Today's Featured Shrine

Church of the Circle in the Oaks
Lady's Island, South Carolina
The Personal Shrine of Rev. Bruce Richards

This Church site is dedicated to Seekers of truth and light, experienced elders, as well as those whom have just begun.

We serve the Correllian Tradition, but welcome any path. All who come with open minds, hearts, and hands are welcome.

The true purpose of a church is to serve its members, and not to enslave them with guilt, threats of damnation, or social pressure.

We were organized as a learning center and to facilitate a base of organization capable of providing important services such as Hand-fastings, Weddings, Funerals, and other matters of social importance in accordance with the religious beliefs of all of our members and friends.

Today's Date in the Wheel of the Year

05 November

The nones of November, ancient Rome

In the Roman calendar, the nones of a month were the fifth day of the months January, February, April, June, August, September, November, and December, and the seventh day of March, May, July, and October; traditionally the day of the Half Moon. The nones were nine days before the ides (depending on the month, these could be the 13th and 15th day; traditionally the day of the Full Moon), reckoning inclusively, according to the Roman method.

The term none came into Christian liturgical use, meaning 'the fifth of the seven canonical hours' (no longer used) or 'the time of day appointed for this service, usually the ninth hour after sunrise'.

“While the Lares and Di Penates are honored every day in the pious Roman household, the Nones (celebrated on either the 5th or 7th day of the month; see the Calendar) are days when a more elaborate ceremony should be observed. The Nones are sacred to Iuno Covella (Iuno of the Hollow Moon).

“The Nones ritual is usually celebrated early in the morning at sunrise by the head of the household (usually the eldest male). If circumstances (or family tradition) dictate, it may be performed at noon or before sunset. No sexual activity is permitted prior to the rite. The performer of the rite does not break his fast prior to performing the rite (if celebrated at sunrise); only a little tea or coffee is permitted.

“Before the rite the Paterfamilias washes his hands (having also previously bathed or showered beforehand) while saying the prayer for ablution ...”

Turning the Devil's Stone, Shebbear, near Holsworthy, Devon, UK

On November 5 the villagers of Shebbear in Devon gather in the front of Berry House to 'turn the Devil's Stone' (or 'Devil's Boulder'), a great conglomerate rock that is turned every year to ensure good fortune for the village. The stone itself (which has an unnamed sibling about 750 metres to the north) is about two metres (about six feet) long and weighing about one ton. It is not from a local rock formation and is, in fact, an 'erratic' – that is, a stone from elsewhere, such as those deposited in one of the Ice Ages. Perhaps its unusual character explains the mystery and traditions surrounding it ...

Apaturia, ancient Greece (Nov 3 - 5); Koureotis, final day

Observed in much of ancient Greece, Koureotis, the third and final day of this clan festival, was the day on which children were accepted and initiated into the phratría, or clan, somewhat congruent with a christening ceremony. Children were dedicated to their maternal or paternal deities when presented before the assembled tribe.

Wuwuchim Fire Ceremony (Nov 5 - 21)

Round about today (variable) begins the fire ceremony for Masaw, the Hopi Native American God of Death, and Spider Woman, the Earth Mother. It represents the new cycle of emergence of the planet.

This and much more can be found in our new group

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/DeitiesCelebrations/>

We will be posting information here in the Correllian Herald on Mondays and Thursdays for that date. For daily and monthly information on Gods, Goddesses and Celebrations the World over, please feel free to join the group. If you have anything to add to the files they are welcome, too! We look forward to seeing you there!

Veterinary Notes. G is for Geriatric

By Rev. Mehitabel

It is always sad when a well loved animal starts to show signs of age, but there are a lot of things that can be done to ensure that the twilight years are healthy and happy.

Ageing in both dogs and cats (and humans) is generally associated with a reduced exercise tolerance, a decreased metabolic rate, lower protein requirements coupled with a need for that protein to be of a higher biological quality (i.e. needing less work to be assimilated by the body), decreased efficiency of digestion and absorption of nutrients, decreased organ function and various age-related illnesses. The latter include joint and muscle problems, chronic conditions such as bronchitis, liver, heart or kidney disease which eventually lead to organ failure, an increased risk of neoplasia (cancers), digestive upsets, tooth and gum problems, deafness and cataracts, together with signs of senility. Dogs may also become incontinent. I'll discuss these diseases in more detail in future articles.

As an owner there are several things that you can easily do to ease the passage into old age. Firstly, be alert for changes in behaviour and health. Key pointers include an increase in thirst, possibly accompanied by an increased production of urine and/or incontinence. In cats, increased thirst usually signifies the onset of chronic kidney disease. Prompt action in the early stages with dietary changes and supportive medication will keep the cat fit and well for years. In dogs increased thirst is more commonly linked to diabetes, and, in unspeyed bitches, to an infection of the uterus which is a surgical emergency. Weight loss is another pointer to kidney disease in cats and organ disease in dogs. Increased activity in the elderly cat accompanied by weight loss is often a sign of a benign thyroid tumour that may be easily removed by surgery. Arthritis and stiffness may be eased through medication and also through use of supplements such as fish oils, glucosamine etc. Signs of senility may be alleviated by medication that improves blood flow to the brain. Be sensitive in your response to incontinence. Many dogs, having been clean all their lives, become very distressed if they have an accident in the house, so give them lots of reassurance. Never reduce water intake in an attempt to stop incontinence as this will put a potentially fatal strain on the organs. Make use of absorbent pads or even dog nappies, and more frequent outings to the garden, to cope with the problem.

Secondly, modify the animal's diet to allow for the poorer digestion and lower energy needs. There is much debate about the use of highly processed diets for pet animals versus fresh food. Although the latter has appeal it can be incredibly hard to achieve the correct balance of nutrients for health, and I can still remember the many, often fatal, dietary induced illnesses caused by the use of fresh food such as hypervitaminosis A in cats due to excess fresh liver. There is no doubt that the life stage diets from the large, research based pet food manufacturers have made selection of the ideal diet much easier to the benefit of the health of the pets. In general dogs of 7 years and older, and cats of 9 years and older, need to change to a lower energy diet of higher biological quality. This means that the nutrients are in a form that is easily absorbed and utilised by the body. The prescription diets from these firms have revolutionised the treatment of specific conditions such as kidney disease in cats, minimising the strain on the affected organ and so maintaining health. I do make regular use of such diets in my own animals supplemented by small, carefully selected amounts of fresh food daily.

Old age is not to be feared. With your help, your animals can stay healthy and content till it is time for them to move beyond the veil.

Make Your Own Magical Prayer Sticks

by Ted Andrews

In some traditions, a feather attached to a specially carved and painted stick is a powerful way to make an offering and petition to the spirit world.

The decorated stick represents the message, and the feather calls to the spirit bird or totem to carry the message to the heavens.

You can make a prayer stick as a unique gift for someone special.

There are no set rules as to length, but the most common prayer sticks tend to be made from a peeled willow branch. These are often carved, painted, wrapped with leather or colorful fabric, or otherwise decorated.

All these things can take on special significance by simply using your intuition or by relying upon a form of symbolism you are comfortable with.

To activate the prayer stick, your friend need only plant one end of it in the earth. As the feather flutters in the breeze it activates the energies of the stick and your friend's prayers will soon be on their way to the heavens.

The Order of Web Weavers Crystal Web Mapping Project

The Order of the Web Weavers has been working diligently on mapping the Crystal Web. If any of you have a crystal that you have added or removed from the Crystal Web contact us to ensure are records up to date and accurate.

The information we need in order to best catalog your crystal/s is the following. Your Craft Name and E-mail Address along with your City, State, Country, Latitude, and Longitude. Sent to the following e-mail address: www@correllianorders.info

Please include the above information, if you have removed your crystal from the Crystal Web along with 'Remove' in the subject line. If you have added several crystals then we would need a separate entry for each crystal, unless they are located together. If they are located together then please include how many crystals are at that location.

We are excited about this project and hope that you will be too. Once the crystals have been properly cataloged we can then begin placing them on the map program. This will give us a good visualization on the Crystal Web. Thank you in advance for your participation in this wonderful project.

Bright Blessings,
The Order of Web Weavers
