Progressive Pagan Alliance

Press Release

Cape Town
24 October 2007

The progressive pagan alliance (the PPA) represents a group of Eurocentric Pagan Organisations within South Africa who venerate their Ancestral religions.

In the interest of South African unity, the PPA member organisations willingly release the English words 'witch' and witchcraft' to describe ourselves and our practices. We understand that these words have contributed to centuries of colonialism and repression for the vast majority of South Africans who find these words offensive. Furthermore, the PPA calls on all South African Pagans to do the same.

The PPA also calls on Government to recognize Pagan religions as legitimate in South Africa and grant all rights and equalities that go along with legitimate religious practices to Pagans; such as the right to perform chaplain services, legal marriages and other rites of passage as prescribed and observed in our religions.

Address enquires to:
The Secretary General
Adrian Williams
Tel: (079)4532734
Fax: (011) 7829621
Email: info@pro-pagan.org.za

Aims & Objectives (24 October 2007)

1. The PPA aims to avail itself to Traditional Healers, Government departments, the South African Police Services and other organisations with the purpose of offering passive education about Paganism as it is defined and practiced globally and in South Africa.
2. The PPA aims towards achieving equality and equal standing of Pagans and Pagan practices in South Africa, including but not limited to, recognition of our clergy members to legally perform Pagan marriages, funerals, 'baptisms' (wiccanings), and other rites of passage as observed in our religions.
 - 2.1 . The PPA aims to ensue equal opportunity, rights and recognition of Pagan Clergy in chaplaincy services, including but not limited to, prison and hospital services.
3. The PPA willingly forgoes the right of Pagans to use the English words 'witch' and 'witchcraft' to describe ourselves and our practices in the interest of South African unity.

We understand that these words have contributed to centuries of colonialism and repression for the vast majority of South Africans.

4. The PPA aims to assist victims of butsakatsi related crimes
5. The PPA wishes to cooperate with Government and all role-players that are seeking positive and peace-invoking solutions to address butsakatsi related crimes in South Africa, including but not limited to, so-called muti-murders and mutilations.
 - 5.1. The PPA hopes to achieve dialogue on these matters with the Traditional Healers Organizations, Government bodies, and all interested and affected parties dealing with the challenge to curb butsakatsi related crimes in South Africa
 - 5.2. The PPA intends to support Government in attempts to eradicate butsakatsi related crimes by submitting proposals towards the drafting of any butsakatsi related legislation. The aim of the PPA here would include ensuring the protection of Pagans and Paganism by excluding same from any definitions of so-called 'witchcraft' (butsakatsi) as defined by the Supression of Witchcraft Act or any legislation formulated to replace that act.
6. The PPA aims to assist those who claim to be Eurocentric Witches to understand that much of what they do and say in the struggle for reclamation of the terms 'witch' and 'witchcraft' in South Africa, could harm the Pagan cause if we are not willing to concede that these terms are not appropriate in the current climate in South Africa. We recognize and respect the right of individual Pagans to self-identify, however the PPA holds the position that it does not support public reclamation of these terms because they are so negatively perceived by the majority of South Africans.
7. The PPA stands against any Pagan institution that places the reclamation of contentious English words ahead of all other rights and freedoms that Pagans in South Africa seek to gain. We oppose any group or person that refuses to compromise on the issue, because it may ultimately jeopardise the most important issues, namely, official recognition of Paganism as a religion and the granting of all other constitutional right to Pagans.
8. The PPA rejects an all-or-nothing approach to negotiating for Pagan rights based on a refusal to forgo the use of the words 'witch' and 'witchcraft'.
9. The PPA intends to pursue its goals peacefully in accordance with our rights under the constitution and Bill of Rights.
10. We seek out alliances with those who uphold similar principles. We wish to be seen as complementing and augmenting other initiatives of this nature.

Chancellor's Response to the PPA Decision

By Rev. Don Lewis

The Pagans of South Africa face great challenges at this time – challenges to their future and challenges to their integrity in the present. It is very sad that the government of South Africa, in seeking to address a serious problem, should have set Pagan against Pagan in this manner; Pagans who have nothing to do with the problem that the South African government is concerned with. It is still sadder that any of the Pagans of South Africa should have permitted themselves to be divided in this way when the need to stand together has never been more pressing. And that a splinter faction of my own Tradition should be the catalyst of this betrayal of South African Pagan interests at such a sensitive moment in South African history is deeply distressing to me and other elders of the legitimate Correllian Tradition.

Although our Tradition of Witchcraft is unrelated to Gardernianism in our origins, I wholly concur with the sentiments of Dr. Gerald Gardner on this matter as described by Dr. Raymond Buckland in a recent interview with Magicktv.com: Attempts to distance ourselves from the words “Witch” and “Witchcraft” are ill-advised and likely to be unsuccessful. This is because it is not the word which is the problem, but rather the misunderstanding of who and what we are – misunderstanding which will not be corrected by shuffling labels, but only through continued efforts at public education.

The legitimate Correllian Tradition and its representatives in South Africa support the South African Pagan Rights Alliance (SAPRA) and the South African Pagan Council (SAPC) and encourage all South African Pagans to cooperate peacefully with one another in this critical time, and to put minor differences aside to present a united front. We repudiate the misguided efforts of the New York Correllian splinter sect to disrupt Pagan unity in South Africa and manipulate the situation to their own advantage.

To Andi Fischer specifically, we urge you not to turn your back upon your fellow South African Pagans in this way nor sabotage their efforts to secure equality in your nation. But rather put the interests of South Africa above the interests of Albany and return to the table with the SAPRA and SAPC.

Today's Featured Shrine

Shrine of Hekate

The Personal Shrine of Rev. Ravenhair and Rev. Ddraconis

Shrine Sigil

This the very first Correllian Shrine created in the state of Kentucky.
Our primary mission is to reunite pagans and provide them their magical education based on the Correllian Tradition teachings and the Five Mystic Secrets

Our goals are:

- To provide a place for magical education based on the Correllian Tradition for people in the state of Kentucky
- To hold rituals and gatherings open to public
- To reunite local pagans and give them a friendly like-minded environment
- To honor the Goddess and the God following by the Wiccan Rede
- To help and support one another within the Shrine and offer our counseling
- To honor Earth and its creatures for each one is sacred
- To welcome everybody interested in our tradition and let them share their ideas with us
- To help our pagan community grow in spirit and unity
- To explore and practice our wiccan beliefs
- To apply the principle that a pagan is a pagan regardless their tradition or path, and that no one individual is greater than the other

Today's Date in the Wheel of the Year

1 November

November – The Month

November is the eleventh month of the year in the Gregorian calendar, with 30 days. From the Latin novem for 'nine' (it was originally the ninth month of the year, before January and February were inserted).

It was the ninth month in the ancient Roman calendar, when the year began in March. The old Dutch name was Slaghtmaand (slaughter-month, the time when the beasts were killed and salted down for winter use; the name might also have referred to human sacrifice); the old Saxon Wind-monath (wind-month, when the fishermen took their boats ashore, and put aside fishing till the next spring); it was also called Blot-monath – the same as Slaghtmaand. In the French Republican Calendar it was called Brumaire (fog-month, c. October 22 to November 20).

Frankish name: Herbistmanoth, or harvest (of animals) month. Ásatrú: Fogmoon. American backwoods: Beaver Moon.

Almost the whole month coincides with the goddess-calendar month of Samhain (pronounced sow-ain), the feminine personification of the Nove. She is an aspect of the Cailleach (crone, or old woman).

On This Day

The Isia, to the goddess Isis, ancient Egypt, fifth day (Oct 28 - Nov 3)

Today: the Finding of Osiris. ... the portions of Osiris were found, reconstituted, and resurrected. This was the central element in the myth, for if Osiris could regain life and become immortal through the power of Isis, then all her devotees could do the same.

Larson, Rel. of Occident, p 178

Third Station of the Year (Celtic Pagan): Samhain festival continues

Kalends of November, ancient Rome

Day of the Awakeners, Bulgaria

Day of the Banshee, Ireland

Aller Heiligen Dag, Belgium

Kawsasqanchis (Our Living with the Dead), Bolivia

Allerheiligen, Germany

Feeding the dead, Trinidad

Bamboches for guédé mystères, Voudon (Nov 1, 2)- The dead who come out of the cemeteries, possess their 'horses', and come into the oum'phors to amuse themselves in the form of souls incarnated or reincarnated; Voudon (Voodoo).

This and much more can be found in our new group: <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/DeitiesCelebrations/>
We will be posting information here in the Correllian Herald on Mondays and Thursdays for that date. For daily and monthly information on Gods, Goddesses and Celebrations the World over, please feel free to join the group. If you have anything to add to the files they are welcome, too! We look forward to seeing you there!

Runes by Gothi Freyatrú

*Do you know how to carve, do you know how to interpret,
Do you know how to stain, do you know how to test out,
Do you know how to ask, do you know how to sacrifice,
Do you know how to dispatch, do you know how to slaughter?*

Sayings of the high one v144 Trans Carolyne Larrington 1996

Hey! Same quote, 4 weeks, milking it for all its got aren't I?

So this week I am going to talk about staining or colouring your runes. This is the second part of risting a rune and if we take the poem as the prime source of instruction then it would seem to be just as important to do this properly as it is to know which rune to use.

So what is the correct way to colour your runes? Here I do not intend going into a long list of what colour is sympathetic to what kind of magic. Ancient Vitkis would not have had access to the range of waterproof fade resistant colours we have today. We now need to look elsewhere in the Eddas for clarification of exactly what was used.

*Mind runes you should know if you want to be-wiser in spirit than every other man,
Hropt interpreted them,
Cut them, thought them out,
From that liquid which had leaked-
From the skull of Heiddraupnir

(Lay of Sigdrifa v13 Trans Carolyne Larrington 1996)

So here Hropt is obviously a Kenning for Odin and relates to his discovery and mastering of the runes. The other two words of importance are Heiddraupnir and Hoddrofñir. In her book 'Leaves of Yggdrasil' Freya Aswynn translates these as menstrual blood and semen. I find that during the course of the carving part of risting a rune that I often nick a finger. If this happens then I will often use this blood to stain my runes as well.

Now I know there will be those of you reading this who will balk at using blood in magic Perhaps because of squeamishness, perhaps because of a belief that all blood sacrifices are dark magic.

Runes are one of the systems of magic used in Heathenry. Heathens see all things as connected The runes do not conform to the Wiccan rede , as I have said before. Runes belong to a tradition which has balance at its heart. It contains both creativity and destruction. Not in a perfectly balanced state but rather in cycles, first one then the other. And a belief that in order to gain a thing, you should be prepared to give as well. What better way to connect yourself to your magic than giving a little of your own blood to make the magic work? This also, for me, acts as a stop and think point. The message of the runes is: that if you are not willing to put at least a little of yourself into the magic it probably isn't worth doing in the first place

ARROW of TRUTH

In most indigenous societies everything that one uses is deemed a gift from the Source that has other uses and meanings other than the obvious physical ones.

The Arrow is such an example. Not only were arrows used for hunting but also a warrior often had a medicine arrow that reminded him/her of those deeper spiritual meanings.

ARROW'S ATTRIBUTES—

- Walking your truth honouring your integrity.
- Seeing the truth in all things.
- Piercing through any lies and deceit.
- Using your truth in a good way.
- Not needing to defend who you are and what you know.
- Strengthening your “right to be”.
- Honouring the qualities of brotherhood and sisterhood.

ARROW'S CHALLENGES—

- Fearing you do not know your own truth.
- Not following the advice you give to others.
- Fearing to speak your truth.
- Admitting and owning your mistakes by not always having to be right.
- Refusing to be honest with yourself and others.
- Not allowing yourself to see the truth when it stares you in the face.
- Allowing others their truth and their “right to be”.
- Protecting yourself by compromising your integrity.

The Arrow, being straight and clean, reminds you that the truth flies straight and true and to the heart of any problem. No matter what the challenges and a struggle we may encounter your Warrior nature has the strength to meet and conquer the obstacles. It reminds us we are not alone and can call upon the help of another who has conquered a similar situation through truth and feel their strength and integrity enter your heart to aid you.

Arrow's medicine heralds a time of self-examination and you may want to ask yourself some challenging questions which point to using truth as your protection.

- Have you aimed straight and true in your opinions, decisions, or goals?
- Do you sense a lack of brotherhood or sisterhood in your life?
- Has competition stopped you from seeing the value of others, and is it therefore stifling your natural desire to make true bonds of friendship?
- Are you being honest with yourself and others?
- Do you have the courage to stop criticizing others?
- Can you honour each others choices without insisting your way is better?

Arrow always calls on you to walk your truth and make contact with your Warrior spirit. We are all capable of doing more than we can ever imagine. If something gives you joy, but you feel not capable or unworthy, call on Arrow's medicine to find the warrior energy of truth. The warrior-self is always courageous and willing to face all truths, even when they hurt.

Arrow is a reminder to aim higher—to seek and find the hidden side of your Warrior nature and to use it to honour the truth within.

Why not have your own Medicine Arrow or similar medicine tool to help you meditate and find the Warrior energy of truth that you need?

The Order of Web Weavers Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalog your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly cataloged we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers
