of his eyes. Notice all the different colours and shades and the different lines of the cloth and his face. When you have the images in your mind close your eyes. Feel yourself slip up and out of your body. When you are free of your body feel yourself carried through time to a place of no time. Once in no time see Resoluteness before you larger than life. Feel yourself being pulled into the card. Once inside the card you will be pulled down until you are face to face with resoluteness. Look into his face. Look at the expression. See his eyes. When he looks at you look deep into his eyes. Feel the power of his resolutions. He will begin to ask you questions about your goals that you have made for your life. Answer his questions honestly. He will ask you to define for him your desires and why these are important to you. If he feels that you have answered honestly and if he feels your reasons are noble then he will give you a gift. If he does not agree with you he will tell you to return after you have thought and thought about your hearts desires. When you have received your gift look at it. What does it remind you of? This will be the symbol to look for that will help you upon the path. When you have taken in the gift it will be time to return. When you are ready feel yourself being pulled back out of the card. Feel your body drifting again through space and back through time to yourself. With every breath you take feel yourself settle back into your body. Hear the music around you and feel the energy of your skin tingling with your return. Smell the room around you and when you are ready take a deep breath and open your eyes.

Multi-faith Calendar

Rev. Nehal

Multifaith Calendar – Coming up:

14th August – Janamashtami (Hindu)

The Janamashtami festival marks the birth of Krishna, one of the most popular Gods in the Hindu pantheon.

Krishna is perceived by most Hindus to be an avatar (incarnation) of Vishnu, who is regarded as the highest avatar. It is believed that all other deities are manifestations of him. Krishna is considered to be a warrior, hero, teacher and philosopher by Hindus.

Krishna's birthday is celebrated eight days after Raksha Bandhan in the month of Sravana and celebrations are spread over two days.

The first day is called Krishan ashtami or Gokul ashtami. The second day is known as Kaal ashtami or more popularly Janam ashtami.

For the 48-hour period Hindus are likely to forego sleep and instead sing bhajans, which are traditional Hindu songs. It is believed that Krishna was born at midnight and it is at this time that the true festivities commence. Food is prepared from milk and curds said to have been favoured by Krishna. Some Hindus choose to fast for the first day of Janamashtami, choosing only to eat after the midnight celebrations. Dances and songs are used to venerate and remember this supreme God. Plays are also carried out re-enacting scenes from Krishna's early life. In Temples images of Krishna are bathed and placed in cradles, whilst the shank (conch shell) is played and bells are rung. Holy mantras are also chanted to venerate Krishna.

Given the significance of Krishna in the Hindu pantheon Janamashtami is celebrated with great importance and consideration.

Emails 'sent by dead'

A messaging service to send emails from beyond the grave has been launched called the Last Messages Club.

The service allows personal notes written prior to their death to be sent to loved ones in the future.

Important documents such as wills and insurance details can also be accessed through the service.

Organisers insist The Last Messages Club is in no way ghoulish but eases the stress and trauma associated with the death of a loved one.

A member can write up to 100 emails that can be released once they die at times of their choosing, such as when a relative or loved one marries or has a child.

The Last Messages Club works by giving each member a secure and private vault.

They are then able to create messages to be sent specifically to their chosen recipient.

These messages can range from a final love letter, guidance for someone left behind, a list of instructions, details on life insurance and other financial information.

Photos, videos and documents can also be attached.

Simon Gilligan, 63, from Littleport near Ely, Cambridgeshire, has signed up to the scheme and has written messages to be sent to his wife, children and friends after his death.

The technical adviser said: "It's strange really as it makes you confront your own mortality in a sense.

"I thought at first that maybe it was a bit ghoulish but on consideration I think it's a great idea as it would be nice for loved ones to receive messages from me when I'm no longer here.

"The messages are personal but most of them are humorous. It also makes you think about smaller details like making sure you remind someone to cancel your bus pass."

Geoff Reiss, founder of The Last Messages Club, said: "No one likes to think about their impending 'demise', but it is much better to be fully-prepared, so that there is less stress on your loved ones after you pass away."

People can sign up to a silver option costing £45 or a gold package costing £190.

Quote & Thought of the Day

Rev. Nehal

Quote of the Day:

Achievement seems to be connected with action.
Successful men and women keep moving.
They make mistakes, but they don't quit.

Conrad Hilton

Source: <http://www.katinkahesselink.net/squote/index.htm>

Thought of the day:

Find your enthusiasm

What is it that excites you, and gets you fired up in a positive way, and makes it impossible for you to sit still? Whatever it is, fill your awareness with it.

Bright, sparkling, delicious enthusiasm will get you going in a powerful, purposeful direction. Enthusiasm will keep you going strong even when nothing seems to be going your way.

There's something, some goal, some dream, some intrinsic purpose that will put you in a state of irrepressible enthusiasm. Get busy, find it and connect with it because when you do your effectiveness will skyrocket.

Let yourself dream your biggest, most wonderful and fulfilling dreams. Then reach in, grab the very essence of those dreams and you'll have a handful of priceless enthusiasm.

The best that you can imagine is already within you. So bring it to the surface and let it positively infect your whole world.

Find your own unique, joyful and powerful enthusiasm. And let it carry you to magnificent places.

The 10 Most Haunted Places in the United States

From coast to coast, the U.S. is strewn with haunted hideaways and tales of terror that have yet to fade away. We've rounded up ten of the scariest, in prisons, historical American buildings, and seemingly quaint locales - even a bed and breakfast. The spooky selections are counted down, culminating with the number one most haunted place in the country, an unexpected sunny city.

Chicago's Seedy Underworld

Not to be outdone by spirits above ground, cemetery ghosts are among the most feared. In Chicago, organized crime honchos made a certain cemetery lagoon into their very own garbage pail. Paranormal investigators, be warned.

10. The Bachelor Grove Cemetery in Chicago contains a lagoon that was a favorite body dumping ground for Chi-Town gangsters. The area surrounding the lagoon is said to have become the heart of local black magic and dark rituals. Furthermore, attempts by paranormal experts to investigate the area are continually thwarted as cameras and film mysteriously break down on the spot.

What Lurks Behind Bars

If the thought of prison induces spine tingling, just imagine a ghostly version. The three holdups we've listed take being locked up in a cell to an even creepier level. One is reported to house a ghost brazen enough to stalk mobster Al Capone, another can't shake off the spirits of old prison guards, and a third leaves visitors chilled to the bone.

9. Alcatraz no longer houses human prisoners, but apparitions still cannot escape its formidable grasp. Certain blocks of the federal prison mysteriously remain 20 degrees colder than other areas. Some people believe the sudden temperature drops indicate tortured spirits lingering in sequestered cells.

8. Even before it was left abandoned and vulnerable to wandering spirits, the Eastern State Penitentiary in Pennsylvania was thought by many of its prisoners to be haunted. Notorious convict Al Capone, who also spent time at Alcatraz, claimed to have been the preferred target of a resident ghost. Today, paranormal activity is continually documented in videotaped ghost investigations led by experts and posted on the prison's Web site.

Shadowy American Lore

There's something spooky hovering over America's past. In the South, paranormal presences won't leave a Louisiana plantation or Texas battleground behind. While in Gettysburg, Civil War wounds have yet to heal.

7. The White House is an epicenter of both American government and paranormal activity. Many West Wing staffers say they've felt the presence of Abraham Lincoln and other presidential figures, and even heard Abigail Adams doing laundry. White House chief usher Gary Walters discusses legendary ghost stories in an interview on the White House Web site.

6. In St. Francisville, Louisiana, the Civil War-era Myrtle Plantation boasts having more ghosts than any haunted house in the United States. Several paranormal factors collide to create a swirling storm of eeriness: a disrespected ancient Indian burial ground, historical murders, horrific suicides and gruesome war deaths. Want ghostly proof? Inside the plantation's lobby, the grand piano is known to play itself.

5. If anyone remembers the Alamo, it's the sentries who died protecting the mission. In fact, ghosts of these brave guards are said to haunt the Alamo grounds, which prompted the city of San Antonio to abandon its plans to turn the Alamo into a prison in the late 19th century. Making prisoners sleep alongside ghosts seemed too cruel and unusual a punishment.

4. Visitors to Gettysburg, site of the brutal Civil War battle, often experience a hair-raising blast from the past, hearing gunshots crack and catching whiffs of gunpowder. This disturbing phenomenon gives tourists a taste of America's bloodiest battle, but doesn't quite compare to the anguish of those who perished. Some victims are said to remain in spirit at Gettysburg, stuck in an eternal North vs. South struggle.

Murderous Revenge

On remote islands and tucked inside storied inns, unpleasant secrets linger. The next two haunted picks reveal how horrific crimes can live on, lending an uneasy feeling to everyday life.

3. On a small rocky island in Maine, the Seguin Island Lighthouse has a hard-to-swallow backstory, purportedly haunted by a by a former keeper who murdered his wife with an ax and then committed suicide. Supposedly, the keeper's wife had driven him insane by playing the same song repeatedly on the piano, which he'd given to her as a present. Visitors to the island today say whispers of the song are carried in on Atlantic breezes.

2. Travelers who want a full-on haunted experience should head to the Lizzie Borden Bed and Breakfast in Fall River, Mass. The legend of Lizzie is another heinous tale—this time with an axe. Borden's parents didn't make it out alive, but visitors can try their luck as a guest; some claim they've been tucked into bed by an apparition of Lizzie's mother. The next morning, dig into a recreation of Lizzie's last breakfast, served by the inn's hosts.

The Height of Haunted

Things don't always go as planned, as one 1800s thief found out the hard way. Yankee Jim was caught stealing - and not just a pack of gum. As if the public humiliation of being hanged for grand larceny wasn't enough, Jim's long legs made certain his death would not be quick and painless. Today, visitors to the site of his demise report sensing Jim's drawn-out agony. The number one most haunted place in the U.S. turned a sunny surf town into the host of a wretched execution.

1. In a mangled execution at San Diego's Whaley House in 1853, "Yankee Jim," who'd been arrested for grand larceny, was hanged. But Jim was too tall for the noose, and his death was drawn out for more than an hour before stunned spectators. Visitors have reported feeling a sensation of tightening around their throats upon entering the Whaley House, one of 30 designated as haunted by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Inanna

Inanna, Queen of the sky, daughter of An and Nanna,
You paint a brilliant pattern of stars against a deep, inky, black canvas.

Illuminate the night with your love and blessings

despite our sometimes undeserving ways.

Illuminate our lives with love throughout the cycles of light and dark,

And through the turning of the wheel.

As the day winds down may we remember all you have to offer us.

Witchschool Referral Program

Witch School, our long-time educational partner, has made an offer to the Tradition and its member Temples and groups.

Witch School has created a new Referral Program. The Tradition itself has enrolled in this program – as you can see from the button in the left-hand menu on correllian.com. You are encouraged to consider enrolling your Temple or group as well, as a means of generating potential passive income.

The program works like this: members receive their own button which they can put on their website, in their email signature, etc... offering Witch School memberships. If anyone purchases a membership through your button, you will receive (approximately) 25% of the payment –that is $4 of a $19.99 yearly membership, or $25 of a $99.99 Lifetime Membership.

Each button has its own unique code which tracks payments made through it. If someone buys a membership through your button, then you get the abovementioned 25%.

If you are interested in finding out more about this program, or in signing up for it, go to www.witchschool.biz.

Witch School are offering a discount on supplies to Correllian Temples and groups in good standing: for example the Witch School books at 40% off cover price, and other discounts on the various items the school produces. THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystal High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be
Krystal
