Blv. Caroline High Correll

4 September 1860 - 25 August 1939

First Priestess 1879 - 1939

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Caroline is the Matron Ancestor of new projects and new beginnings.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Caroline's card in a reading this means that it is time to start something new. It may be a new version of an older thing revamped for changed conditions, it may be taking a totally new direction separate from anything you have done before, it may be just adopting new ideas and ways of doing what you do, but in any case, it will be a new beginning. What you have been doing no longer serves you and you need to make a new start and leave the old behind in order to have the future you desire in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Caroline's card in a reading and it is reversed. It means that you should keep things as they are in your current situation. The direction you are already pursuing is the direction you should be moving in. This is not a time to make changes or pursue new ideas but rather to stay the course if you wish to see success in the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Born 4 September 1860 Beloved Caroline High was the third of six children born to William Henry High (1832 - 1879) and Sarah Ann Kinkennon (1837 - 1866). Blv. Caroline was of mixed racial descent, specifically Scottish and Cherokee. Blv. Caroline's full name was Orpheus Caroline High, with Orpheus sometimes being rendered as Orpheis. Blv. Caroline lost her mother when she was five years old. Blv. Caroline married once and had seven children. The marriage was punctuated by a long separation and ended in divorce in 1903. In 1876, when Blv. Caroline was sixteen years old; the High family suffered a major tragedy. The High family were religious separatists who largely lived outside of society and were rarely on good terms with it. This led eventually to a confrontation with local authorities that left most of the family either dead or imprisoned. Blv. Caroline escaped this event, which she described as a lynching, because she and her father did not live at the High family compound in Indiana but rather in nearby Danville, IL. In later years Blv. Caroline would establish her own family compound called 'Under The Hill', near the banks of the Vermilion river with several residences where she and many of her children would live. In 1879, Blv. Caroline established the Correllian Tradition, intending it as a continuation of the High family customs that had been destroyed three years earlier, though in fact the Tradition would very much take a new path. In addition to drawing upon the practices of her ancestors who had combined Cherokee beliefs and Scottish Witchcraft, Blv. Caroline studied widely and incorporated much of what she learned into Correllianism. Blv. Caroline was also heavily involved in Spiritualism and in the Universalist Church. Through Lydia Beckett, a cousin by either blood or adoption, Blv. Caroline also became involved in Aradian Witchcraft as promoted by Charles Leland, receiving an Aradian initiation in 1903. This spirit of expansive syncretism was an important aspect of Blv. Caroline's philosophy and Correllian philosophy up to the present day. During Caroline's lifetime and that of her children the Correllian Tradition was a Familial Tradition open only to members of the family, although it was possible to be adopted into the family and a few individuals were. For many years Blv. Caroline and her husband John Correll owned a carnival. Blv. Caroline worked as a psychic reader in the carnival while John gave art lectures showcasing the latest technology of the era. Other members of the family played additional roles. The carnival closed when Blv. Caroline's eldest daughter Dora suffered a fatal injury falling from the trapeze where she performed without a net. Blv. Caroline would continue to work as a psychic reader throughout her life also offering herbal and magical services to her clientele. During Blv. Caroline's lifetime the High Correll family practiced a strict matrilineal line of descent, passing exclusively through the female line. Daughters passed on the main lineage despite changing of surnames, while sons' descendants were considered cadet branches of the family outside of the main lineage. This became a problem already in Blv. Caroline's lifetime since only one of her three daughters had children of her own and would eventually be changed. All of Blv. Caroline's children used the surname 'High Correll.' Various of Blv. Caroline's descendants with differing surnames have hyphenated their name with High-Correll or Highcorrell to stress their membership in the family line. Blv. Caroline died in 1939.

Blv. Mable High Correll

24 January 1899 - 16 February 1966

First Priestess 1939 – 1966

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Mable is the Matron Ancestor of clairvoyants and mediums.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Mable's card in a reading this means that time is of the essence: do not wait but act now and do what is needed. It may be tempting to take your time and work out every detail, but circumstances do not favor this approach. If you delay, the window of opportunity will close. You know what to do, though you may need to think about it to realize this, and if you do it quickly you will achieve what you desire in the situation at question.

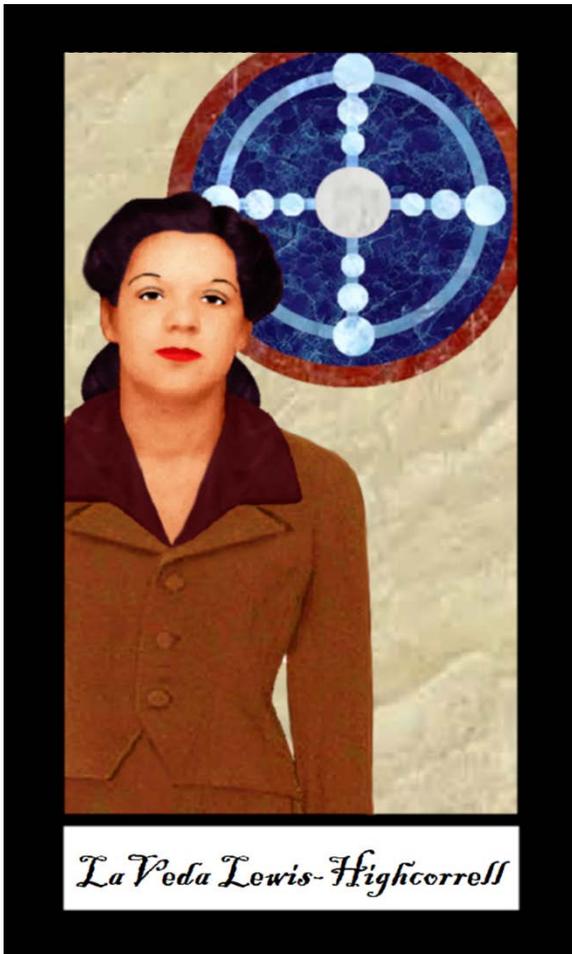

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Mable's card in a reading and it is reversed; it means that you should wait before taking action. Maybe the time is not right yet. Maybe there are still things you need to find out about the situation. In any event you should be patient and wait for the right moment in order to have a good outcome in the situation in question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved Mable High Correll was born 24 January 1899, the youngest of Caroline's seven children, and the third daughter. Blv. Mable was also the only one of Caroline's three daughters to have children of her own, a tragedy in a family that traced descent matrilineally. Blv. Mable married three times, having two children by her second husband, notably Blv. LaVeda. Like her sisters, Blv. Mable was considered a great beauty and she led an exciting life. A flapper in the 1920s Blv. Mable was known for her fashion sense and was involved in the then glamorous bootlegging and local high society. Blv. Mable often appeared in the papers and had many adventures and misadventures, among the most famous at the time being the Perry Parker mystery. Blv. Mable occasionally worked as a psychic reader, specializing in cards and clairvoyance. Blv. Mable was also at one time a restaurateur. Blv. Mable became First Priestess in 1939 after the death of her mother and retained the office until her own death in 1966. Blv. Mable had a broad metaphysical education especially in the psychic arts and she was very interested in the eastern teachings that were popularized through groups such as the Theosophical Society. Blv. Mable made many important contributions to the Correllian Tradition including the psychic exercises that are the base of our psychic teaching tools and expanding the Tradition's teachings on the nature of incarnation and Karma, particularly in terms of multidimensionality.

Blv. LaVeda Lewis-Highcorrell

25 November 1928 - 13 September 1989
First Priestess Regent 1966 - 1979

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. LaVeda is the Matron Ancestor of mothers and caregivers.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. LaVeda's card in a reading this means that patience and forbearance are the answer to your situation. Do not move too fast, do not jump to any conclusions, but be patient and make sure that you understand what you are dealing with before you act. Haste today could mean regret tomorrow but thorough planning before you act will bring happiness and success in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. LaVeda's card in a reading and it is reversed it warns against being overly tolerant in your situation and enabling bad behavior. Demand accountability and make sure people or systems you are relying on actually follow through with what they offer. Do not be afraid to call out bad behavior whether it is simply irresponsible or intentionally damaging. Do not allow yourself to be treated badly if you wish a successful outcome to the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Born on 25 November 1927, Beloved LaVeda was the second child and only daughter of First Priestess Mable High Correll.

Born LaVeda Nadine Baxter, Blv. LaVeda often hyphenated her mother's surname of High-Correll and later Highcorrell to emphasize the fact that the family was tracing descent matrilineally, a custom also followed by a number of other family members past and present. Blv. LaVeda married once and had two children. Blv. LaVeda's only daughter, Linda, died young. Blv. LaVeda's son Donald Lewis-Highcorrell would become First Priest of the Tradition. Blv. LaVeda's life was punctuated by several tragedies including the death of her daughter, her father's long illness and early death, and a long fight with her brother over the family inheritance. These events left Blv. LaVeda with a very philosophical turn of mind. Of particular importance was the death of Linda, which left the Highcorrell family without future heirs under the matrilineal rules they had been following. When it became clear that Blv. LaVeda would never bear a second daughter and thus be able to extend the matrilineal line, she joined with her cousin Gloria to change the rules of succession and revive the lineage, which ultimately led to the transformation of the familial Tradition into a public Tradition. Blv. LaVeda became First Priestess Regent upon the passing of her mother First Priestess Mable and held that position for thirteen years, Retiring in Office in 1979 to be succeeded by First Priestess Krystel High-Correll, Lady Gloria's daughter. Blv. LaVeda's primary contributions to the Tradition include the structural changes that allowed it to become a public Tradition, as well as exerting a strong influence on the moral teachings of the Tradition regarding right relationships and philosophical teachings regarding Karma and what constitutes 'Harm.'

Blv. William I High

4 Feb 1859 - 6 Dec 1946

First Priest 1879 - 1946 (Retired in office 1931)

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. William I is the Patron Ancestor and Protector of travelers and of changes in residence.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. William I's card in a reading this means that there is a change of location ahead. This could be a trip, a move, or a change of job depending on the question. In any event, the change is for the better and needed for you to move forward but it will disrupt some or all of the established relationships and routines in your life. With this card a physical change of location, temporary or permanent, is recommended for success of the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. William I's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you should stay where you are and value what you have. Take stock of the blessings you enjoy in your life as it is and resist any temptation to move away from your current circumstances and you will have a good outcome to the situation in question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Born 4 February 1859 Beloved William Thomas High was Caroline's immediate elder brother. Blv. William helped Caroline to set up the Correllian Tradition when she founded it in 1879 and accepted the role of First Priest. However, Blv. William ended up living far away from Caroline and as First Priest served primarily as an occasional advisor. Caroline's son Frank increasingly fulfilled the actual duties of First Priest. Since the First Priesthood cannot be resigned, Blv. William instead Retired in Office In 1931 allowing Frank to take on the title of First Priest. Blv. William's retirement was so complete that for many years the family remembered him as having died in 1931, but in fact he outlived both Caroline and Frank, dying only in 1946, two years in the imperium of his nephew First Priest William High Correll.

Blv. Frank High Correll

6 Sept 1883 - 20 Oct 1944

First Elder 1928 - 1931, First Priest 1931 - 1944

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Frank is the Patron Ancestor of writers and publishers.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Frank's card in a reading this means that you need to pay attention to details. Make sure that you are dotting your "I's" and crossing your "T's". The 'big picture' may look rosy but not paying attention to the little things can trip you up, so make sure that you are on solid ground with these. It is said that you cannot build a house without first building the foundation and this card suggests that your foundation may need attention in order to have a good outcome to the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Frank's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you are tripping yourself up by paying too much attention to details and not enough attention to the 'big picture.' Step back and look at the larger situation and you will find that there are important things that you have missed while dealing with the small stuff. Focus on the macro instead of the micro and you will have a successful outcome to the situation at question.

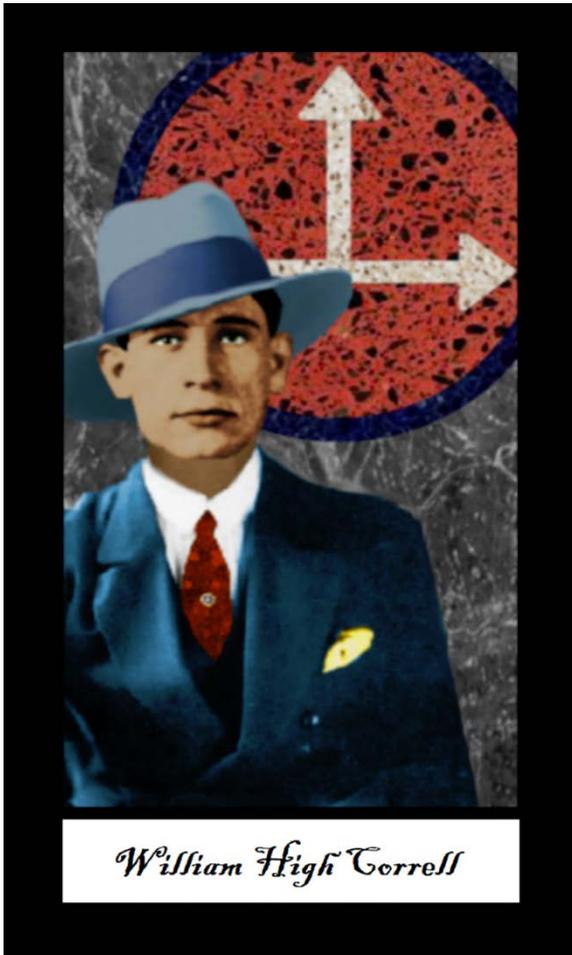

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved Frank High Correll was the firstborn son of Caroline High Correll, founder of the Correllian Tradition. Blv. Frank was a writer, poet, and historian. Blv. Frank married once and had two children. Blv. Frank became First Elder in 1928 and retained the office until 1931 when he succeeded his uncle William I High as First Priest. Blv. Frank remained First Priest until his death in 1944, being succeeded by his younger brother William II High Correll. Blv. Frank's primary influence on the Tradition was placing an emphasis on record keeping and preserving the past, although later generations might wish he had preserved more. Because of Blv. Frank, maintaining the history of the Tradition became an aspect of the office of First Priest.

Blv. William II High Correll

24 March 1896 - 10 May 1968

First Priest 1944 - 1968

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. William II is the Patron Ancestor of building projects and builders

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. William II's card in a reading means that you need to pay attention to patterns in the situation. Look at the past and apply its examples to the present and future. Just because something went a certain way in the past does not always mean that it must go that way in the future - but it does here. If the situation or similar situations have been unsuccessful in the past, do not do again what you did before. Either avoid the situation or take a very different approach to it. If the situation or similar situations were successful in the past, apply the same techniques now. If you do this, you will be successful in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. William II's card in a reading and it is reversed. It means that you need to disregard how situations have gone in the past and focus on the possibilities of the future. Circumstances have changed and outcomes will not be the same as they were previously -the past is not an accurate barometer for this situation. So assess the present circumstances in light of what they are now rather than how similar things may have worked out before and you will have a good outcome in the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved William Russell High Correll was the fourth child and second son of Caroline High Correll. William was born on 24 March 1896, more than ten years after his previous siblings. Blv. William was a building contractor by trade. Blv. William was also a talented amateur musician. Blv. William married once and had no children. Blv. William specialized in astrology and numerology and enjoyed working with patterns and mathematics. Blv. William became First Priest in 1944 following the death of his brother Frank and retained the office until his own death in 1968. During Blv. William's lifetime the family dwindled, and there was some question of whether the Tradition would continue, but the Tradition saw a resurgence within a few years after his death. The office of First Priest however would remain vacant for 11 years before being filled.

Blv. Gloria High Correll

1 Jan 1927 - 16 Feb 1987

First Elder 1973 - 1987

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Gloria is the Matron Ancestor of moving situations from defeat to success.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Gloria's card in a reading it means that healing is necessary in the situation. This may mean that you are suffering from old wounds that you may or may not be conscious of and need to do some self-healing or Shadow Work, or it may mean that you need to extend healing to another in the situation through compassion and understanding. The pain of past events, clearly visible or hidden, is holding back what you desire to achieve -heal and release this pain and you will have a successful outcome to the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Gloria's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that while you may be able to move forward without being influenced by negativity in the past, which is not true for others in the situation you are asking about. These others are holding on to pain or resentment over past events that you may or may not have been involved with, and they are unable to get past this. Despite your own positivity the negativity of others, caused by bad things that have happened in the past, will ultimately make it impossible to have any sort of good outcome to the situation at question.

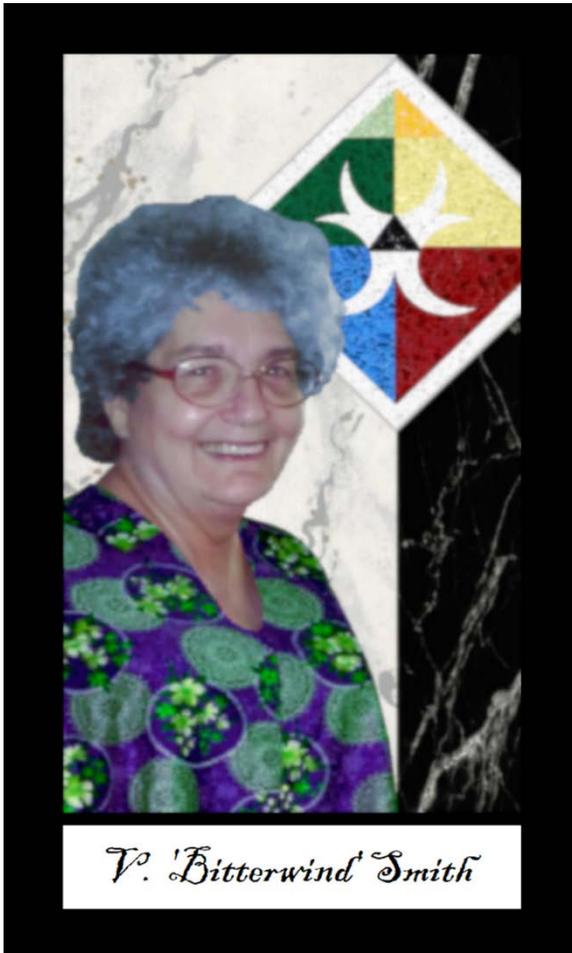

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved Gloria High Correll was the daughter of Louis High Correll and his wife Carrie Mae Fuller. Blv. Gloria was born on 1 January 1927. Blv. Gloria was very close to her first cousin Lady LaVeda who was born that same year. Blv. Gloria had four husbands during her lifetime, and four children, notably First Priestess Krystal High-Correll. In addition to be a Correllian Priestess Blv. Gloria was also a Spiritualist Minister. Blv. Gloria greatly strengthened the Tradition's teachings on the nature and importance of spiritual healing. Together with Lady LaVeda, Blv. Gloria was largely responsible for the revival of the Correllian Tradition by changing the familial membership rules allowing the membership to expand. Blv. Gloria's daughter Lady Krystal founded the Dancers of Shakti Temple in 1974 as the first public outreach of the Tradition. Blv. Gloria became First Elder in 1973 and remained First Elder until her death in 1987.

Step back and examine the situation from a new angle and you may see that there are aspects of it that you have heretofore completely missed. This is not so much about looking at the situation beneath the surface because nothing here is hidden, but rather it is about looking at it differently to find the aspects you have missed -perhaps because they were so obvious that you have ignored them or taken them for granted. See the situation with new eyes and you will have a new and better understanding of the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Bitterwind's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you need not to let your imagination run away with you. You will find that either your hopes or your fears for your situation are exaggerated or simply not possible given actual circumstances. You need to look at your situation in a practical way and not worry about what could be instead focusing on what is. Do this and you will have a much better outcome in the situation at question.

Bitterwind was a member of Dancers of Shakti Temple from c. 1976 and was associated with PURE Sanctuary Temple from its founding in 1999. Blv. Bitterwind was adopted into the Highcorrell family in 1983. Blv. Bitterwind was a Discordian in philosophy and looked at life in original and unusual ways. Blv. Bitterwind's insights had a strong effect on Correllian ideas, especially regarding the role of humor in the Universe and the importance of the Chaos Moment in creation and in magic. Blv. Bitterwind was an artist and a writer, using both platforms as a way of expressing her philosophy. Blv. Bitterwind was in later years a proponent of using found objects in art and created many works of art using recycled elements brought together in symbolic ways that expressed her views. Blv. Bitterwind became First Elder in 1988 and Retired in Office in 2011. Blv. Bitterwind died on May 1, 2019.

This may be because you are not communicating clearly in which case you must find new and better ways to express what you need in the situation. Or it may be that you are being clear in your communication but that the receiver is simply not hearing it either because they do not understand or because they are rejecting it. Here too, the answer is to find new and better ways to communicate in order to get through to those receiving the communication and/or overcome their rejection of your needs. It is not always possible to get through to someone, but in this case, it can be done by changing how you are communicating, or you would not have drawn this card for the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Windy's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you need to be silent and play your cards close to the chest. Do not share your plans with others and keep your own counsel if you wish to have a successful outcome to the situation at question.

Be diplomatic in this, remembering that a mentor is a peer who helps other peers learn, rather than an authority figure who demands learning as a teacher might be, and you will find success in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Karla's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you need to be open to the ideas of others allow yourself to be taught what you do not already know about your situation. This could mean that you need to formally study more about what you are doing, or it could mean that you need to keep your eyes open and observe the processes you are involved in. Examine the situation and you will find that you can in fact be a great help to others involved in it either through advice or through direct aid, and you should offer your help. If you do this, you will find that you lift everyone up, including yourself. Dora's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that while you may feel challenged or even frightened by your situation, in fact you have everything you need to accomplish what is required and will come through any difficulty unscathed. UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Dollie's card in a reading it means that you need to involve the help of others. This could mean obtaining the advice of others but it more likely means seeking actual physical assistance. You may feel that no one would want to help, or perhaps you might be uncomfortable seeking help, but you will find that if you ask for it you will have the help you need, cheerfully supplied, to get the outcome you desire in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Dollie's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that in the situation you are asking about your help will be required by others and should be given freely. They may need your advice or even your direct assistance, but whatever is required you should give. Later, you will be glad you helped for your efforts will be well repaid, even if that may not seem likely at present. Give generously and you will be pleased with the outcome of the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved Dollie Belle High Correll was Caroline's second-born child. Blv. Dollie was a celebrated beauty who married several times but had no children. Blv. Dollie was highly intelligent, caring, and forward thinking. Blv. Dollie was a member of the fashionable demimonde of the time but was also a strong proponent of women's rights and civil rights in general. In addition to Witchcraft Blv. Dollie was involved with Spiritualism and Universalism and also had an interest in Theosophy and in Ceremonial Magic. Blv. Dollie's wide ranging interests contributed a great deal to the breadth of Correllian thought and practice. Blv. Dollie was especially close to her younger sister Mable and had a strong influence on her. In the early twentieth century Blv. Dollie was Caroline's right hand and was expected to be her successor. However, Blv. Dollie did not succeed Caroline as she predeceased her mother, dying of breast cancer in 1928.

Blv. Linda Lewis-Highcorrell

28 July 1944 - 9 February 1949

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Linda is the Matron Ancestor and Protector of children.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Linda's card in a reading it means that you need to take extra care in your situation. Dangers you do not see or circumstances you do not anticipate may pose a significant danger to you. Do not ignore this danger but take a closer look at your situation and the danger should become clear to you. The danger can be easily avoided, but only if you are vigilant and aware of all that surrounds you in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Linda's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you must face some serious challenges in the situation you are asking about but that with effort you can overcome them. It will take work and it will not be easy but the problems you face in the situation, while they cannot be avoided, can be conquered, and put behind you. You will have to work for it, but with work you can ultimately achieve a good outcome to the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Born 28 July 1944 Beloved Linda was the only daughter of LaVeda Lewis-Highcorrell. Blv. Linda died in a tragic accident at the age of 4 when she and two younger friends fell into a gravel quarry that was filled with freezing water and drowned. The children told their respective parents that they were going to the home of Blv. Linda's grandmother. Blv. Linda's grandmother Mable High Correll lived only a short walk away, and the children often went to her home, so the mothers thought nothing was amiss. However, the children actually meant to visit Blv. Linda's paternal grandmother Emma, who lived at a significant distance. It was believed that when the children came upon the quarry, one of them accidentally slipped into the water and the other two tried to save them, all dying as a result. As an Ancestor Linda is considered a guardian of children.

Blv. Charles Alford High

14 May 1865 - 8 May 1939

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Alford is the Patron Ancestor of resolving quarrels and repairing damaged relationships

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Alford's card in a reading it means that the situation you are dealing with is a two-edged sword. There is much good to be had in the situation, but it comes with bad aspects as well. Most likely you see both the good and the bad and perhaps that is why you are asking about the situation! There is no way to achieve the good aspects without also getting the bad ones. Only you can say whether the potential good outweighs the accompanying bad in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Alford's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that in the situation you are asking about you are taking a calculated risk. The situation you are dealing with can be either very good or very bad but there is no middle ground. You will either completely win or absolutely lose. In moving forward with the situation, you are risking everything for the possibility of winning all. This card does not in itself say whether you will win or lose, only that you must be fully conscious of the high degree of risk in the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved Alford High and his twin sister Beloved Alpharetta were Caroline's youngest siblings. Blv. Alford adopted the name 'Charles' and was commonly known as 'Charlie.' Blv. Alford married twice and had three children. Blv. Alford and Caroline had a close but occasionally contentious relationship. Blv. Alpharetta died in 1897 but Blv. Alford lived until 1939 dying just a few months before Caroline herself.

Blv. Walter High Correll

11 November 1893 - 26 April 1948

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Walter is the Patron of poets and poetry.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Walter's card in a reading it means that the situation is causing you unnecessary stress. Although you may be very concerned about the situation and worried about its potential outcomes, it really is not a situation whose outcome can harm you. Possibly you are overestimating the possible problems in the situation. Possibly it is not even your own situation at all. Whatever the situation is, take an emotional step back and relax -your worry is unjustified, and everything is going to be fine with the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Walter's card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you are ignoring problems that may snowball out of control later if not addressed. You would like to ignore these issues, but you very much need to address them and resolve them now, before they get any bigger. These issues will not go away on their own, nor will addressing them necessarily be an easy and comfortable thing, but it must be done. If you want a positive outcome, you must confront and resolve the issues you prefer to avoid in the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Beloved Walter High Correll was born 11 November 1893, the son of Caroline High Correll. Blv. Walter was the middle son of Caroline's second group of children. Blv. Walter was a poet and a writer with an artistic disposition. Fighting in the First World War Blv. Walter was a victim of mustard gas which left him disabled at a young age. Thereafter Blv. Walter lived with his mother in the main residence at Under The Hill and after her passing until his own death. Blv. Walter was known for being sweet tempered and patient.

Blv. Louis High Correll

24 November 1897 – 1 May 1955

IMPERIUM: As an Ancestor Blv. Louis is the Patron of musicians.

UPRIGHT: If you draw Blv. Louis' card in a reading it means that there are those around you who are eager to offer you help, but that you should not take it. No matter how earnest they seem to be, no matter how pure their apparent motivations, do not take their help. They may be just as honest as they seem and still offer the wrong solution or be inept in its implementation. Or they may in fact not be as honest as they seem and the help they offer may be meant as sabotage. In any event, you are better off going it alone than with the help being offered you in the situation at question.

REVERSED: If you draw Blv. Louis' card in a reading and it is reversed it means that you are surrounded by trustworthy people and can confidently rely upon help offered. If there is any question about potential friends or allies know that they are in fact honest and that their help will be valuable in the situation at question.

BIOGRAPHY:

Born on 24 November 1897 Beloved Louis was Caroline's youngest son. Blv. Louis married once and had five children. Blv. Louis' wife was on extremely bad terms with Caroline and as a result her children were mostly estranged from Caroline and her descendants. Of Blv. Louis' children only his daughter Gloria was involved in the Tradition, although she was very important to the Tradition's future. During Caroline's lifetime she provided him and his family with a home at Under The Hill, and after the passing of his elder brother Walter, Blv. Louis and his family moved into the main residence that had been Caroline's. Blv. Louis was a jazz musician, although he supported himself with a variety of 'day jobs'.
