Free Monthly Tarot Readings Offered

Profile of Reader

Rev. John (Ing) Snodgrass, HP:

Tarot Reader, 25 plus years experience I know that for many of you monthly readers of our magazine here may not always get the opportunity to physically sit down with someone who is skilled in the art of reading the cards, or perhaps afford to pay for expensive regular monthly readings, so what I would like to do is provide you with a free monthly reading...a little guidance as it were, and an easy and convenient access to much needed information for the coming month. What I am offering to you is a free basic3 Card - Tarot Card Reading which can help guide you through periods when your emotions have become troubled and clouded thoughts are all you have. I wish to be of service to you by offering this free reflection of your past, present and possible future and thus offer to you For this project, I am calling upon all Temples, Proto-Temples, Witan Shrines,a short fresh perspective on your life, and its many problems.

Announcements

For your free reading just email me at: rev.ing.hp@gmail.com with your 1 question for the upcoming month ... I will post both the cards and their answer for you... At no time will names be used or email addresses posted... I will require you to email me your zip code (or a 5 number code) and a 3 alphabetic letter combination of your choice...these I will use as the title for your printed reply so that you can find your personal reading in totally anonymity... as I will remove the email from my files as soon as your reading is done and thus no further emailed comments will be forth coming from me...

CNT Donations

Greetings Everyone,

It is hoped that someday, through fundraising events such as this and regular monthly donations by our members that we as a Tradition will be able to financially support our High Priesthood who has sacrificed so much through the years to bring this Tradition to the world. Consider becoming a regular supporter of CNT by going to the "Givers Zone" webpage on our website. <http://www.correllian.com/donate.htm> If you have something you wish to donate for the April Lustration of the Ancestors Silent Auction - it is not too early. contact me at:

Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure our records are up to date and accurate. The information we need in order to best catalog your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Send to the following e-mail address:

Windy0716@aol.com

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly cataloged we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings~Order of the Web Weavers

Order of Web Weaver's Monthly Ritual

Ritual on the 11th. of each month (Time you do the Ritual is up to you as long as it is done on the 11th.)

The Ritual is for Hope, Peace, Love and Prosperity.

The energy sent out through the Web is for anyone to use throughout the world if they so desire.

Hope

May the winds of hope bloom sweeping away despair & sorrow so that life again may grow building a better tomorrow. May hope clear the air and end the darkling clouds of fear & pain and bright beginnings send that we may dare to dream again.

May what was dark & overcast be now renewed & once more whole freed from all limitations past. Healed by hope within the soul. Awake now hope! Spread wings & fly!

Announcements

Cleanse & liberate my heart! All things are possible and I in wings of hope shall claim my part!

Peace

May the Fires of Peace burn bright giving light when the world is darkest putting hate & bigotry to flight and laying prejudice to rest. May the light of peace melt away the encrustation of violence and bitterness which holds sway so often in the world's events.

May peace transmute & tame unruly aggression and arrogance. Subdue them in humanities name to give the future a decent chance.

Thus I say and thus I pray and thus I will it to come to be I pray and work for peace this day for all the world, for you, for me!

Love Calling

May love like water pour forth filling my heart and soul. Flowing out over all the Earth and making all things whole. Love as deep as the ocean, clear as the mountain lakes crowning all other emotion. The Thirst of Humanity slakes love enters & heals the anchoring heart and washes away its pain.

Thus clearing the way for a better start to reach out & love others again fill me oh love, like a cup to the top fill the world as well like without stop and all the world know love

Announcements

a sea that I may know love from the world

Prosperity Blessing

Prosperity high as the mountains fastness,
Prosperity rich as the fertile ground,
Prosperity deeps as the caverns vastness,
Prosperity wide as the World round,
Prosperity helps heal the hating heal,
Prosperity helps heal fear.

Prosperity fosters the peace-makers art,
Prosperity I call you here! Prosperity come make us feel secure! Prosperity helps us love peace! Prosperity help us the future ensure!

Prosperity I pray you increase! Prosperity I call you to manifest now! Prosperity rumble & shake! Prosperity now in my life I allow! Prosperity like an earthquake!

Creating a Crystal Access Point

Dig the hole in which you will bury the crystal before you start to cast the circle.

Begin by casting a Circle. Since you will be out of doors and may not be burying your crystal in a private place, you may want it to be a very simple.

Circle: you can do it entirely in your head, imagining the Circle around you, then silently calling the Quarters and imagining Them as pillars of white light.

You may invoke Goddess and God silently.

Announcements

Of course if you are in a more private as place, or are comfortable being observed casting a Circle, you may do the Circle elaborately as you choose.

Hold your crystal. Above the crystal imagine a three dimensional triangle of white light. Imagine this fully.

Then imagine the triangle spinning clockwise.

Imagine a ball of white light in the Heart Chakra. When this is clear in your head, send a beam of green light from the Heart Chakra into the spinning triangle. As the green light enters the triangle, it will change its shape, becoming a cube (still spinning clockwise). Imagine this change fully.

Fill the cube with green light from your Heart Chakra.

Once the cube is full of green light the flow will reverse, and green light will flow back to your heart. Let the green light fill your heart, your chest, your whole body, as well as the crystal you hold. Let the crystal fill with this light.

Put the crystal in the hole and cover it with earth.

Place both hands directly over the now-covered hole and focus white light down into the earth and the buried crystal. Now charge the crystal to link into the Crystal Web.

Announcements

This may be spoken aloud or done silently.

"O crystal, I charge you to link into the Crystal Web, becoming one with its energies.

Through you I gain access to the Web, which links my Correllian family."

Imagine a beam of white light coming from the crystal and shooting off in one or another direction, underground – this is the crystal linking into the Web.

To use this crystal in the future, follow these steps:

Imagine the buried crystal within a cube of white light. Imagine the cube spinning clockwise.

Focus a beam of energy from your heart into the cube, and imagine it changing into a triangle, still spinning; the crystal will then be open and may be interacted with. When finished, allow the image to fade. This can be done from a distance; you do not need to actually be at the site where the crystal is buried.

You have now created a Crystal Access Point!

Divination Order: Numerology

Numerology is any of many systems, traditions or beliefs in a mystical or esoteric relationship between numbers and physical objects or living things.

Numerology and numerological divination were popular among early mathematicians, such as Pythagoras, but are no longer considered part of mathematics and are regarded as pseudomathematics by modern scientists.

This is similar to the historical

New Projects for Fall!

Rev. Don Lewis

Greetings!

I hope that Summer has been very good to you!

We have been having a wonderful summer here in beautiful Salem. The weather has been lovely and there have been many people visiting us here at the World of Witches Museum! Some of our visitors you may have seen on Magick TV or in the photo section of our WOWM Facebook page.

As Summer winds down it is time for our Fall Fundraising Drive. Unlike some previous fundraising campaigns however, this time we are not reeling from some crisis, but rather building for the future. Because of your generosity we have been able to not only survive but thrive here in Salem. But that doesn't mean we can just sit back –every day brings new challenges as we continue our mission of education and empowerment!

As you know we have added a great deal to what we do already! Where once I was the only one doing Vlogs we now have myself, Foxglove, and Danielle Young all doing Vlogs, as well as regular videos from Lexi Renee and of course Terry Milton. After a long hiatus the Living the Wiccan Life show has returned to Magick TV bringing you interviews with fascinating people like Selena Fox, Peter Dybing of CoG, and Wendy Rule!

We are also in the process of totally rebuilding our World of Witches Museum website! The new site will offer much more information about the Museum itself and our resident personalities including our Psychics and Tour Guides! The new site will also include maps, and recommendations for lodging and dining while in Salem! Watch for the new site coming soon!

And I have one other very big project! I am hoping to finally complete the video versions of our Degree Lessons this Winter! The Degree Lessons have always been our most popular offerings, and we began the video version some five years ago –but completing them has always been a challenge. I believe that a stable situation here will afford me the time to focus on this project and finally complete it –which is a huge step forward!

But to successfully complete all these things I need your help.

Once again I am hoping that you will consider donating to help support our work here. Your donation helps make it possible for us to continue educating the public through our many venues, expand and refurbish our exhibits on historical and contemporary Paganism, and make a louder voice for our people in the mainstream world.

Every dollar helps and every dollar is appreciated!

Donations can be sent via paypal to DonLewisHP@yahoo.com or by check to World of Witches Museum, 57 Wharf St., Salem, MA 01970 (payable to World of Witches Museum or Don Lewis).

In addition I am offering a special gift to people who make a donation of $25 or more! With your donation of $25 or more you will receive a special Supporters Gift DVD – The Best of Rev. Don's Vlog! Many people follow my daily Vlog where I answer viewers questions about the Whichness of the Why, and the nature of God the Universe and Everything – now many of the best Vlogs have been compiled into this special DVD offered as a free gift to donors of $25 or more.

I hope that you will consider supporting our work here in Salem!

Many Blessings to you always!

Terra cotta or clay pots often accumulate if you do a lot of gardening. Don't leave them stored on a shelf - recycle them to make this a decorative clay pot witch.

Supplies:

2 clay pots 8 inches
2 clay saucer 10 inches
2 clay pot 6 inches
1 clay saucer 6 inches
1 clay pot 4 inches
Hot glue and gun

Clay Pot Witch

How to:

Prepare your pots for painting. Paint the base colour of all your clay pots. Allow the paint to dry completely.

Glue the pots together as shown in the photo. Allow this glue to dry for at least two days before disturbing.

Now you need to paint the details. I used a purple paint for the body, a black paint for the base and hat and sponged on orange paint on the lower body and gold paint on the upper body. With the eraser end of a pencil or other similar tool, add polka dots to random areas of the body.

Refer to the Photos for Detailing:

Clay Pot Witch

- Color placement
- Glue wood ball to face and paint face.
- Glue on buttons.
- Glue sunflower or other embellishment of choice to the hat.

On the inside rim of the hat (saucer) glue on tied-together strands of raffia all around the perimeter of the hat rim. Pull raffia in two equal sections to make hair tails and tie with ribbon. You can trim the excess raffia once the raffia is all in place on the figure. Trim hair tails and bangs.

Shown in the photo is a small black napkin that I wrapped around the neck area to form a small black cape. This cape eliminates the need to add arms.

Monthly Incense/Oil

Good Luck

- 1 tbsp dried Wormwood
- 3 tsp ground Nutmeg
- 1/2 tsp powdered Mandrake Root
- 13 drops Pine
- 1/4 cup Olive Oil base

Allow to sit for 13 nights.

THE STARS XXV

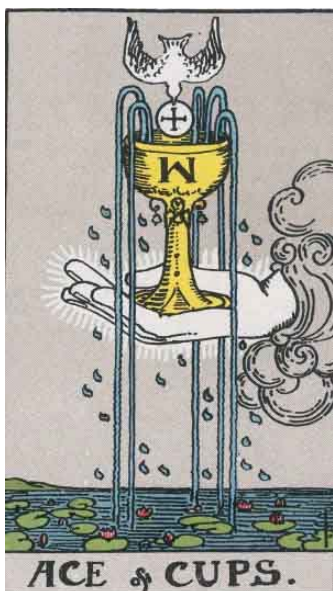

The Tarot of Hekate

Cosmology: The Soul moves through the cycle of Death and rebirth, perfecting itself through the Temperance of many lifetimes' experience, in order to transcend The Veil and achieve liberation from the Tower of its experiences. The Stars, the Moon, and the Sun, all represent paths by which the Soul may pursue this goal. Severally they are introspection (The Stars), religions (The Moon), and service (The Sun). These first of these, The Stars, represent self examination and self healing. Examining and releasing ones attachments, so that one may move forward freely. This is a necessary aspect of the Souls development without which it cannot find liberation, for it would remain attached to previous experiences and patterns.

I requested this book for review because I have heard quite often at a yearly charity event I have worked, "Oh, I'm from (fill in small town name here) and there aren't any other Pagans around." Until now, my standard response has been "Go to Witchvox.com and check out your state listings. You may be surprised.” Now I would add “And pick up a copy of The Small-Town Pagan’s Survival Guide by Bronwen Forbes.”

Bronwen begins this informative, enjoyable, and FUN book by inviting the reader to imagine sitting at a table with the author and contributors to the book and sharing a warm beverage, cookies still warm from the oven, and stories, opinions, and general chit-chat. She then proceeds to set the reader at ease and begins sharing experiences.

Some of the experiences related are funny, some are really informative (the chapter on Internet workings comes to mind), and some are sad. The one thing they all share is that they are real. They have been experienced by everyone at one time or another. What they provide is perspective. They allow the reader to step outside themselves and realize that they are not alone. For old-timers it is a reminder of what they have gone through. For newbies, it may serve as an early warning system, or simply a heads up.

Advice is offered, pitfalls are illuminated, and enjoyable experiences are shared, all in an entertaining manner. This is the type of book we need to see more of. Books of rituals abound. Theology is prominent on the Net and on bookshelves. Academic histories, important as they are, tend to make the Sahara and Gobi deserts look like lush, tropical wonderlands. Books which remind us why we decided that Paganism was right for us are in short supply. This type of author, and offering, need to be encouraged

Moon News

When the moon is about to leave one zodiac house and does not have any major aspects with other planets before entering the next sign after its last major aspect in that sign to any other planet, then the Moon is said to be Void of Course.

This is a period of no activity and is unfit for major projects, ventures and activities. Any activity started during this condition brings no major yield.

1. Do not start anything new when the Moon is void of course.
2. Avoid doing important things like Interviews, buying a house/vehicle, getting married, starting a relationship, major meetings, signing contracts, etc.
3. Do not plan, decide, purchase/buy and commit anything in this period.
4. Avoid consultations with ministers, lawyers,, doctors, counselors, teachers, anyone whose advice you need.
5. Rejuvenate your spirit, relax, take a break, time out, meditate, read, and take a break from your routine life.
6. Avoid communications that are extremely important. Wait to write the letter, e-mail, send the fax, or make a call. The communication will either be disrupted, delayed, or contorted.

7. Take time to reflect and study your inner-self.

Spell of the Month

<http://www.khakani.com/freemagicspells>

SPELL FOR COMPENSATION, NEGOTIATION, UNDERSTANDING

This is best during a new moon: if you wish to involve candles in the ceremony, the best numbers are 2 and 9.

Saw open a whole coconut, making sure that it remains in two complete halves. Clean out the meat and save it for eating. Next, make holes in both sides of the shell with a small nail. If desired, pattern the holes symbolically or use a specific number to enhance meaning. Set the halves aside to dry.

Meanwhile, find a disposable representation of your frustration. Also gather a piece of white paper or cloth, some dried mint, white ribbon and glue. Sit before your image of frustration and pour all your feelings into it. It may help to visualize or re-enact the situation that induced those feelings. Cry or shout until a sense of quiet emptiness settles over you.

Then, wrap the emblem up in white, saying,

"I cover you with peace, harmony, and understanding.

I accept peace to my own heart and extend it to ____.

Where frustration was born, let love replace it."

Spell of the Month

Now, inside one half of the coconut shell, lay the cloth and emblem, completely surrounding them with mint (to encircle it with calm energy). Put on the top of the shell and glue the two halves together.

Finally, use the white ribbon of truce as adornment.

Hang the coconut somewhere so the winds can release their serene energy into your space.

If the coconut ever "goes bad," bury it with your negativity.

Beyond Weird

<http://www.beyondweird.com/>

The Dark Night of the Soul - Experiencing the Illusion of Separation and the Return to Unity and Oneness.

The Dark Night of the Soul is a term used to describe a physical, mental and emotional experience that can occur during the transition phase to remembering who you really are.

Beyond Weird

remembering who you really are.

If I ask, "Who are you?" how would you answer? Would you tell me your name? What you do for a "living" (ie. work for money)? That you are a stay at home mom or dad? Or a student working towards a profession? That you are a business owner? Homeowner? Wealthy of broke? Are you really any of those things?

Do you know who you really are? Or, do you know who you THINK you are?

The vast majority of us will spend our lives creating an identity for ourselves out of a string of external experiences. We experience ourselves as sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, mothers and fathers, doctors, lawyers, teachers, and soldiers. Employers, employees, black, white, oriental, latino, Christian, Muslim, Jewish, Hindu, atheist... the list could go on and on, and it does.

But what happens when we discover the Truth? What if you woke up tomorrow morning to find everything that defined who you think you are - was gone! Would "you" still be there to experience that?

Of course you would. And if that happened, you would have a choice - to try and put together another story about who you think you are... or, to realize you are not the story. The story has vanished, but you are still here. So, who are you?

Those who are unaware of the spiritual aspects of the journey must resort to other means of coping with a Dark Night of the Soul. When faced with the loss of some part of who they think they are - perhaps a divorce, job loss. or losing a home - the first line of defense is to replace what was lost; a new spouse, new job, new home, etc. If that cannot be done, attempts to control the inevitable painful feelings with drugs or counseling are common.

If you are on a spiritual journey, using metaphysics or whatever path you chose to discover the true nature of reality, eventually you may encounter the Dark Night of the Soul; that moment when you don't yet know who you are, but you do know what you are not.

Beyond Weird

You may feel lost and alone, powerless and without any purpose or direction in your life. You no longer find any meaning in the stories you used to tell yourself, about why you are here and what it means to be alive. You may have found your own center, your connection to Source, to inner guidance and inspiration - and yet you still don't know who you really are.

A Dark Night of the Soul can occur many times in your own life. You might think that you've "got it" - you know who you really are! You are enlightened, powerful, eternal, etc. Then, one day, you realize you just THINK you are all of that. Once again, you may find yourself feeling lost, alone, confused, maybe even hopeless that you will EVER get it "right".

The Truth is, who we really are is NEVER what we THINK it is!

There are no words to describe it. If I ask you, "Who are you?" you simply cannot answer. The only way I can know who you are, is to know who I Am - and vice versa. When you know who you really are, you have no need to ask someone who they are - you already know, and they know you know!

Beyond Weird

The Dark Night of the Soul is actually a gift. It is an experience that creates a powerful longing in the Heart - to let go of the illusions, and let the Truth be known. If you can bear it, and you can, allowing the process to unfold and fulfill itself, your own Dark Night of the Soul can lead to a morning more beautiful and filled with light than you can currently imagine!

Just as the caterpillar must surrender to the process of pupating to become a butterfly, we must surrender to the Dark Night of the Soul; to surrender the Ego Mind so the Heart Mind can emerge. While pupating, the caterpillar is no longer a caterpillar - but it is not yet a butterfly. It is blind, deaf, and cannot move or do anything! Let go and let the forces of nature transform who you THINK you are, so you can remember who you REALLY are.

The Mystic's Life Lesson #28

Beyond Weird

Dark Night of the Soul
<http://www.themystic.org/dark-night/new-life.htm>

"Dark night of the soul" sounds like a threatening and much to be avoided experience. Yet perhaps a quarter of the seekers on the road to higher consciousness will pass through the dark night. In fact, they may pass through several until they experience the profound joy of their true nature.

Many seekers would encourage the dark night experience if they knew what it was. However, to one engaged in the dark night, suffering seems unending.

The dark night occurs after considerable advancement toward higher consciousness. Indeed, the dark night usually occurs like an initiation before one of these special seekers is admitted into regular relationship with higher consciousness. The dark night also occurs to those who do not seek relationship but immersion or unity in the higher consciousness. While the term dark night of the soul is used broadly, its general meaning — in the field of higher consciousness — is a lengthy and profound absence of light and hope. In the dark night you feel profoundly alone.

You Can't Fit In

Beyond Weird

The dark night usually develops this way:

You, as a genuine seeker, have gone through many significant phases as you progress toward higher consciousness. Your faith is strong. You have kept loyal companionship with fellow seekers and perhaps you have already found a special teacher. You've experienced indications of the reality of higher consciousness and yearn to be more deeply in communion with it. You see the principles of a higher power at work in your life. Yet, all in all, you find yourself somehow painfully on the outside. You feel caught between your old way of living, your old tendencies and associations, and this nebulous, unreachable realm of higher consciousness.

You feel an exile in both places. You don't belong in the old pastimes. In the old empty or numbing way of life, yet you somehow can't fit in or feel at home in the fellowship of those who talk naturally of the higher consciousness and its reality. They are experienced, they are absorbed in it. They are loving, giving people. But you are unable to live, with full heart and mind, the way they do. They're able to apply the principles of higher consciousness easily, yet it's so hard for you. They have manifestations and proofs on a regular basis. You only stretch like a human mule after a receding corn cob while pulling the heavy weight of your old tendencies behind you.

You try to be good, and often you can't. You try to be loving and find at times your heart is hard like stone. Sometimes your projects fall down around your ears. You keep struggling and still you don't break through. You understand the path is one of joy and yet your life seems to have been barren for a month or two, perhaps longer. Where did that early joy and zest go?

Hanging On

Up to this particular time there was joy, there was delight. But now there is only a hanging on, a dogged hanging on. You persist because you can't conceive of going back to your old way of life. That seems impossible now. That would be like going to prison, living as if with a transorbital lobotomy.

You deeply want to have joy and fulfillment, easily manifest prosperity, but something's not working. You don't know what it is but something's awry, and your meditations have lost their luster. Sometimes, during rare meditations, you do experience brief moments of peace. Your agonizing mind and heart rest from their turbulence and even these fleeting times of calm are so deeply appreciated. Your light dance of life, which had gone on for some time, is now a trudging in what seems a devastated and alien land.

Your fellow seekers look at you and show their concern. Their words of kindness are valued but you feel you're somehow incapable of responding well. Your heart is numb. At these times your friends try to cheer you up. They invite you to dinner. You seem to perform fairly well, despite the emptiness you feel inside. What else is there to do? You wonder if you have any right to be in their fellowship at all. You think of leaving town, but where would you go? What good would diversion be?

A number of your friends in the fellowship of this great path know what you are going through for they have been through it themselves. They feel the main thing to do is encourage you to go on. They know if you keep it up and do not quit you will succeed. They know if you quit you will be a self-reject and will return to the old life, forever a foreigner, being neither at home with it nor at home anywhere else. They recognize that your own higher self, out of love, is lifting you up into its embrace. They see you are being drawn into your dark night because:

Beyond Weird

1. your crusty, old ego requires you go through the dark night in order to be transformed. your inner potential has great stature
- 2.

You Feel Totally Alone

Other seekers, for various reasons, do not have to pass through the dark night. However, the dark night is your way.

Your night is a very difficult time. While others may one day envy you for the marvelous growth you experienced in such a short, intensified period, you will, because of the pain of your experience, always feel profound compassion for those whom you one day see going through a similar night.

Being caught between the old way of life and the new possibilities, your sense of alienation intensifies. Your sense of inadequacy and not knowing what to do next becomes gnawingly constant. You feel you would do anything to get out of this state, yet it is only your ego which is keeping you in it. However, this insight is impossible for you to grasp while going through your long night.

And you feel so totally alone. Sure, you have friends and you appreciate them, but you are keenly aware they are not capable of feeling what you are feeling or knowing what you are going through.

Beyond Weird

Sometimes they seem like clowns, sometimes they seem empty-headed, caught up in meaningless pursuits. They do not understand, you think, how much you are suffering or how you cry out and pray deep into each midnight. You try their advice but it doesn't seem to touch the heart of the matter.

You begin to enter the dark night in earnest when you feel completely stranded. In the fullness of the dark night you don't know where you are spiritually. You're separate from God and man. You do not know where to turn. Your friends love you and wish you well but your condition does not improve.

The dark night is a very private matter. The person in the dark night is generally able to function quite well despite inner suffering. Often your acquaintances never suspect that you are going through the dark night — they probably do not even know what it is. Only people close to you — especially friends along the path — can recognize your pain.

You feel like a hollow person doing the activities of life with no motivation except expediency. Your eyes seem deeper in your head. You are profoundly aware of the suffering of humanity and the cruelty of one person to another. You feel that cruelty and negativity far outweigh love and constructive action.

Beyond Weird

You Enter Midnight

Alone, and not wishing to be, unable even to express yourself to others, you enter midnight and the greatest intensity of the dark night. Here you have finally come to the time of sovereign solitude. In this precious time, which has no apparent prospects of love or happiness, you clearly perceive that nothing in the outer world has proven adequate to heal your condition. Nobody, not even your dearest friends and loved ones, can make you whole. Even if they have tried, and love you enough to try loving you forever, they can't give you peace.

You eye your books and consider all the benefit you have gained from these extremely wise vessels of truth. Yet not one book, not one thought, goes deep enough inside you to where the affliction abides.

You look at your possessions, your money container. No material thing has been able to help you. No material means have worked. Nothing, no one, in the outer world has enabled you to come out of this dark night.

In your loneliness, you next — in a seemingly random process — notice that none of your thoughts have proven adequate to your suffering. Not one — even repeated fifty thousand times — breaks the inner storm and lets in light. God and higher consciousness seem so far away that perhaps they are unreal. Neither one has, despite your protracted exposure of yourself, done anything to ease or remove your agony. Nothing appears efficacious. Nothing works.

Clearly, there is nowhere to turn. There is nothing to be done. All actions you considered have been tried. There is nothing to think, nothing to feel, nothing to do, nowhere to go. It seems you have to accept this defeat — or, you can persist in struggling against it. For awhile longer, you go about thinking, feeling, and doing other options that occur to you. But you realize in the midnight of your soul that you have tried every option you know of.

The Peace Comes

Helpless, totally helpless, as well as ever so alone, you abide in this condition. And you accept your predicament. You accept that there is really, except for a murmured prayer to a remote Lord and a remnant of a shredded faith, nothing else left.

Suicide would be absurd. Suicide would be an act of arrogance and vanity. You have grown far beyond such primitive responses to your private agony. No, nothing to do Nothing remains in this lonely helplessness. There is, without question, nothing you can do.

You abide. You accept your state. How have you gotten to this place? That's insignificant. Musings and feelings aside, you wait. You feel you may have to stay this way forever, doing the regular day-to-day things, but in this mood of emptiness. Nothing. Nothing.

Then, it happens. A holy presence comes into your room — sweetly, softly. You feel it filling you. Your mind is filled with mellow or bright light. Your heart, your still heart, is permeated with peace. This peace moves through your body like a cold spring of mountain water. It flows in your spine, your brain, and under your skin. Everywhere.

Also, this presence, this comforter, moves like a breeze across your arid mind and numb heart. Then, or a few days later, the fire of joy begins to smoulder. Here, abiding with nothing more to do, your ego drops away! Your ignorant, arrogant, fearful sense of self falls away from you. You stand in light — a new being, a free being — transformed.

Your Ego Sense

Believe it or not, that's what the darknight is all about: transformation. Your ego, your limited sense of self, your inadequate complex of ideas about who you are had to be dissolved. Your ego was, you begin to see, eclipsing higher consciousness and your true nature. Your old sense of self was inadequate to your new hopes and proper state. Your suffering intensified because of a major misapprehension. You were too used to thinking of yourself based on inputs from your previous experiences in life. On and on through life, you gathered information and responses from the world which indicated to you what kind of person you were and are. These superficial units of related inputs became integrated in what is called the ego — your sense of self, your sense of who you are. As long as you allowed this inaccurate or only partial sense of who you are to dominate, you could not know or abide in your true nature.

Your ego sense is so powerful — you invest it with so much of your thought and feeling — that your attitudes of life become based on an egocentric perspective. The ego gains a progressively greater foothold on your entire life because your basic attitudes about your existence and essential nature are strongly linked with ego.

Then, your ego sense, due to your suffering or your limitations in life, wants to have more power over circumstances and a more pleasant life. The ego sense often becomes motivated to seek higher consciousness and, thus, greater ability to dominate in life. Not always, but often, it is the ego sense which most eagerly pursues higher consciousness. It wants to be in charge; it wants to manipulate events and make life come out more to its satisfaction. But, as long as your ego dominates, it is on a collision course with your true nature and your higher consciousness. There's going to be a showdown. There has to be a confrontation sometime if your higher consciousness is ever to emerge, if you are ever to know truly who you are and what your human capabilities are.

Furthermore — and this is extremely important, especially in understanding the dark night of the soul — your ego, as it develops from childhood onward, has the conviction that it is the doer.

Generally, your ego assumes that it chooses what your mind will think, and chooses what your heart will feel. It feels it selects the various actions and activities you are going to undertake.

Your sense of self, being convinced it is the doer, feels it accomplishes anything and everything in your life. Do you see, then, how the dark night develops? A false sense of self has been ignorantly and manipulatively standing in the way of enlightenment.

Additionally, until you are consolidated

Beyond Weird

in higher consciousness, your ego can return and reestablish control if you let it. Sometimes when you're fatigued or when you have special, new opportunities in life, you are vulnerable to the reestablishment of your ego and its opinion that it is in charge of doing everything. It will again eclipse the higher consciousness until you recognize what has happened. Then you must courageously and consciously reaffirm your true nature, and deal with the upstart, old ego. Otherwise, another dark night phase will again develop.

Attempts of the Ego

A person seeking higher consciousness is, in effect, and with intensity, seeking the transformation of his own ego. He is seeking to end the tyranny of the ego and abide in his true nature, instead of a false nature concocted through experiences and emotional inputs during the process of life. While it is true these inputs have a value in subjecting you to new experiences and so offer unique learning situations, they often give you a delusory sense of self. You are not your mistake. Even a murderer can change and become a new being.

Still, as you progress toward higher consciousness, your ego may not be humbling and daily transforming itself. You may, instead, have a highly developed ego which is sure that it is causing the events of higher consciousness to unfold bit by bit. Your ego, after all, can be very interested in the attributes of higher consciousness, in meditation and association with enlightened beings. Your ego feels gratification and satisfaction in moving on down the road toward higher consciousness.

Your ego may also have the opinion that, because of its grasp of matters, it will one day establish or — by its thought process and feelings — bring about enlightenment and awakening. It is convinced that it will achieve higher consciousness. This is ironic because by the time of the dark night, the ego is the main obstacle; it is the obstruction of the light of consciousness. It stands between you and your fulfillment. In fact, the length of your dark night is based on the truculence and cunning of your ego. It can fight a very lengthy battle if it fears it's going to be destroyed or will have to give in to something so much greater than it knows itself to be.

Incredibly, your ego wants to be in on the act of enlightenment. Ego wants to bring about higher consciousness by its own dramatic means. Certainly, it doesn't want to be granted fulfillment by a power outside of itself. Convinced that it is the doer, your ego holds on for dear life — until that event called the dark night of the soul, when your ego awakens to the profound fact it cannot cause or bring about higher consciousness.

Ego cannot, by its will or any other skills whatever, create the wholeness of heart which will end your deep suffering. In a sense your ego recognizes itself — in the dark night — to be the disease. It recognizes that its foothold on your mind and heart has, at an advanced stage on your path, proven a great numbing agent and a high stone wall against the light. Ego stands against the fulfillment of your faith and the realization of your profoundest yearnings. Finally your ego has found something it cannot do and, in the dark night of the soul, it becomes totally convinced it is inadequate. It cannot deal with your suffering or the fulfillment of the heart's yearning. Nothing it can do, think, say, buy, or travel to, will in any way suffice.

Dawn of a New Life

Here in this dark night, the lifelong ego sense dies: impotent. Having fulfilled its part, now weak and incompetent, it is dissolved — transmuted. From a higher sense now awakening within you, you slough off your false sense of self. You now know yourself to be a different person than you thought you were. Your ego was merely experiencing some of the attributes, some of the qualities, of your true nature, while at the same time obstructing others.

You, in passing successfully through the dark night, enter the realms of higher consciousness. You've been cleansed of the most deep-rooted sickness: your ignorance of your true nature and your inadequate, often totally wrong opinion of who you are. You now cease your inner conflict and abide serenely in your true nature. The night is over. The dawn of a new life in higher consciousness transforms your bleak life of the past few months into one with a heavenly nature. You have been delivered of the intolerable bondage to ego.

Henceforth, you will walk the earth seeing others afresh, living a new life, and abiding in your true nature. You have become a son or daughter of higher consciousness. Now your words and actions will be attuned with your true self. Now you express inspiration and comfort.

The dark night has passed. It is over.

Snakes, spiders, Tigers Gods and Goddesses

by chrism

Any one or a number of these can visit you when the Kundalini is even beginning to be sought by an person. These will most often come into the dream life at first and then expand into the waking life but with different dynamics than the dream life. Yes the many floating lights and some minor phenomena will come too. But for a clear indication from a long history of symbols used to announce the beginning of the Kundalini these forms are often the ones most used by the Kundalini.

Serpents big or small are one of the most common forms used. You may see them in waking visions or the dream life or in your conscious life as there is a bleed through between the realities when you begin to walk the Kundalini path.

These serpents may try to bite you or if it is big enough try to eat you. This is to be embraced. Yes that's right you are to let the snake bite you or eat you it is a fear test. I saw serpents as big as buses or locomotives when I began this path about twenty years ago. The whole idea is to get you used to understand experience isn't always as it is on the physical and yet it is also. There are compressions of experience that

by chrism

merge. When the serpent eats you, you are immediately given a large dose of the Shakti. Tingles and love and energetic quiverings all over the "physical" body. As much as you can handle at that point. You are being rewarded for your:

Lack of fear

Your surrender

You have successfully braved the awesome idea of being consumed by a giant snake! Some of you will have an instant knowledge that this "is what to do" others will run every where they can run to, to escape the serpent.

The serpent is the Kundalini Shakti. It is this form that corresponds most with the human spine. The human spine is seen as a serpent standing on its tail and if you view a human spine you will see that yes indeed the natural "S" curve of the spine does resemble this. Kundalini infuses the spine and it is dormant at the base of the spine. When it comes up it can feel as if there is a serpent inside of you wiggling around - no joke!

So this initial fear test though not always given in that scenario is a way of conditioning you to let go of your fear of the unknown. As most of Kundalini will be received as an unknown by you. The phenomena alone can boggle the mind.

So know this and internalize this so that it reaches into your dreaming body. You will be tested and tested and you may even hear these words spoken to you from somewhere in your consciousness as other aspects of who you are indeed taking note of this information.

Spiders are also experienced though not as much as the serpents. You may see huge spiders the size of dinner plates riding a web just a few feet from you. I also had these experiences at first. The common reaction is to "JUMP!" So you jump and then when your conscious mind remembers you will make the associations as you will never find the spiders anywhere In your house or near you.

These spiders are another aspect of the Kundalini Shakti. Another way of testing your ability to understand and not fear the multiple shapes and sizes of the forms this force can assume. And there are even deeper esoteric meanings "why" these forms are used. Such as in this case how we navigate the "web" of life. Or how we can exist on the razor thin edge of spiders silk. Or the strength of the spider silk when multiplied to the extreme and so forth. Some Native American's saw the spider as an embodiment of a female goddess who was an integral part of their way of life.

The Dineh' peoples of the southwest USA worship the "Spider Woman" and they attribute to her their knowledge of weaving the beautiful blankets and clothing that they have become known for around the world. The name "Dineh'" means "The People' and this is what they call themselves. Other people know them as the Navajo.

They even have a children's story about the Spider Woman. This is merely one example but like the serpent the spider is worshipped and honored by many cultures through out the world as beings of guidance and bearing the gifts of knowledge and it is these aspects that I will ask you to consider as they appear to you in your Kundalini and pre Kundalini experiences.

Tigers have a long history of representing strength and power and death. Even today in an area near Bangladesh people are still being eaten by tigers. They have a very pronounced and fierce countenance and when they are seen inside of a waking or sleeping vision they are to be loved and respected but not run from!

The tiger will lie down upon a person sometimes and sleep with them as a way of letting the person know it's OK. Do not fear. They can also form into fierce aspects of protection when the person is still in the stages of feeling they need protection. They can act as warnings of impending phenomena or activities as well. So there are many stories and teachings about tigers, too many to go into in this short outline.

Gods such as Christ or Krishna, or Shiva or Buddha or Mary, Shakti, Tara, or even those with whom you have no conscious knowledge of will come to you and visit you or just stand at the foot of your bed while you stare at them in wide awake disbelief! This is not uncommon. They will talk with you in your dreams or your waking state and one must take care in their exuberance and excitement not to tell the wrong person they were talking to Christ in their bedroom. That might not go well. True as it may be our western society isn't quite prepared for that yet so do be careful!

All of this that I have described happens. It is as real as the shoes on your feet and the fridge in the kitchen. This is a new world and in this world are sprinkled aspects of our normal world but with different meanings. We must be prepared to meet this world with open arms and open hearts and not to become wrapped up in the fears of what is shown to us because the meanings are different when it comes to the Kundalini. We walk slowly and enjoy the views and we run from nothing. – blessings all - chrism

Monthly Tarot Reading

For

November 2011

By: Rev. John (Ing) Snodgrass, HP

You should take note that November has been divided into 5 increments –the first 4 are 7 days long and the last increment is 2 days long.

The deck of Tarot Cards I am using for this month is “The Norse Tarot” by Clive Barrett...a very beautifully illustrated deck steeped in imagery based on Norse Mythology.

Note: Although I will show all the Tarot Cards in their Upright view - their true position is noted under the individual card.

The First 7 Days: 11 - 1 to 11 - 7

Monthly Tarot Reading

4 of Cups (Reversed)

Illustration: A young woman sits alone on the sand by the sea. The sky is blue, she has all that she could wish for, but she is unhappy and dissatisfied with her life. She sees herself in the position of the goblet she holds, empty, and without hope, while she overlooks the three other goblets full of promise and possibilities.

The First 7 Days of November finds the 4 of Cups card in its Reversed position ... The Fours are most often characteristic of both stability and stagnation...the state of life, pleasant as it is, has become boring and so we have begun to dream of other things.

Reverse this and our cup of dreams is now empty, however all the other cups are emptied as well, and we, the seated dreamer, are now also upended. This suggests that life this week for many may not be as restful and good as we thought it would be, or wished it could be.

Monthly Tarot Reading

Prince of Pentacles (Upright)

Illustration: The Prince is dressed in the green and brown of the earth, over his shoulder is his shield representing the element of earth. Behind him are the stone remains of a burial mound, the last resting place of man.

The Second 7 Days of November finds the Prince of Pentacles card in its Upright position ... The Knights or Princes are the spirit of changes, movement, and action. They can also suggest messages, and travel, with the main idea being the spreading of their knowledge.

The Knight of Pentacles is the most opposite non-Knight-like of the four, as they are more inclined not to move or fight.

As this week progresses a few may find themselves too reliant on material things. Yet it is our fear of failure or standing out in a crowd may keep us locked up within our safe haven. We need to "lighten up" and get out and live our life.

The Third 7 Days: 11 - 15 to 11 - 21

7 of Wands (Reversed)

Illustration: A warrior stands alone against his adversaries. Only his continued courage and strength saves him from being overwhelmed.

The Third 7 Days of November finds the 7 of Wands card in its Reversed position ... The sevens are about getting through difficult times, past stumbling blocks or delays.

Often called the "holding your ground" card, the 7 of Wands indicates our use of all our energy to defend our position, even if it is wrong, or not popular.

Reversed, and this week will be one of harsh testing, we immediately fold under pressure and surrender rather than try to defend ourselves or stand up for what we believe in.

The Fourth 7 Days: 11 - 22 to 11 - 28

Monthly Tarot Reading

The Hermit (Reversed)

Illustration: The Hermit here is the God Heimdall, the Guardian of the Rainbow Bridge to Asgard, Bifrost, alone he stands to watch and warn of danger. Here he greets the new day with a blast of his horn and a friendly wave of his hand, yet his sword is close at hand, and his gaze ever watchful.

The Fourth 7 Days of November finds The Hermit card in his Reversed position ... Upright, the Hermit is about a time of solitude and introspection, of investigation, enlightenment and sometime teaching.

Reversed... the Hermit is upside-down and he has lost the light from his lantern. The power of the Hermit - his energy - is in his lantern. The Hermit has keen insight, and an ability to see what is hidden to others, to look beneath the surface. If this is reversed, then the Hermit's lantern has been shuttered. It offers no light and the Hermit is left in darkness. This week, many of us will be having trouble shedding light on a problem, or that we are alone in the dark in this situation. To get out, they must find a way to rekindle our lantern. For without the light we cannot concentrate, we cannot think, or see things clearly.

The Last 2 Days: 11 - 29 to 11 - 30

3 of Cups (Reversed)

Illustration: A happy scene as the birth of a child is celebrated by the infant's mother, father, and grandfather.

The Last 2 Days of November... finds the 3 of Cups in its Reversed position...The Threes are about new growth, a time of stability, of something finally finding a direction and moving in that direction.

Reversed....We have lost all the liquid in our cups. Our celebration has gone sour.

For many another week of all bad and no good way over, around, or through it... it simply must be endured...

Monthly Tarot Reading

The Month in Summary:

Strength (Upright)

Illustration: Secretly in Jotunheim, Loki married the giantess Angurboda, some time later she bore him three monstrous children. One was Hel, who was to become the Goddess of the Underworld, another was Iormungandr, the Great Serpent, the wolf Fenris was the third. For a time the existence of the three was kept from the Gods.

From his throne Hlidskialf, the all seeing Odin became aware of their presence upon the earth. Soon he grew alarmed at the rate at which their size increased. Seeing that the monsters might pose a threat to the peace of Asgard, he determined to dispose of them.

Hel he cast into the depths of Niflheim, giving her the land of the dead for her abode, and Iormungandr was flung far into the sea. But Fenris he kept, thinking that with the proper kindness and understanding, the wolf might be trained to serve the Gods. To Odin's dismay however, Fenris daily increased in size, strength, and ferociousness. Eventually the God realized the impossibility of his task.

After consulting the other Gods, it was agreed that to kill the creature would violate the laws of Asgard; the only path left open was to make him secure and unable to do harm.

After several failures the Gods armed themselves with a silken rope, magically fashioned by the dark elves of Svartalfheim. The Gods explained to Fenris that they wished to test his enormous strength against that of the rope. But Fenris, being suspicious, would only agree if one of the Gods would consent to place a hand between his jaws. So finally Tyr agreed and he bound the wolf with the magical rope. Fenris, in anger at finding himself unable to struggle free, bit Tyr's hand off at the wrist.

In Summary, Here we find the Strength card in its Upright position...

For many the month of November will be one of taming of the "beast" by means of their own unaided inner strength.

It also worth noting here that, as with any problem, or the taming of a wolf, one might get scratched a few times by that which you are trying tame, be it a situation, a person, or your own rash impulses.

Inner Changes

By Master Chrism

Kundalini is an evolutionary energy that is designed for humanity's next step toward a luminous physical and spiritual expression. The Kundalini is in everyone. It is an untapped resource of divinity within us all that is waiting to be awakened and experienced. Never has the time been so right and crucial for a change of this magnitude to be explored and initiated.

Kundalini is a very powerful and transformative energy located at the base of the spine within the last three vertebrae of the tailbone or coccyx, extending to the perineum. Kundalini is a natural birthright to all people but must be sought and nurtured with a physical and spiritual practice.

When the flow comes everything that a person is, is caught up and affected by the flow of Kundalini - our warrior self, our parental self, the child self, the wicked, jealous, joyful and loving selves. The entire spectrum of what it is to be a Human Being and the expression of that condition is influenced by the Kundalini.

Inner Changes

Sometimes it can be completely overwhelming. Think about it. As you go through your day and live your life inside the society you belong to how difficult is that - by itself - without the influence of Kundalini and then to add such a huge reorganization of priorities and feelings and phenomena, it is no wonder people will seek medical assistance.

I am writing this to help you put the experience into perspective. Everything becomes different and remains the same at once.

As you express yourself predominantly through your life so will you express yourself with the Kundalini. The expression will be much stronger, the feelings much stronger and exerting of far more influence upon the decision making processes we use to live our lives. Sex, passion, anger, knowledge, love, etc, will get mixed up in phenomena that is called by and created by those very qualities. It can become confusing at times.

What you feel you can become – a double edged sword. If you are a predominantly negative person, not because you are mean but because this has become the mode of expression from a life time of living inside society, then you will become extremely negative or positive or a victim or suicidal, or courageous, or loving.

So it is best, in my opinion to force yourself to begin to respond to life inside an expressive paradigm of happiness, or love, or helpfulness. Make this an issue in your life or you may have an experience that will cause you an unbelievably tremendous amount of suffering.

So I give you this guidance. Begin a process of moving your inner dialogue, your inner communication with yourself, into a place of peace, love, patience, joy, forgiveness, graciousness, strength, courage, harmony, or helpfulness, etc. These qualities, when used as a base of expression with in a Kundalini experience can help you learn constructive applications of working with the energy in ways that will allow you to go further and faster and deeper and with far more grace and joy than you can at this time imagine.

Make these changes first, if possible, before you expose yourself to this field of potential. Look at the archetypes of Yung, or religious icons, or the heroes and heroines of myth and legend, as well as the monsters and wraiths of negativity and fear and realize that they will express to you in real time during your day or night time experiences. Are you prepared? Really? If you have said "yes" then go back to square one. You are not ready yet. If you said "no" then your honesty will help you prepare. If you have come into the experience on your own I still recommend these inner communication changes.

The abyss is a vast place. It is inside and outside of our physical beings all at once. Once it is known that you can "see" and it will be known by your frequency, then the phenomena of the archetypes and the inner and outer expressions of your own feelings will call specific experiences your way. So once again, make a conscious inner intentional change towards the aforementioned qualities of goodness. The darkness will still be experienced and received but your "Response" to that darkness is what will have been changed and this makes all the difference. - blessings - chrism
