Multi-faith Calendar – Coming up:

Rev. Nehal

Monday 29th September – Michaelmas

Michaelmas, the feast of Saint Michael the Archangel (also the Feast of SS Michael, Gabriel, and Raphael or the Feast of Michael and All Angels) is a day in the Christian calendar which occurs on 29 September. Because it falls near the equinox, it is associated in the northern hemisphere with the beginning of autumn and the shortening of days. Michael was the greatest of all the archangels and is honored for his defeat of Lucifer in the battle for the heavens in the Bible.

The Archangel Michael is one of the principal angelic warriors, seen as a protector against the dark of night, and the administrator of cosmic intelligence. Michaelmas has also delineated time and seasons for secular purposes as well, particularly in the United Kingdom and Ireland.

History

During the Middle Ages, Michaelmas was celebrated as a Holy Day of Obligation, but this tradition was abolished in the 18th century. Lutheran Christians consider it a principal feast of Christ, and the Lutheran Confessor, Philip Melancthon wrote a hymn for the day that is still sung in Lutheran Churches: "Lord God to Thee We Give." It was also one of the English and Welsh and Irish quarter days when accounts had to be settled. On manors, it was the day when a reeve was elected from the peasants. Traditional meal for the day includes goose (a "stubble-goose", i.e. one prepared around harvest time) and a special cake called a St Michael's bannock. On the Isle of Skye, Scotland, a procession was held.

In addition, the traditional printer's fete, the wayzgoose, was celebrated on or around Michaelmas, again, as a celebration of the changing seasons, it being the advent of work by candlelight. The master printer would provide a feast for his journeymen and apprentices, and as per tradition, a stubble-goose was also prepared.

Differences in numbers of archangels

In Anglican and Episcopal tradition, there are three or four archangels in its calendar for 29 September feast for St. Michael and All Angels: namely Michael, Gabriel and Raphael, and often, Uriel. The Bible itself identifies only Michael as "the archangel" (book of Jude, verse 9) and does not identify any other creatures as being archangels.

Modern observances

Michaelmas is still celebrated in the Waldorf schools, which celebrate it as the "festival of strong will" during the autumnal equinox.

Old Michaelmas Day

Old Michaelmas Day falls on 11 October (10 October according to some sources). According to an old legend, blackberries should not be picked after this date. This is because, so folklore goes, Satan was banished from Heaven on this day, fell into a blackberry bush and cursed the brambles as he fell into them. In Yorkshire it is said that the devil had spat on them. According to Morrell (1977), this old legend is well-known in all parts of the United Kingdom, even as far north as the Orkney Islands.

Queens NY GOP Won't Dump Pagan Candidate

Lisa Derrick

In a stunning show of tolerance that defies theocon C-Streetism, the GOP in Queens, NY will not replace Pagan high priest Dan Halloran as their candidate for District 19 city council in the November 3 election. Considering George Bush administration officials objected to giving author J.K. Rowling the Presidential Medal of Freedom because the Harry Potter books "encouraged witchcraft," that's a very open-minded stance.

Halloran is First Atheling or king in his faith, Theodism, a cultural, religious, and martial organization; dedicated to reviving the folkways of the Norman peoples of Northern Europe...

Theodism is basically a reconstructed/revisionist form of pre-Christian Northern European polytheism, which differs doctrinally from the similarly Norse-based Astaru and the more familiar Celtic based-based Wicca; though they share some of the same holidays, based on solar and lunar cycles. In Theodism, kings are also the high priests; the gods Tyr, Odin and Freyr offer their blessings in the form of luck on the priest-king and thus down through the people.

Halloran--an attorney and partner in the firm Palmieri, Castiglione & Halloran, served as legal counsel and incorporating attorney for the New York City Pagan Pride Project, and the chairman of the state Republican Liberty Caucus--has been endorsed by the Queens County Republican Party.

Phyllis Curott, a New York-based attorney, author, activist and Wiccan high priestess doesn't know Halloran, but isn't surprised to find a Pagan running for office, though the party affiliation was a little eye-opening. She told La Figa exclusively:

Pagans are everywhere, I've been saying it for years. Doctors, soldiers, bankers, lawyers with all sorts of political views. But an official Republican Party candidate! Move over Christian right, here come the Pagans. I certainly disagree with his politics, but it's great that he's running.

Queens GOP Chairman Phil Ragusa and the GOP executive committee were aware of Halloran's religious beliefs when he announced his candidacy; and Halloran was the odds on favorite to win the city council seat in Queens against newcomer Kevin Kim until the Queens Tribune ran a story about Halloran's faith.

Turns out the article was far from objective, because, as reports the Village Voice:

a Kim campaign consultant also happens to be the VP of the Queens Tribune, and because Queens congressman Gary Ackerman, who founded the paper and still holds a chunk of it, used to be Kim's boss and who urged his old employee to make the race...

After the Tribune article hit, it looked like the local GOP honchos were going to replace Halloran on the ticket with a conservative Democrat and slip Halloran into State Supreme Court post--except that Halloran, admitted into the bar in 2003, lacks the required 10 years as an attorney to take the judgeship. But on Thursday, the Republicans stood by their man.

Queens County GOP Vice Chairman Vince Tabone, who is also the spokesman for Halloran's campaign, told local reporters:

I think it's particularly repugnant to have a religious test. We saw people trying to do that with [President Barack] Obama and Mitt Romney. Flushing is a birthplace of religious freedom. It's part of Queens' heritage. It's a community where Protestants and Catholics and Sikhs live side by side.

Attorney Curott--who is High Priestess of the Temple of Ara, along with being an Ambassador to the Parliament of World's Religions--optimistically sees this as an opportunity for greater acceptance of pagan faiths, especially in Republican politics:

Attitudes have certainly changed--the Republican Party apparently already knew he was Pagan! They're defending his religious freedom, advocating religious tolerance and condemning a religious test for office as repugnant. Marvelous. Quite a change from Jesse Helm's introducing legislation to take away the tax-exempt status of Wiccan religious institutions. Or Bob Barr's condemnation of religious observances by Wiccan soldiers on military bases, or President Bush's remarks that he didn't think Wicca was a religion so he "hoped the military take another look at it." Let's hope it's change we can believe in.

And Halloran himself says:

I don't think any of this is really relevant to the City Council race. It's like talking about what church you pray at. That you understand the divine is the most important part...As long as we proceed in our civic lives with dignity and honor, that's what matters.

Quote & Thought of the Day

Rev. Nehal

Quote of the Day:

Look at every path closely and deliberately, then ask ourselves this crucial question: Does this path have a heart? If it does, then the path is good. If it doesn't, it is of no use.

Carlos Castaneda

Thought of the day:

Owning failure

When you fail to get the desired results, what's the first thing you must do? Take credit for it.

If you don't take credit, you don't learn the extremely valuable lesson for which you've just paid dearly. If you don't take credit and own your failures, you'll continue to experience more of them.

Instead, go ahead and take complete credit and ownership of your failures. Because when you take full ownership of your failures, you fully empower yourself to successfully get beyond them.

What you own, you control. When you choose to own your results, then you put yourself in control of those results.

When you own your results, you can decide what those results will be. And they can be whatever you wish to make them.

Admit your failures, take credit for them, embrace them, and own them. When you willingly take responsibility and ownership even for the failures, you're positioned for magnificent success.

Spiteful Roman Cops Try to Stop Durga Puja

Jason

The five-day Durga Puja is one of India's most popular festivals, and Hindus across the globe, from Moscow and Berlin to cities all across America attend (often lavish) gathering to worship the goddess Durga. However, one city for two years running has done its best to make sure local Hindus can't have their festival.

“The Municipal Police authorities of Rome have today [Thursday] withdrawn permission, granted three weeks ago, to celebrate Durga Puja in Rome. The cancellation came a few hours before the Ambassador of India was scheduled to inaugurate the Puja at 8 pm local time. No acceptable explanation has been given. This has caused the local Indian community the loss of thousands of Euros spent in preparatory arrangements. The same thing was done in the same manner in 2008 also.”

Arif Shahid Khan, the Indian ambassador to Italy, was able to eventually get permission restored, though their festivities are now 48 hours behind schedule (imagine if Christians were forced to wait until Tuesday to celebrate Easter). While some believe these 11th-hour cancellations are Catholic retribution for the mistreatment of Christians in India (because the best way to make a point about mistreatment is to engage in it), Kanchan Gupta sees a deeper motivation.

“There could be another reason, apart from its “deep concern” about the welfare of Christians in India, for Italy's callous disregard of the sentiments of Hindus in that country. Although the Italian Constitution guarantees religious freedom, under the Lateran Treaty with the Vatican, Italy recognises only the three religions of Semitic origin — Christianity, Judaism and Islam. All other religions are no more than paganism and are to be shamed and shunned. The Vatican would not countenance any open breach of the Lateran Treaty; Italy would not want to be seen as recognising Hinduism. “It's only natural that Italy should have a surfeit of churches. But it's the rejection of any other faith than Christianity, Judaism and Islam that explains why there are so many mosques but virtually no temples in Italy although this country has a large Hindu expatriate population,” my friend told me while regretting the attitude of the Government and the local authorities. According to him, there are only three temples in Italy: One in a garage in Venice; another at Frescolo and the third at Reggio Emilia. These survive at the mercy of local zoning officials.”

Catholic-dominated Italy, like Orthodox-controlled Greece, doesn't tolerate manifestations of faith that fall too far outside the accepted Christian “norm”. In Italy you can still be prosecuted for insulting the Pope, and any whiff of modern Pagan religion gets you counted as a “Satanist” who needs an exorcism (despite all that, there is a thriving Pagan underground in Italy). These actions make Italian authorities look like vengeful thugs rather than prophetic Christians, as Gupta says in the close of his article: “if Christians can celebrate Christmas in New Delhi, Hindus have the right to celebrate Durga Puja in Rome. This is non-negotiable.” Maybe these authorities need to stop worrying so much about the Christians in India, and instead start worrying about the Constitution of Italy that guarantees equal treatment under the law

I'm So Proud to be Saxon

©Anastasia F-B

What was the most important story of last week? Was it the antics of Ahmadinejad or Gaddafi in New York? Was it the meeting of the Security Council? Was it the photo opportunity for the G20 in Pittsburgh? For some, perhaps, but not for me. For me there is only one answer: the discovery of the Anglo-Saxon artefacts in Staffordshire, right in the heart of Mercia, one of the most important-and elusive-of the seven kingdoms that once made up the Heptarchy.

This may very well turn out to be one of the most significant archaeological finds ever made in England, at least the equal to the discoveries made at Sutton Hoo in Suffolk seventy years ago, which cast some light into the English 'Dark Age'. It was made by one Terry Herbert using a second-hand metal detector he bought for £2.50 from a car boot sale, a discovery that would have made even Indiana Jones envy!

These wonderful artefacts, some six hundred and fifty items so far, many in gold and in silver, decorated with the most beautiful Saxon filigree, dates to the period between the late seventh to the early eighth centuries AD, a period of change and transition, a period when the old paganism was giving way to the advance of Christianity. Without exaggeration it has been likened to the discovery of a new Book of Kells or a Lindisfarne Gospel. Dr Kevin Leahy, an advisor to the Portable Antiquities scheme, said that the items represent the pinnacle of Anglo-Saxon craftsmanship;

Gold was more valuable at that time than it is now. So gold went to the best craftsmen. This was the best they could do. Cutting these garnets is incredibly difficult. They can't be cleaved. They have to be sawn, then polished. They even set them on gold foil so that they sparkle when the foil catches the light.

The hoard itself seems to be a collection of war trophies, buried for unknown reasons and never recovered. They're a great many sword hilts, confirming a passage in Beowulf that these were taken from dead enemies as tokens of victory in battle.

I would say that possibly the most important thing is the location of the find, right in the midst of what once was the Kingdom of Mercia. This is bound to reveal as much about this place once ruled over by Penda, the last of England's pagan kings, as Sutton Hoo did about the Kingdom of East Anglia. More than that it might tell us some more about the way in which Christianity was received and perceived by what were essentially warrior states.

The question that puzzles me is why and in what manner did an essentially pacifist cult make progress among such blood-thirsty peoples, not just in England but across the rest of pagan Europe. The answer surely has to be in the mode of presentation, in the way the early missionaries depicted Christ; less a New Testament Prince of Peace; more an Old Testament God of Battles. The clue here is one gold strip, possibly a cross fragment, inscribed in Latin by a passage from the Book of Numbers or Psalm 67, taken from the Vulgate, the Bible used by the Saxons;

Rise up O Lord, and may thy enemies be dispersed and those who hate thee be driven from thy face

So it would seem from this that the Saxon kings adopted Christianity for the political advantages it offered in much the same way that it was adopted earlier by the Roman Emperor Constantine. More precise dating is likely to reveal even deeper levels of interpretation.

The richness of the material, the weight of gold discovered, also says much more about the Anglo-Saxon states, about their wealth and their sophistication. The notion of a 'Dark Age' was always a myth; never more so in the light of the Staffordshire finds. It makes me proud to be a Saxon. :-)

Poets Retreat

The Long and Winding Path

When I came into this world
Those who were to direct me
Didn't
I was ignored in favor
Of alcohol
With all its aches and pains
And empty promises
So I found my path alone
A very long path
With its ups and downs
Twists and turns
Pain and suffering
That's all I could see
I was so small
A speck in the great order of things
But I began to walk it
One foot in front of the other
Stumbling and falling
I picked myself up
Over and over again
Determined to survive
Against adult odds
Never cowering in the Face of drunken rage
My small chin raised
With hope and faith
And Goddess knew this
But my path wasn't going to be easy
I had to fight with
All my strength to keep Going forward
My inner light was stronger
Than its body of flesh
One gave the other
The power of determination
For 6 years I suffered
One home after another
Heartache and loss
False I love yous
Hoping that I'd get adopted
And have a normal life
Goddess knew this
By never losing faith
And hoping every day
I was adopted
By loving people
And they set me

Right along my path
The bumps were still there
 But smaller
Every twist was an adventure
 Every turn a surprise
And they saw to my spirit
 Damaged as it was
The scars were quite apparent
 But love heals
 And I was loved
Like a caged animal i was Set free
To live, to learn, to grow
 And Goddess saw this
 And i knew it
 I was always loved
Right from the beginning
 But I needed to suffer
 So I could gain
An understanding heart
 In the face of pain
 Thus was my path
 For years to come
I walked my path bravely
 Never losing hope
 Trying to see
 The good in everyone
 And everything
And Goddess knew this
 Oh there were times
 I just wanted to quit
And something would happen
 An encouraging word
 A special moment
 And I would take
 The next step hoping
 That everything
 Would work out fine
 Lesson after lesson
Further along my path
And Goddess saw this
 And I knew it to
One second, one minute
 One hour, one day
 My faith shines
 For all to see
Its been a long path indeed

LUSTRATION OF THE LIVING

Sept 4, 5, & 6, Chicago, IL

Greetings all!

I am very pleased to say that the recent Lustration of the Living and Prophecy Conference was a great success and everyone who attended said that they enjoyed the experience very much. Hosted by Holy City Temple of Chicago, IL, the Lustration was held at the Life Force Arts Center, at 3148 N. Lincoln (www.lifeforcearts.org). The Life Force Arts Center is a beautiful class and event space belonging to Joan Forest Mage, who has been featured in many interviews on MagickTV over the years.

The weekend began with a reception on Friday evening. The evening's special guests were Louvel and Lisa of Chicago's famous Occult bookstore, now celebrating its 90th anniversary! Louvel and Lisa, who are old friends of Holy City Temple, are Priesthood in the Vodun religion –respectively a Houngan and Mambo. Houngan Louvel and Mambo Lisa performed an opening blessing from the Vodun religion intended to "open the door" to positive energies and shut out negative ones during the weekend. The blessing featured prayers in several languages, song and dance. It was a lovely, graceful ceremony and set the tone for what was to be the most interfaith oriented Lustration ever.

Following the opening blessing ceremony were opening statements from Arch Priestess Traci Logan Wood and myself. September 4th is Correllian Founding day and this is a special year for the Tradition as it is our thirtieth year as a public Tradition. It is also my thirtieth year as First Priest of the Tradition.

September 4th is also the founding day for our educational partner Witch School, which is now in its eighth year. It is amazing to me how much Witch School has done in a mere eight years. Ranked as the highest trafficked Pagan website in the world by Alexa, which compiles such data, Witch School is now in 130 countries worldwide. Although Witch School teaches many other subjects as well, the Correllian Clergy classes offered through the Traditions educational partnership with the school have propelled Correllianism into a truly global movement.

Thirty years ago when Lady Krystel and I declared Correllianism a public Tradition, the members of the Correll Mother Temple expected this to mean only very limited, local growth –who could have imagined how much the world would change in thirty years, or how much Correllianism would grow with those changes? We were told by the Ancestors that these things would come, but how could we ever have fully understood?

And of course, that is the reason for the theme of this Lustration: Prophecy. The Correllian Tradition is and has always been guided by the Ancestors and the ability to receive such guidance is the baseline of our Third Degree. We wanted to use this Lustration to discuss not only how the Correllian High Priesthood and Arch Priesthood use oracular prophecy and interaction with the Beloved Ancestors, but also how other religions do so. Consequently we gathered a range of speakers representing several points of view to discuss how they work with ancestors and prophecy.

Later Lady Traci and I conducted an Ancestor ceremony in which invoked the Correllian Ancestors to watch over the weekend, and then asked each person to invoke their own Ancestors to join us.

Friday evening was a time for socializing and catching up with old friends. Among other things Nina Jankowski regaled us with tales of her adventures as a ghost hunter! It was also a time to look over the many exciting items in the Lustration auction. This auction, which had been taking absentee bids online until Thursday, was organized to help support the Lustration by Rev. Mike Neal, of the CNT Fundraising Office. Mike did a wonderful job with the auction that included many beautiful items donated for the support of Lustration including hand-painted candles, handmade dolls and wall hangings, statuary, plaques, and jewelry –and many other items. Added to the auction onsite only were three Ancestor altars created by Arch Priestess Traci. The largest of these was made from hinged window frames mounted with photos and artwork, intended to represent the seeing between the borders of the worlds. The two smaller Ancestor altars were intended to be easily portable and were created for tabletop use.

Saturday morning began with breakfast onsite at the Life Force Arts Center. This started the day out beautifully and was followed by our diverse line-up of speakers.

At 10 AM Lady Traci and I spoke on the subject of oracular working within the Correllian Tradition, the role of the Ancestors as guides and partners, and how the oracles of the Ancestors –whether delivered at Lustration or on an ongoing basis in the Mother Temple- shape the direction of the Tradition. Although the primary point of contact is the Mother Temple, and primary the First Priesthood, the Correllian Tradition is a circle which runs through both the world of the living and the world of spirit, those in Spirit continuing to stand hand-in-hand with the living. One of our core beliefs is that the barrier between the living and the spirits is no impediment to communication, and one of our goals is that in time that communication can and shall become second nature to all humanity, not only accomplished Priesthood.

Next at 11 AM Babalawo Alan Kulevich Ifa-Bi spoke about the role of Ancestors in the Ifa religion. The Babalawo spoke about how the Ifa regard their Ancestors and how they interact with them. Lady Traci had prepared a special Ancestor Altar compatible with the Ifa Tradition, and Babalawo Alan conducted an Ifa Ancestor propitiation ceremony in which people were invited to take part and make offerings to their particular Ancestors. This was a very exciting presentation with much music and singing, which are very important in the Ifa Tradition.

After lunch Rev. Diana of Holy City Temple spoke on the subject of the Akashic Records, and how they can be used as an oracular tool. Significantly Rev. Diana began her presentation by explaining that she had not originally thought of the Akashic Records as being Oracular, until she came to understand the Correllian use of the term "Oracle" –now she regards the Akashic Records as being profoundly oracular in nature. Rev. Diana explained what the Akashic Records are and gave practical information about how to interact with them and ways in which such interaction can be of benefit in life.

After Rev. Diana the next speaker was Rt. Rev. Deena Butta, AU. Lady Deena is an Arch Priestess of the Fellowship of Isis –a spiritual fellowship dedicated to the feminine aspect of Deity in all religions. Lady Deena spoke a bit about what the Fellowship of Isis is and how it was founded, but her primary focus was on the role of Oracles in the Isian liturgy and also Isian history. Lady Olivia, the Head of the FOI, is an extremely accomplished Oracle who has followed Oracular guidance throughout the history of FOI. Most FOI liturgy features an Oracle delivered by Lady Olivia at the time of the liturgy's writing, and often an Oracle (or Oracles) delivered on the spot by the Priesthood enacting the rite. Perhaps the most memorable moment in Lady Deena's presentation was her discussion of the impromptu Oracle that Lady Olivia delivered during the Parliament of Worlds religions in Chicago, in 1993.

Joan Forest Mage spoke next on the role of Ancestors and Oracular work in Shamanism. Joan spoke about how Shamans interact with spirit and the spirit world, and about the different ways one can look at the idea of an "Ancestor". Joan then led us all on a Shamanic journey to meet our spiritual ancestors, which proved to a fascinating experience.

Lastly Shauna Aura and Mark Mandrake of Earth Spirit Chicago spoke on the idea of "Becoming Tomorrow's Ancestor Today." Shauna and Mark addressed the idea that it is how we live now that determines whether our descendants will look back upon us as honored Ancestors to be remembered and revered, or as people they would just as soon forget. Mark and Shauna discussed issues such as positive leadership skills and conflict resolution, and how these can build a better community.

Thank you to all of these wonderful speakers who made Saturday such a pleasure!

After dinner at the Golden Apple restaurant –a special treat for our Discordian friends- we spent Saturday evening conducting initiations and initiatory confirmations.

I would like to offer congratulations to High Priestess Rev. Diane Lavendoski who had her Third Degree initiation: to Rev. Mike Neal and Rev. Jennifer Stafford who had their Second Degree initiations: to Rev. Nina Jankowski who had her First Degree initiation: and to Gretchen Broadhurst who had her Dedication Ceremony. Congratulations all!

Rev. Nina was our first-ever deaf initiate at Lustration. We have had many deaf Clergy who performed self-initiation, but this was the first performed in real-time. Although we had been uncertain how it might go, with Goddess' help it was a great success. I would like to thank Lady Traci for her tremendous assistance in translating to ASL.

Sunday of course was the Lustration itself. We all gathered again for breakfast at LFAC and then went straight into rehearsal. The ceremony was lovely and even though many people had only received their part assignment the night before the ritual came off without a hitch.

Mark Mandrake of ESC acted as Guardian, and greatly enjoyed getting to use the Big Sword. Rev. Diana of Holy City acted as both Vocifer and Sonifer. Gretchen Broadhurst performed the cleansing and blessing of the circle as both Aquifer and Lucifer. Chancellor's Herald Rev. Jason Highcorrell, HP, acted as Genevocator and Rev. Diane Lavendoski, HP, acted as Junovacator. The Quarter Guardians were Rev. Jennifer Stafford in the East: Rev. Michael Barry in the South: Rev. Amanda W in the West: and Rev. Mike Neal in the North. The Conjoined Charge was enacted by Shauna Aura and Mark Mandrake of ESC with Rev. Diane Lavendoski, HP, acting as Lector. Long-time friend of the Tradition Kathy Adams acted as Offertory Priestess. Rev. Pete Hertzberg, HP, acted as Elder's Herald while Arch Priestess Rt. Rev. Traci Logan Wood acted for the First Elder. Rev. Stephanie Neal, HP, acted for the First Priestess while Chancellor M. Rev. Donald Lewis enacted his part as First Priest.

The Oracle of the Ancestors said:

"We walk in many directions. We walk to the East. We walk to the South. We walk to the West. We walk to the North. One foot before the other: it is simple. It is no different from walking out our front door –and yet we walk through all the corners of the world. Behold –for many years we have worked to Open The Door. Now we step through it. For many years we have awaited the changes and prepared the way for them. But now they are changing. Behold –for many years we have called you forth. Spoken to you. And now you must speak.

"The whole world stands upon the brink of a new day –the Dawn has begun, the Sun is rising! Greet the Sun with song and prayer and welcome the coming of the Day. And know that always the moment you are in is the best moment of all –for it is the moment you can work from! Do not worry if it is what you thought: do not worry if it is what you hoped: but rather make of it what you can! For all moments are One Moment! And always the question is: How will you use it?

"This year is a pivotal time, and the pivot is yet to turn. But we say to you that now is the time of our Working. Now is the time –not for preparation but for action! For many years we have been the midwives of the Turning of the Age. But no longer! Now we must be the Nannies of a newborn Age. And we must remember that the work is not done when the child is born, but rather only begins –and intensifies with time.

It is more important as Time goes forward to continue the Work: to expand the Work: to deepen the Work. And this we call upon you to do...within the next six months. ALL ROADS ARE OPEN TO YOU. For years you have cleared them. And now you must walk them. This then is the message of the Ancestors."

As always there were Temple Deemings: Congratulations to Rev. Lisamarie Halliday and the members of Serenity Proto-Temple in County Durham, UK –now Serenity Temple! Congratulations also to Rev. Zaina Katherina Ghazzoul and members of Sacred Light Witan Shrine in Maryland, USA –now Sacred Light Proto-Temple! It should be noted that, while not officially representing Sacred Light Witan Shrine, Rev. Diane Lavendowski spoke most glowingly of the Lady Katherina's history and accomplishments.

In addition, two Lustration Awards were presented.

The Order of the Golden Wand was awarded to Andre Smith, heroic South African police officer and member of the international Officers of Avalon. Andre was nominated because of his hard work as a police officer in a country that continues to be challenged by violence, both in the constantly ongoing sense and in regards to a recent series of murders. In recognizing Andre we also wish to voice our support for police officers around the world who work hard and often suffer to keep others safe. Congratulations Andre!

The Order of the Golden Wand was also presented to Rev. Stephanie Neal, HP, in recognition of all her work to support the Tradition and the community. Most notably the Award recognizes Lady Stephanie's work in forming the WSIVG which does so much good work in the world, as well as her own good work in nurturing students and Temple members, supporting the local community, giving to local schools, food banks and much more. Congratulations Lady Stephanie!

The final act of the weekend was to close the Ancestor ritual we had begun on Friday night, giving thanks to all of the Ancestors who had been invoked for the weekend.

I especially want to thank Lady Traci and all the members of Holy City Temple for all of their hard work that made this such a special Lustration.

You can read about this Lustration and see photos at <http://www.correllian.com/lustration15chicago.htm> or simply go to the "Adventures" page and click on the first link! Watch for Lustration video at Magick TV at www.witchschool.com/page/magicktv-main!

After Lustration ended many of us again dined together at the Golden Apple restaurant. The general feeling among those present was that this was one of the nicest and most pleasant Lustrations ever, and that the family feeling that permeates our Tradition was very strongly felt at this event. It is wonderful to see ones family grow so large and to know that we can still all come together in love to honor the living and the spirits! Truly, that is a great accomplishment to achieve in thirty years as a public Tradition!

Many Blessings to All!

Correllian Clergy Degree Program

A new membership has been created called the Correllian Clergy Degree Program. This is a 3-year program that can help you earn your Wiccan Degrees and Legal Clergy Status. Of course every lifetime and supporting member has access to this main program.

The purpose of this level is for those individuals who are interested in gaining their clergy status, and this offers an opportunity for members to do so affordably.

This program is only $49.99. To find out more:
<http://www.Witchschool.com/clergydegree.asp>

Witchschool Referral Program

Witch School, our long-time educational partner, has made an offer to the Tradition and its member Temples and groups.

Witch School has created a new Referral Program. The Tradition itself has enrolled in this program – as you can see from the button in the left-hand menu on correllian.com. You are encourage to consider enrolling your Temple or group as well, as a means of generating potential passive income.

The program works like this: members receive their own button which they can put on their website, in their email signature, etc... offering Witch School memberships. If anyone purchases a membership through your button, you will receive (approximately) 25% of the payment –that is $4 of a $19.99 yearly membership, or $25 of a $99.99 Lifetime Membership.

Each button has its own unique code which tracks payments made through it. If someone buys a membership through your button, then you get the abovementioned 25%.

If you are interested in finding out more about this program, or in signing up for it, go to www.witchschool.biz.

Witch School are offering a discount on supplies to Correllian Temples and groups in good standing: for example the Witch School books at 40% off cover price, and other discounts on the various items the school produces. If you would like to learn more about this, contact Lady Virginia at Virginia@witchschool.com and she will be happy to explain further.

These offers are being extended to all of our Correllian Temples, Proto-Temples, Witan Shrines, Formal Shrines, Personal Shrines, Orders, and Study Groups who might wish to sign up.

THE ORDER OF WEB WEAVERS CRYSTAL WEB MAPPING PROJECT

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalogue your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly catalogued we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers

THE ORDER OF WORLD WALKERS

This Correllian order is headed by the Rev. Krystel High Correll and she is offering training for those who wish to join the order. The training consists of twelve lessons, one a month, for a year, offered through e-mail.

The purpose of this order is to fulfill the deeper purposes of the Correllian Tradition--advanced psychic and spiritual work, primarily conducted on multi-dimensional levels. This work includes:

Learning to connect and work with your spirit guides. Conscious dying and conscious incarnation. Advanced dream work. Exploring the known boundaries of the multi-dimensional universe, then conducting independent work to go beyond those boundaries. The study of time and advanced work within it. Soul rescue (helping those who are not aware they have died, or are not willing to cross over). Mediumship (being a voice for the so-called dead, visiting the land of the dead and communicating with them, and building a pathway between the living and the dead). Healing, both personal and of our Earth.

These purposes are divided among five houses that consist of the members who are dedicated to the work of the House.

The Order of World Walkers is a working order. The training is only the beginning. Each of the houses offer work that can be done for the rest of your life, if you choose to do it.

I believe that everyone who chooses to become a member of the order chose this before coming into this life time to continue work begun in other lives.

For more in-depth information, including the cost of the lessons, contact me at krystelneuman@yahoo.com

May You Blessed Be Krystel
